GREEKS CONSOLIDATE AND RESUME ADVANCE: BIG BATTLE REPORTED

Special to the "Telegraph"

OHRID, NOV. 6 (UP).—AFTER THEY HAD CONSOLIDATED THEIR POSITIONS BEYOND BIKLISTA, THE GREEKS ARE REPORTED TO HAVE ATTACKED THROUGHOUT THE NIGHT AND RESUMED THEIR ADVANCE ON THE BAKLISTA-KORCA ROAD, CAPTURING THE BRIDGE ACROSS THE DOVOLI RIVER.

British Bombers Invade Germany

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, Nov. 6 (UP).—The Air Ministry communique to-day stated that the R.A.F. last night attacked Bremerhaven, Emden, Hamburg and Vegesack, near Bremen. They also heavily bombed the ports at Boulogne, Calais, Dunkirk, Antwerp, Flushing and a number of aerodromes in enemy occupied areas.

German Admission

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (UP).—The High Command announced to-day that British planes flew over Holland last night and dropped incendiary and explosive bombs hitting and setting fire to a spinning factory. Other bombs fell in open fields and on residences killing two people and wounding several others.

Twenty-six British planes were shot down and six German planes are missing. The German navy and air force during the months of September and October sank 1,308,000 tons of enemy shipping and shipping useful to the enemy making a total since the beginning of the war of 7,102,200 tons, claimed the report.

German Heavily Raided

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Explosions of such violence that they could be heard above the roar of the engines by an R.A.F. bomber crew several thousand feet up, resulted from a heavy attack on shipbuilding yards on Tuesday night at Bremerhaven. The raid started 30 fires. Simultaneously naval dockyards at Emden were subjected to 50 minutes of incessant aerial bombardment with tons of high explosives and thousands of incendiaries.

Bremen and Vegesack naval dockyards were also visited while Hamburg had one of its earliest raids when a heavy attack opened at 7.50 p.m. on one of the city's principal power stations at Neuhoft.

Other targets mentioned by the Air Ministry news service include aerodromes in Germany and occupied territory while potential invasion bases along the Channel had more attention than of late.

Big Battle Raging

ROME, Nov. 6 (UP).—The Italian radio broadcast said to-day, "A furious battle is raging in Greece. The advance of our infantry, cavalry and mechanized units continue in both northerly and southerly directions. We have taken many Greek prisoners."

BRITISH AID FOR GREECE

LONDON, Nov. 6 (UP).—The Foreign Office to-day announced that the British Government has extended financial aid to Greece including a $5,000,000 advance.

The Foreign Office said: "In response to a request from Greece for financial assistance, His Majesty's Government assured the Greek Government of its readiness to provide such assistance as may be required to meet their needs in the sterling area."

"Meanwhile, His Majesty's Government at once placed the sum of $5,000,000 at the disposal of the Greek Government by way of an advance for this purpose."

Flotilla Bombed

BITOLI, Nov. 6 (UP).—The newspaper "Serbian" reports that numerous Italian planes bombed Flotina between 4 a.m. and 8 a.m. in successive waves, and with heavy damage.

Greeks Claim Further Successes

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (Domel).—Greek forces operating in Albania occupied a series of new heights after a successful offensive, the Greek High Command announced in a communique. The Italian troops are falling back in the face of the Greek onslaught and are "attacked by their own tanks."

During this operation, Greek troops seized a number of fortified positions, two guns mortars and took prisoners. Along other sections of the front, artillery duels took place, while the Greek Air Force successfully bombed the Koryssa and Argirocastro airfields destroying grounded machines, hangars and camps.

Italian aircraft twice bombed early in the afternoon Monstir in Yugoslavia, the communique stated while in Greece attack took place against Piraeus, Janina, and other towns.

ROOSEVELT ENDORSEMENT

Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—An even more forward foreign policy for the United States is being forecast here following the rapid closing of all ranks behind President Roosevelt.

The general feeling is that the real contest has been over the third term issue and President Roosevelt's spending policies, and the country having given such a clear vote to President Roosevelt, he can now go full speed ahead.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, plainly interprets the vote as a mandate for his policy, which remains firm against Japanese aggression, increasing material aid for Britain and by implication and on the basis of past action, diplomatic support for Britain against any totalitarian action in any part of the world.

Loss To Portuguese Community

The Portuguese community in Hongkong lost one of its most respected members this morning when Mrs. Maria Hyndman Gonçalves, aged 59, passed away after an illness lasting six months.

An old resident of the Colony, she leaves five children, one of whom is J.D. Gonçalves, the international hockey player. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement. The funeral will take place at 2.30 p.m. to-day.

Italian Regiments Trapped By Greeks

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

BITOLI, Nov. 6 (UP).—Frontier reports say the Greeks have surrounded from three to five Italian regiments which broke through the Greek lines on the Janina front during the first few days of the war and are now attempting to force them to surrender.

Roosevelt's New Plans

Unification Of Labour

HYDE PARK, Nov. 6 (UP).—Heading the United States into four more years of New Deal, President Roosevelt to-day indicated that unification of organized labour may be the first objective of his third term. The President acknowledged Mr. Wendell Willkie's telegram of congratulation.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for your message of congratulation. I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness, which I heartily reciprocate," the President said.

The Chief Executive is now preparing to proceed to Washington to resume his duties.

Italians Not To Read All Swiss Papers

MONTREUX, Nov. 6 (Reuter).

The Italian ban on the sale of all Swiss newspapers except the "Basler Nachrichten" and the "Neue Zürcher Zeitung" has caused a regrettable impression in Switzerland.

The Monday and Tuesday editions of Swiss newspapers which are widely read in Italy were confiscated at the frontier.

The Rome correspondent of the "Basler Nachrichten" says that the reason given for the ban is publication by the Swiss press of agency reports of lack of success of the Italian forces against Greece.

Swiss authorities denied that any false war news has been published in the Swiss press.

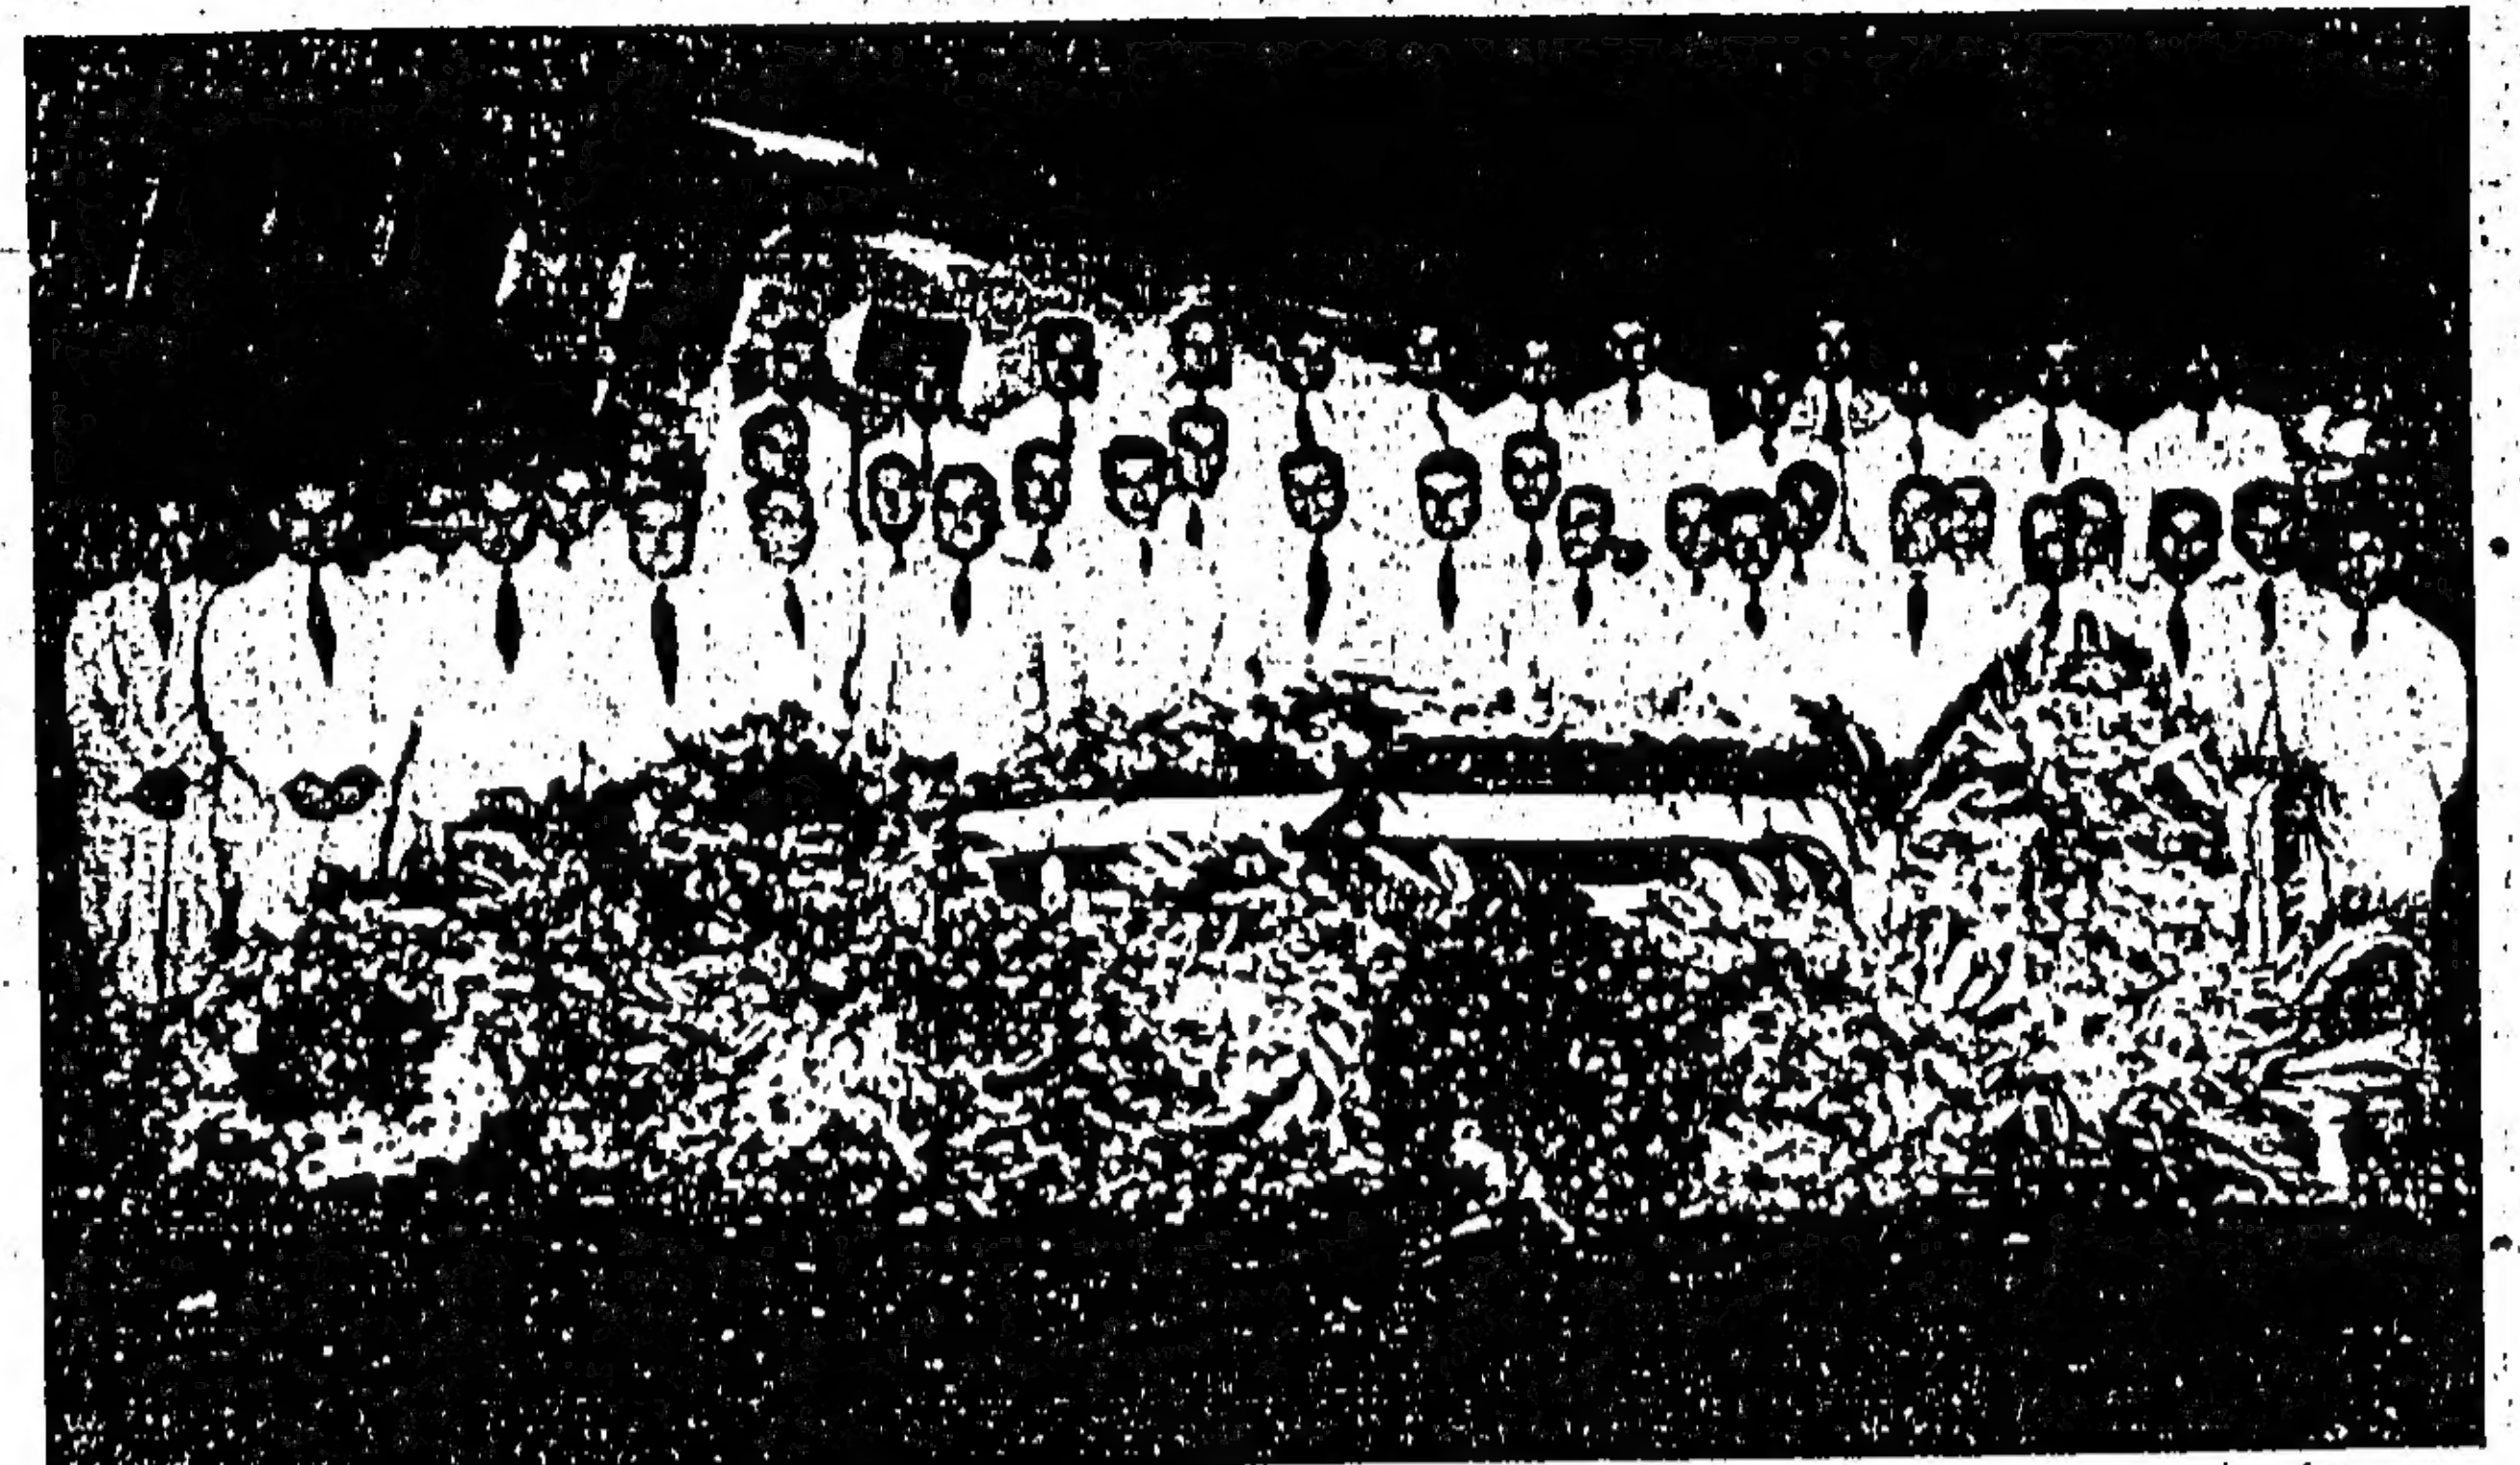

Gifts To Services

Princesses Are Donors

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A dollar piece and a dime piece, both from Princess Margaret, who received them from the United States, are among the latest gifts sent to the Soldiers, Sailors and Airmen's Families Association.

Cheques have also been received from the Queen and Queen Mary, while Princess Elizabeth has sent $2,500 and the American Ambassador $1,000, part of a donation to him to be spent on soldiers' families.

AMERICANS PAY TRIBUTE TO PILOT W. C. KENT

In a unique ceremony at the Kai Tak airport on Monday members of the American community in Hongkong gathered to pay tribute to the memory of Pilot W. C. Kent who was shot down in his C.N.A.C. plane and killed by Japanese war machines last week. The remains, in a coffin draped in the Stars and Stripes, were brought to Hongkong by plane on Monday. In this picture we see the mourners around the wreath-covered coffin over which orations to the memory of Pilot Kent were made.—Mee Cheung.

"Congratulations on your re-election as President of the United States. I know we are both gratified that so many American citizens participated in the election. I wish you all personal health and happiness. Cordially,—Wendell Willkie."

Mr. Hull's Appeal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (UP).—In a statement issued to-day, Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said the electorate had given the nation wide approval of the continuance of the Administration's foreign policy.

He said: "Our nation can now go forward with the fullest measure of practical team work by the Government and the people in the firm continuance of those foreign policies."

Mr. Hull appealed for a "spirit of non-partisanship," adding that the "irresponsible responsibility which rests upon all of us in the present crisis should overshadow any sense of personal elation or disappointment."

German Reaction

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (UP).—The "Hamburger Fremdenblatt," in the first editorial comment in the German press declares that the elections in America proved that a vast majority of the people in the United States oppose intervention in the European war.

It was a Walk-Over

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The sizable character of President Roosevelt's majority became apparent by the time New Yorkers reached their offices at 9 a.m. when the President's third term was ratified by 37 states with 437 electoral votes.

The popular vote at that hour was President Roosevelt, 21,255,000; Mr. Willkie, 17,740,000.

In Conference

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt conferred with Mr. Wendell Willkie.

Democrats Win In Congress

Gain 9 In House

New York, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Democrats had won 239 seats in the House of Representatives and the Republicans 121 at 12.30 p.m. local time.

The net Democratic gains totalled nine.

The Democrats had won 20 seats in the Senate and the Republicans nine. The net Republican gains are two.

Of four states which have hitherto completed their returns, three have been carried by Roosevelt. These are New Jersey, with 16 electoral votes; Connecticut with eight votes; and Rhode Island with four votes.

The fourth, which went to Willkie, was Vermont, with three electoral votes.

Roosevelt's "Thanks"

President Roosevelt has accepted Mr. Willkie's congratulations with sincere thanks. "The President wired Mr. Willkie: 'I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness, which I greatly reciprocate.'"

His Republican opponents concede the re-election of Senator Roy H. Cullen, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, at Nevada by a majority of about 6,000.

East Scotland Hotel Struck By Nazi Bomb

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A number of persons sheltering in a public house in a town in East Scotland were killed when the public house was demolished during an air raid on Tuesday night, says an Air Ministry communique, giving a later account of raids on Britain.

Damage in London was more widespread than was at first thought but still it was not heavy and the casualties not large.

Relatively Quiet Day

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A relatively quiet day of air fighting followed London's longest night alert.

A number of enemy aircraft approached the Southampton area this afternoon but were intercepted by R.A.F. fighters, and as a result the majority did not penetrate very far inland.

The Air Ministry communique states that bombs were dropped in Southampton, damaging some houses.

Charity Bazaar

Catholic Ladies' Association
To Run Fair in Aid of
St. Vincent de Paul

The Rock some time ago contained a note referring to the record of much good work done quietly without any self-advertisement by the Catholic Ladies' Association of Kowloon. This Association has now undertaken the running of a Bazaar in aid of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, whose recent annual report showed its great need for funds wherewith to carry on its charitable activities. The patronage of the public being eminently necessary to ensure the success of the bazaar, the C.L.A. is departing from its usual practice of not advertising its doings. Work in connection with the organization of the bazaar has been going on for some weeks, and already a large number of contributions have been received. However, the Association feels that it cannot receive too many donations, and is confident that this public appeal will meet with a ready response.

The Bazaar is to take place on November 17, from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Little Flower Club, King's Park, by kind permission of the Committee.

Contributions, whether by way of money or gifts, should be sent before November 15 to the Rectory, Rosary Church, Kowloon.

DANGER POINT NO. 2 IN FEVER

Almost as serious as the raging fever, is the serious weakness it leaves behind. It is danger point No. 2 in your illness.

The only way to overcome the weakness is by feeding up. But the stomach is just as weak as the rest of the body and turns against most foods. There is a food, however, which the exhausted digestion can take easily. It is Horlicks.

Doctors find that Horlicks places no strain on a feeble patient's stomach. Its pleasant flavour stimulates the appetite and it pours in the weak end nerves, muscles and tissues all the food elements necessary for quick rebuilding. Convalescence is shortened, vitally completely restored. Get Horlicks to-day from your store. (6)

MENTAL TENSION

By D. COMPTON-JAMES

The first step towards mental relaxation is physical relaxation. A person whose mind is occupied with other matters cannot pay proper attention to the task of securing physical relaxation, and if the attention can be switched towards physical relaxation, worries are automatically shelved to some extent.

It is possible that mind and muscle are more closely related than we suspect. It has been scientifically established that a person who thinks far into the night automatically tenses various groups of muscles. Whenever the word "muscle" is used, you must not confine your interpretation to big muscles such as the biceps. For instance, some people clench their teeth when they are thinking. This involves the contraction of a set of muscles, but it is such a minor contraction that many people never notice it.

One school of neurologists has advanced the tentative theory that man thinks with his muscles. There is no need to follow up this theory, but one of the arguments advanced in its favour is the proved point that when the muscles are extremely relaxed, thinking and emotion tend to dwindle and cease.

Thought cannot be turned on and off like the electric light or the radio set, but the human mind does, nevertheless, possess a "thought-switch." Unfortunately, few people know how to operate it. The technique can only be learned by a very gradual reduction in the intensity of thought and emotion.

This process is never very perfect or clear-cut. Mental relaxation has to be learned step by step over a period, and for every person the modus operandi is slightly different. Some fortunate people can turn off the flow of thought almost at will; it is a natural gift with them. Others have to learn the trick of it by patient endeavour.

One very important point should be borne in mind by everybody who experiences difficulty in manipulating their "thought-switch." It is folly to go to bed before you are "ready."

Some people seek to make provision for possible loss of sleep by going to bed early. This is a mistake unless and until the individual can be reasonably certain of going to sleep at once. If he cannot, then going to bed early will only teach him the bad habit of lying awake at night—a habit more easily acquired than cured.

However, this must not be regarded as an argument in favour of staying up late. An early bedtime is always desirable, but poor sleepers need to learn the trick of getting off to sleep at once before they can take advantage of it. You cannot make up for loss of sleep before the loss has been suffered, but you can do so afterwards by going to bed early on the following night.

This brings me to the general question of afternoon naps. I do not recommend them. The siesta is simply a protective device for hot countries; it is designed to restrict physical activity during the heat of the day. The siesta does not necessarily involve going to sleep; it is merely an abstention from labour.

An afternoon nap will certainly militate against the night-sleeping efficiency of people who normally sleep badly. In any case the time spent in afternoon sleep is largely wasted because the rest gained is little in character and possesses little recuperative value. The afternoon nap should be reserved for emergency use only, and when indulged in, it should be taken in bed. Armchair dozes are never satisfactory.

There are indications that dreaming is a sign of the existence of mental tension. When the mind has been very active just prior to going to sleep, nightmares may result. This process of cause and effect is commonly observed in children, but adults often forget that they are subject to exactly the same natural laws even if their expression and operation are not quite so dramatic. What would produce nightmares in children might merely cause bad dreams for adults. Excessive dreaming should therefore be regarded as an indication that all is not well with the mental state.

There is plenty of evidence that imagination diminishes as relaxation progresses. Dreamless or relatively dreamless sleep is the more restful type, although considerable recuperation is secured by people who dream almost continuously.

The individual who sleeps dreamlessly can obtain full recuperation in about six hours. The dreamer needs eight or nine hours of sleep. There is no doubt that famous "short sleepers" like Napoleon slept heavily and dreamlessly, and were able to do so because of nearly perfect mental relaxation.

Mental activity should be barred in the hour preceding bedtime, and so should any work of a strongly repetitive character. This hour should be spent in some form of relaxation congenial to the individual. In this way the first important step towards mental relaxation is taken before the person goes to bed and the period of lying awake is thereby reduced.

Mental tension at night may proceed from unfamiliar or unidentified noises. There are two anti-sleep factors here. The sense of hearing gradually fades out as one falls asleep. It follows that anyone who is hearing noises cannot possibly expect to go to sleep. The other factor is that these noises produce a state of mental alertness until they can be identified.

Ear-plugs may or may not be useful. Much depends on the temperament of the wearer. To people of the phlegmatic type whose only concern is to minimise the physical effect of night noises, ear-plugs are very useful. But if they are worn by people of the nervous type, these devices merely intensify their mental tension because the wearers are constantly straining their ears to identify the new less-distinguishable sounds.

Ear-plugs have a special value after the subject has gone to sleep in that they diminish sounds that might otherwise wake the subject or at least make him sleep less soundly.

It is very easy to say that it is folly to bother about these noises of the night but no phobia can be cured by the simple application of logic. In Britain, at the moment, night noises have a special significance and affect millions of people, but it must be remembered that even in ordinary times there are always a number of people who allow themselves to be bothered by noises at night.

The mental tension behind this attention to night noises is a phobia. In fact, now it is the phobia and important fear of death; at other times it may merely be a fear of burglars. Whatever the cause of the phobia, it is a personal problem which can only be solved by individuals themselves.

War does not alter any of the great human problems, it merely throws them into sharper relief. English people are fast learning that sooner or later they will have to overcome the fear of death before they can throw off the mental tension that prevents them from going to sleep. Everyone must face this problem sooner or later. The Nazi air raids are merely advancing the incidence for civilians who have hitherto led a sheltered and secure life.

Nazi Pilot Gets Two Pints of Jewish Blood

Captured German aviators in need of blood transfusions will get the necessary corpuscles from Jewish donors, if British medics follow the suggestion of an English magazine writer, says a United Press message from London.

Suggesting the method as and dressed he kept up a running one way of treating "arrogant and brutal" German air personnel, the publication "Aeroplane," related the following incident:

"A Nazi pilot, evidently one of Germany's tough eggs, was brought in after being shot during a dog fight. He was considerably shot up but showed a super-abundance of arrogance and little of the give and take spirit."

"He spoke excellent English and prisoners of war who need blood all the while he was being stitched transfusions."

A Day With Britain's Foreign Legion

By A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

In a quiet part of the South-West Coast, where nearby towns and villages have yet to hear the air-raid siren, the "British Foreign Legion" is receiving recruits almost daily.

"British Foreign Legion" was the description given to me by a Birmingham private as he drove an Army lorry through winding lanes and across fields to downland high above the cliffs where the men, spick and span in new battle dress, eagerly awaited a double helping of hot roast beef we were bringing for the mid-day meal.

We were with a training company of the Auxiliary Military Pioneer Corps, consisting of men of every nationality—Russians, Hungarians, Scandinavians, Poles, Lithuanians, Greeks, even Italians, but mostly German and Austrian refugees.

Enjoy Hard Work

They are aliens and "enemy aliens," who have chosen to fight for Britain. Many have sacrificed good jobs, some have volunteered, satisfied the Intelligence Branch of the Army and have been allowed to leave internment, camp to join this vital link in the rapidly growing British Army.

To this camp pour in men with an astonishing variety of occupations—lawyers, doctors, actors, musicians, scientists, ranking high in their professions, now ready to work with their hands building bridges, railways, working on ammunition dumps, paying the way for the armed forces.

They are taught drill and discipline and then after three or four weeks go in self-contained companies under a British sergeant-major.

One Complaint

I asked a group of 40 aliens if they had any complaints, and almost apologetically they asked me to put one forward.

They were anxious that all restrictions should be lifted on their families now they have joined the Army. One man said: "Many of the men are perturbed because their wives will probably not be allowed to leave London even in these raids. It seems ungrateful to grumble after we have been given our freedom, but we understand when we joined the Army that the restrictions on our families would be lifted."

bylines

The human race is a collection of the most marvellous, ingenious and engaging idiots that ever got possession of a noble planet—Walter Lippmann.

But let us not forget that the world's greatest friend is yourself and likewise in yourself you may find the world's strongest foe, because self-confidence and self-reliance will give you all-conquering strength whereas self-abandonment will lead to destruction—Chiang Kai-shek.

Complete independence for the Philippines now probably would mean servitude. They are unable to stand alone amidst the violent forces now loosed in the Far East. If the United States flag descends the result will be a bloody struggle for control—Paul V. McNutt.

Nazi Airmen Attack Rescuers

London, Sept. 9.

When three naval drifters tried to save four German airmen who had bailed out from a German bomber over the Channel they were machine-gunned by other German aircraft and forced to give up the attempt.

One of our motor torpedo-boats was also machine-gunned while going to the rescue of crews of other German aircraft, and four of its crew slightly wounded. The airmen in the water were left to their fate.

Hongkong Telegraph

Wyndham St., Hongkong
Telephone: 26015

THE press "special to the Telegraph" is used by the "Hongkong Telegraph" to indicate news which is strictly copyright under the provisions of the Telecommunications Ordinance, 1934. Such news bears the indication "UP" is received in Hongkong on the date of publication by the United Press Association, who reserve all rights and forbid republication, either wholly or in part without previous arrangement.

THE EVACUATION BOMBHELL

NO bigger bombshell could have been dropped in Hongkong than yesterday's official announcement, that, acting upon instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Government has abandoned the compulsory evacuation scheme. It will mean rejoicing for some two or three hundred women who were reluctantly awaiting their turn to be ejected from the Colony; but what of those who so readily answered the original summons and are now in Australia? For they, it seems, must perforce remain parted from their husbands, the Imperial Government refusing to allow the restrictions upon their return to be lifted.

This is going to create an anomaly capable of producing an outcry which will make the protests regarding the original evacuation sound like half-hearted whippers.

The text of the official announcement is characteristically ambiguous, and for the most part leaves unsaid nearly all those things which should have been said. For example, why precisely has the Imperial Government adopted this sudden volte face? The official communiqué tries to explain it by observing that the Secretary of State for the Colonies "has been kept fully informed of the situation". What exactly is this full information capable of bringing about the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation? Is it a changed political situation which has presumably rendered the Colony safe? If so, it is just as safe for those who are away to return, as for those who are still here to remain. Or is it because the energetic public protests have finally reached the ears of the Powers in England? If this be the reason it still does not offer a satisfactory answer to the paramount question, if families still in Hongkong can stay, why can't families return?

In one part of the communiqué the Government infers that the political situation regarding Hongkong is pretty rotten, for it warns that should the situation further deteriorate, no facilities to leave the Colony can be guaranteed. And it is this precisely which will not worry our women, if their arguments at

SPITFIRE PATROL

"AND what," I said ing of darts, their chess; and waited. From a long distance came the sound of a civilian siren, "should one particularly howling the warning. Then the boom of anti-aircraft guns. "Guns," commented one pilot writing about the Royal Air Force?"

He did not hesitate. "All that film stuff. All that drip," he said, "about heroics."

"Bird-man stuff?" "That sort of drip," he agreed.

We were talking in the mess of the fighter squadron whose guest I was, and, if I may be allowed one spot of drip, I felt my age.

The men reminded me so vividly of others in whose company the last war was fought by my generation.

The squadron I was visiting is on the doorstep of London and, since the "blitz" began, it has had very little leisure between dawn and dusk.

Action!

While one will be at "thirty-minutes available," meaning that all pilots must be within thirty minutes of the aerodrome and accessible by telephone, another will be at "fifteen minutes available," and another at "readiness."

Readiness means that the squadron must be off the ground within three minutes, if necessary; and a call may go out at any time bringing all the squadrons to readiness simultaneously.

It was my privilege to see the system in action, but, before that, we had lunch, and, before lunch, some photographs were taken.

This necessitated the donning of Mae Wests—a bulgy kind of life-jacket which functions in the event of a pilot, who has baled out, coming down in the sea.

"Oh, sir," one pilot besought the squadron commander, striking an attitude, "but I would so like to show my badge! Can't I?"

"No, you can't."

"Oh, sir!" sighed the other, and proceeded, in mock distress, to cover the squadron badge on his flying overall with Mae West's ample charms.

Then they posed, according to instructions, "all life-like and cheerful."

It was shortly before three o'clock that the telephone rang. The squadron commander answered it, and turned to the men with the words "Brought to readiness."

There was a brisk movement towards Mae Wests and other necessities. Outside, I saw crews running to the machines.

The pilots resumed their seats, their reading, their flick-

recent tribunals have been honest. Hongkong's British women, both here and those evacuated, have long been insisting that they are not afraid to face any dangers so long as they can be with their men. Is the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation scheme a concession to this plea? If it is, there is still no reason why the evacuated women should not be permitted to come back.

Hitherto we have had some sympathy for the Government which, it has claimed, has only been acting upon instructions in effecting compulsory evacuation; but if the new instructions countermmanding this scheme are the result of information supplied by the Hongkong authorities, then we suggest that this information has been hopelessly inadequate; otherwise we should never have had the situation where those who evaded evacuation originally are to be officially protected at the expense of those who so faithfully carried out instructions.

And the Government might well bear in mind that in this case it is the majority which is going to suffer; an intolerable state of affairs. We shall expect to see a further revelation of these Home Office instructions in the near future which will permit the return of our evacuees.

that I was silently calling down post, whence the ground detail the luck at my disposal on fences are controlled. London waited. We waited.

"And what happens now?" I asked.

"Oh, I stand by the phone until the last minute," said the squadron commander. "Then the time comes to scramble, and when they see me get into my plane, they all get off."

"All except me," said a Canadian, with a great affectation of roguishness. "The doctor made me promise that I positively wouldn't fly to-day."

Again the telephone. "Patrol at 15,000 feet over Blank? Right!" The squadron commander stood up.

"Good-bye!" he cried, and was gone.

By F. G. H. Salusbury

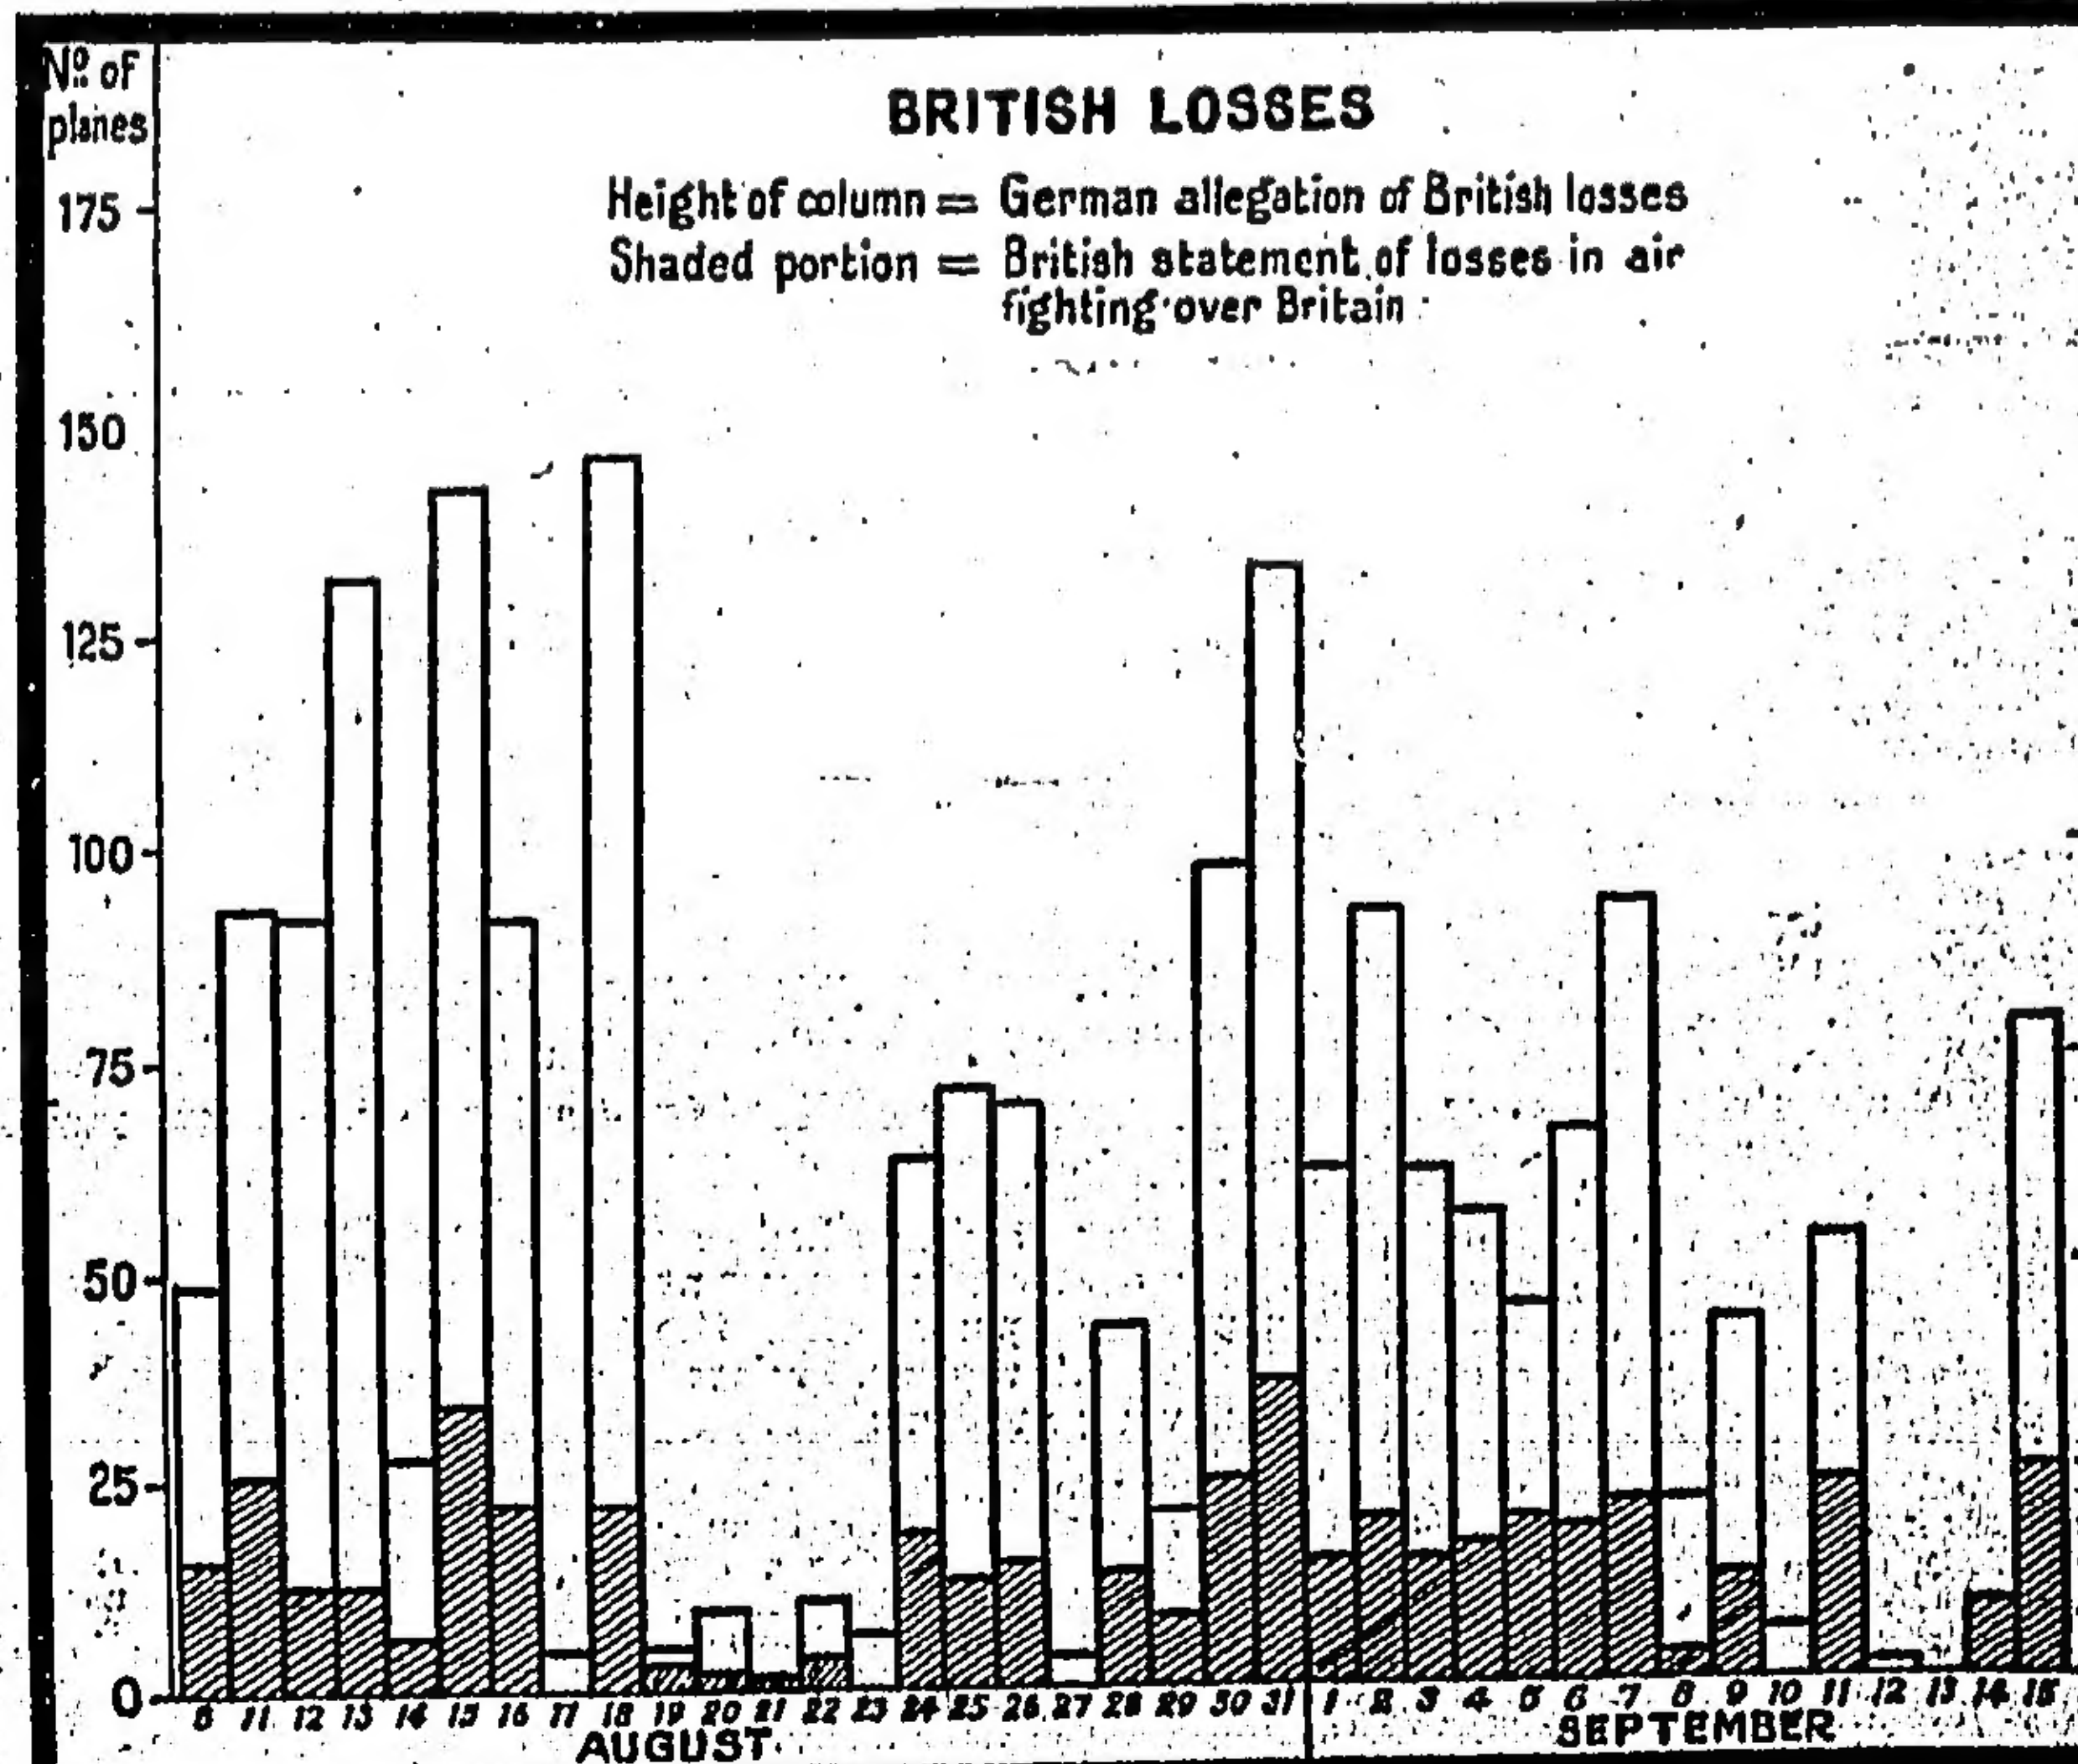

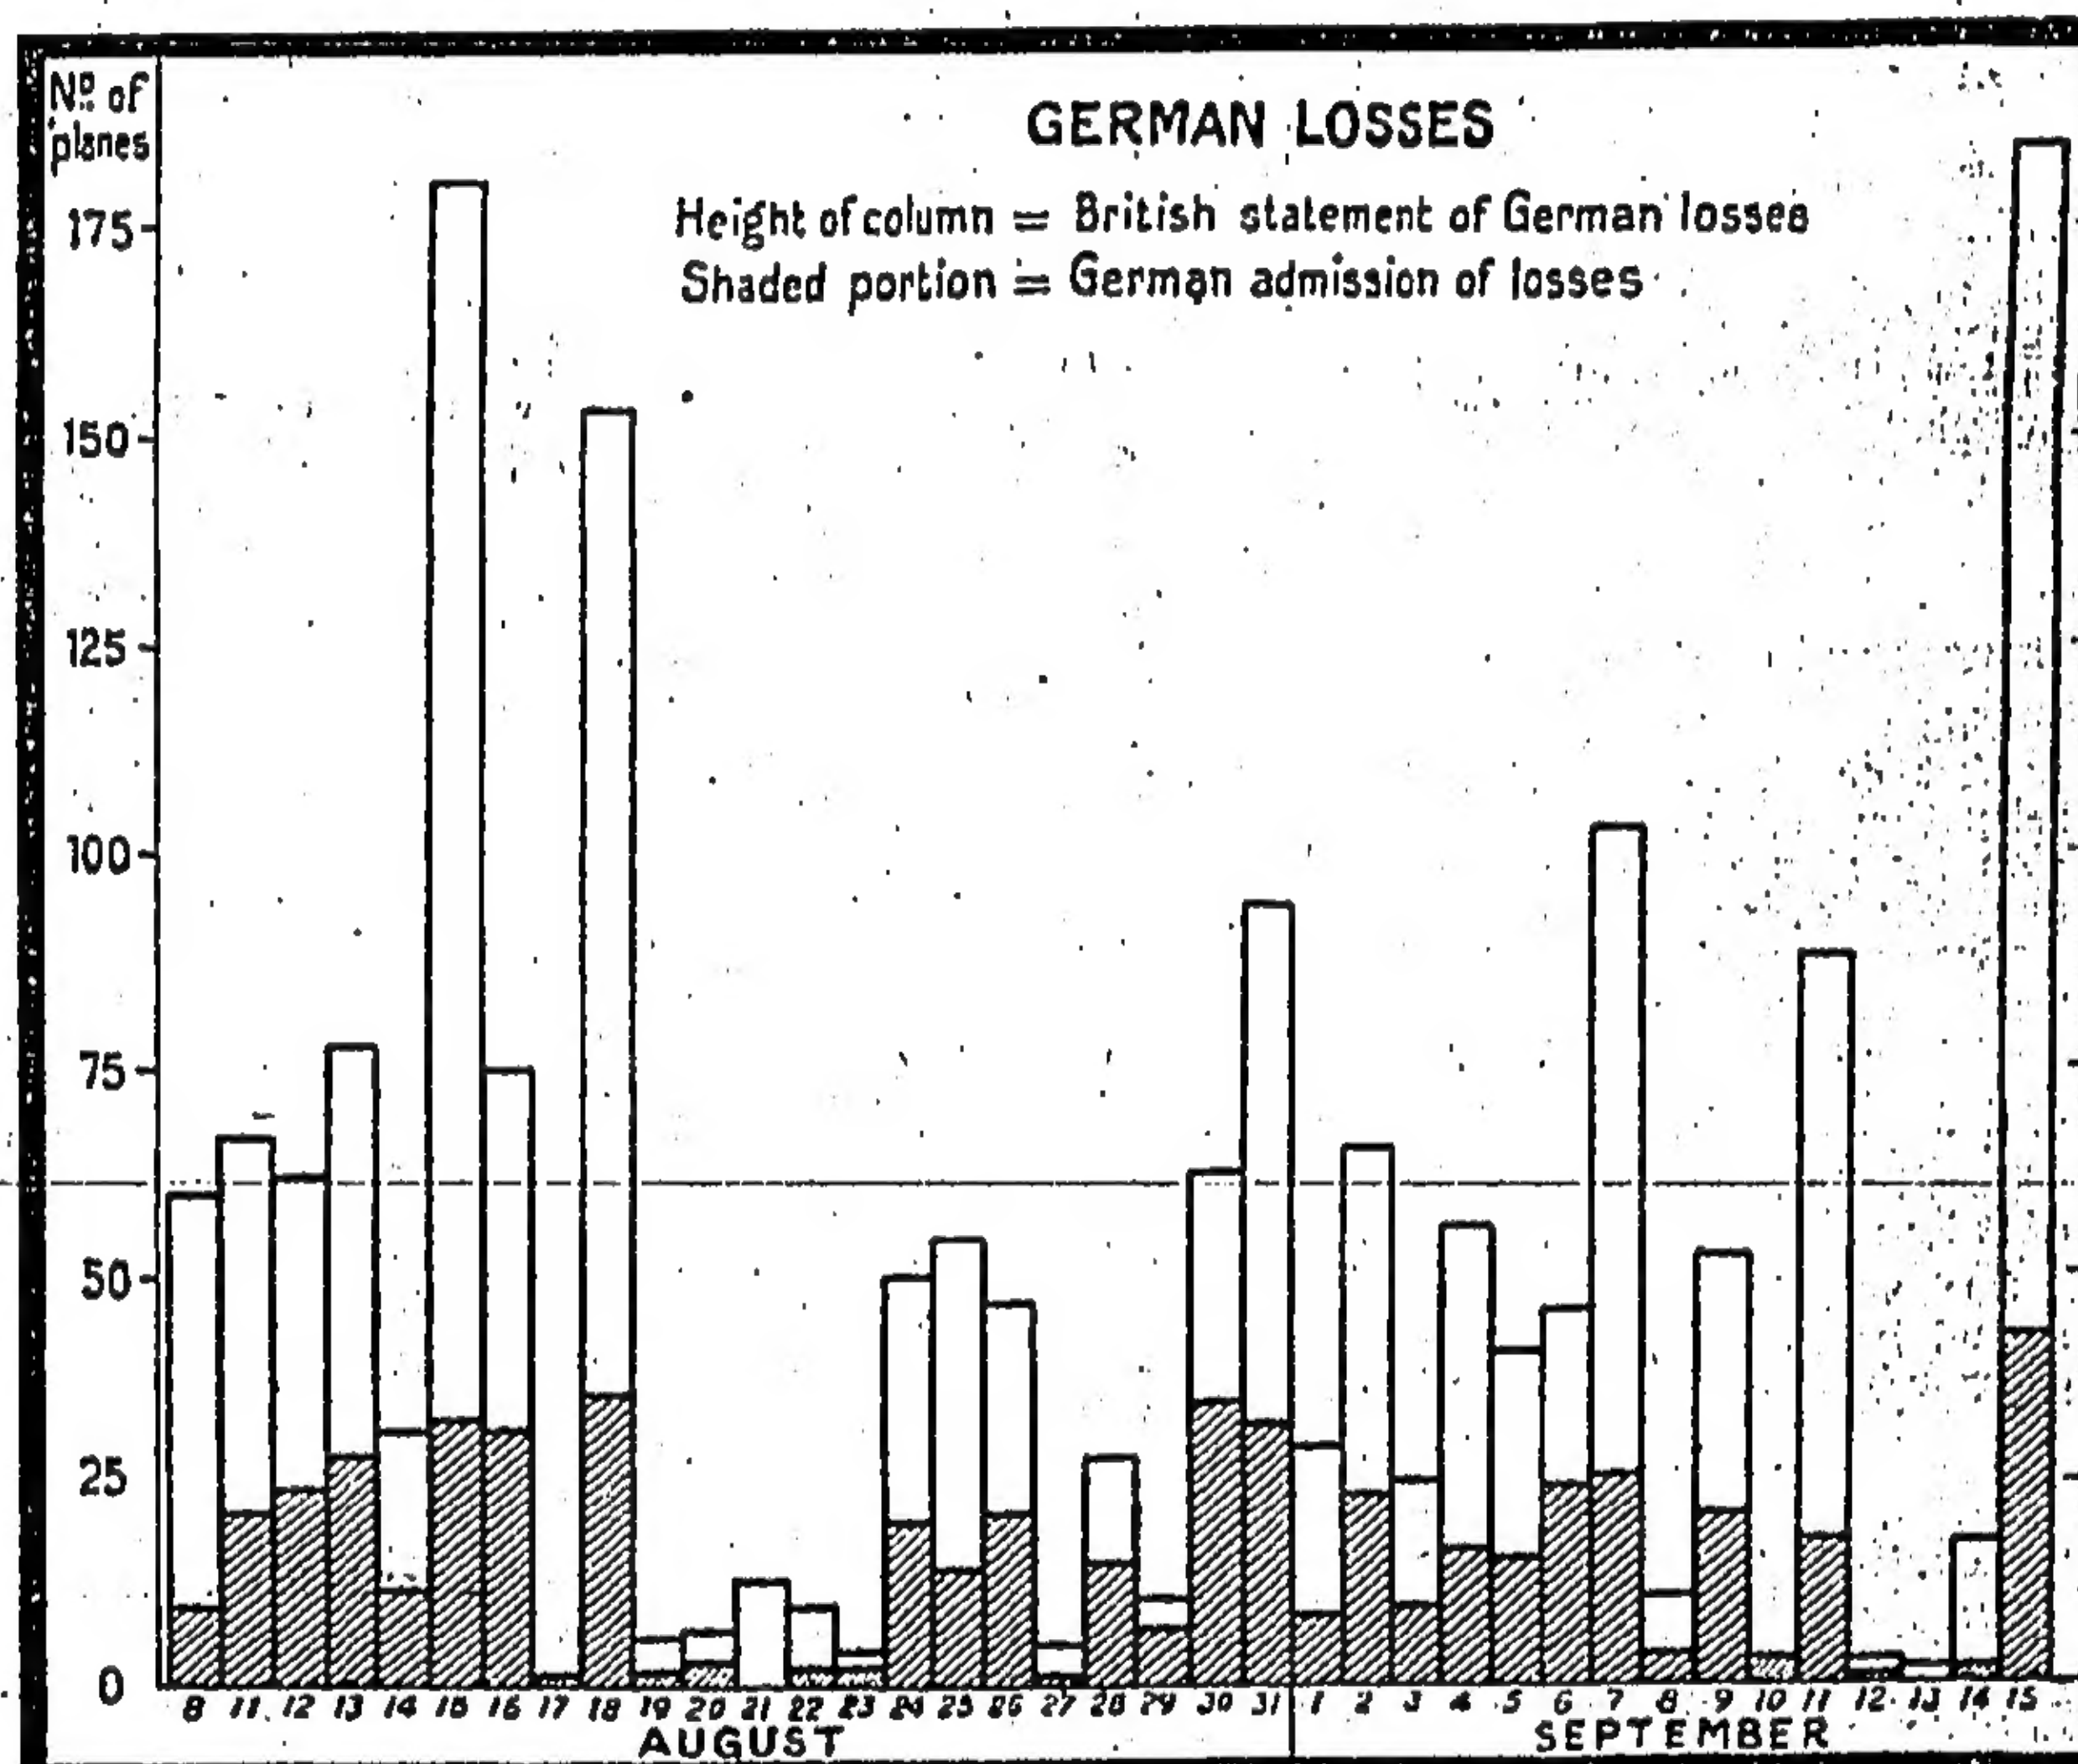

I watched the squadron commander climb into his plane. All the propellers swung through a haze into thunderous invisibility. Then, with a roar, plane after plane followed him, charging off the ground into the teeth of the wind.

Soon they were lost in the clouds. Then they emerged, as white as gulls in the sunlight; and, as we watched, the scream of the station siren warned us of enemy aircraft.

We hopped on a lorry and bumped across to the command against drip, I would say that not only was I thrilled, but also

"Good-Bye!"

Britain's Home Guard Re-cast On Army Basis

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Britain's effective army has suddenly increased by the gigantic total of 1,700,000 men by fundamental reorganisation of the Home Guard.

Salient points in the reorganisation were announced in Parliament today.

The Home Guard will have a Director-General with a fully-equipped directorate of its own on the administrative side.

Its new Inspector-General will be General Lord Gort, who will combine that office with his other duties.

Permanent Character
The Home Guard will be given a more permanent character without, however, losing its local or friendly flavour.

Commanders are to be given commissions and there will be a suitable complement of Warrant-Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers.

Commissions will primarily be given only for the exercise of command over Home Guard troops but in specific emergencies the commissioned officers can be placed in command of all troops in their given locality.

The Home Guard will soon have rifles, automatic rifles, machine-guns and grenades on a scale equal to full armament for 1,000,000 men.

Financial Aid For Evacuates

As recently announced, the Hongkong Government is making arrangements with the Australian Government for the payment of monthly remittances in Australia on behalf of husbands whose families have been evacuated, and for the registration of such evacuee families with the Dominions authorities, thus enabling the latter to make provision for evacuees in the event of this Colony being isolated and all communications being cut off.

Husbands in Hongkong wishing to avail themselves of these arrangements, are requested to apply for the necessary form to Mr. A. J. C. Taylor, Accountant, Treasury, Windsor House, without delay, as all forms must be returned to Mr. Taylor, duly completed, before November 25 at the latest.

In order to enable this provision to apply to all evacuees in Australia, husbands whose families did not proceed aboard official evacuee ships, are invited to register the names and addresses of their families with the Accountant, Treasury, not later than November 25. Registration in these cases does not confer any claim in respect of return passages.

A Committee having been appointed to assist Government in the matter of applications for financial assistance to evacuees in Australia, applicants for such assistance are requested to send in to the Secretary, Evacuation Expenses Committee, Treasury, Windsor House, information as to their monthly salaries and allowances in Hongkong, and other particulars on which the claim is based.

These applications, which will be treated as strictly confidential, must reach the authorities concerned not later than November 25.

Baggage For Evacuates
Husbands of evacuees in Australia are informed that there is opportunity for sending baggage to their wives at a nominal charge, by a ship leaving Hongkong about November 15.

Application should be made to Mr. A. J. C. Taylor, at the Treasury, from whom further particulars may be obtained.

PATROLS ANNOY ARMY OF GRAZIANI IN NORTH AFRICA

CAIRO, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Enemy patrols south-east of Sidi Barrani were successfully engaged by our artillery on Tuesday and forced to withdraw, says a B.H.Q. communique.

British mechanised patrols have again been active in the Kassala sector in the Sudan, where casualties were inflicted on a party of the enemy who hastily withdrew without returning our fire.

The communique adds: "In Kenya and Palestine there is nothing to report."

Hertzog Loses Followers

Opponent Of Premier
BLOEMFONTEIN, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—General James Hertzog, leader of the Official Opposition in South Africa, has resigned the leadership of the Re-United Nationalist Party of the Free State.

It is reported that there was a complete split between the followers of Hertzog and members of the old Nationalist Party during the inaugural congress of the Re-United Party.

Two Programmes
BLOEMFONTEIN, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Free State Congress of the Re-United Party met in committee to-day to consider two draft programmes of principles for the Party.

One programme was submitted by General Hertzog, leader of the Party, and the other by the joint acting Federal Council.

There was little difference between the programmes but the principles set out by Hertzog were milder and less specific on most points. That separation from the British Commonwealth was best suited for South Africa must be established on a clear mandate from the people and not by mere parliamentary majority, was one point. Hertzog's programme also would allow non-Republicans in the Party.

The Council's programme provided for the revision of the Simonstown naval agreement and recognition of only one National Anthem—the Afrikaander anthem.

The Simonstown naval agreement placed this South African base at the disposal of Great Britain during hostilities.

Stock Exchange Active
Shortage of Stock Shown
LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—On the Stock Exchange to-day, business was more widespread with a growing demand revealing a shortage of stock. Hence prices advanced.

Kafirs were prominent on Cape support while other minings, including copper, were well brought.

Home rails were helped by the resumption of provincial demand.

Industrial attracted buyers but all-edges stocks were less in the limelight, and Argentine, together with Far Eastern, bonds were stronger.

Wall Street was weak.

Suggestions For Local Umpires

Concerning Corners And Free-hits: Tricks Of Certain Players

WITH THE Hongkong Hockey Association Tournament now in progress, it may not be amiss to put forward a few suggestions for the assistance of local Umpires. These must not be taken as in any way a criticism of present umpires, but rather it is hoped that they may prove of assistance some time.

The first to be dealt with are the corners, long and short. The long corner is when a player of the attacking side shall have a free hit from a spot on the defenders' goal-line, or on the sideline, within three yards of the corner flag nearer the point where ball crossed the goal-line.

The short corner is when a free-hit may be taken from any spot on the defenders' goal-line on either side of the goal, but not within ten yards of the goal-mouth. An umpire must penalise any shot at goal if he considers that the corner hit was not sufficiently stopped, excepting, of course, in the case where a defender has touched the ball prior to the shot at goal being taken. A corner hit is a free hit, and therefore, no other player may be within five yards of the ball when it is hit.

It is also unnecessary to state that a player taking a flying hit without making any attempt to stop the ball is to be penalised. A flying hit which misses the ball should also be penalised, as the intention of the player is obvious.

Be On Guard

THE striker at a corner hit must allow time for the defenders to get behind their goal-line. See that he does not take more than three yards from the corner flag when he places the ball. Keep the defenders behind the goal-line until the ball has actually been hit, but if the hit has been really well directed to an attacker who is waiting to stop it, and the attacking side have time to get in a shot unhindered, it would be a mistake to deprive them of the advantage of a well-placed corner by sending the defence back, because it had come out slightly too early.

This is very hard to determine, and unless you are absolutely certain that the attackers will benefit by your remaining silent, you should cause the corner to be re-taken. But remember that this is sometimes an occasion when the "advantage" rule may be brought into play for the benefit of the attacking side.

Suggestions To Help

IT would not be far wrong to allow a shot to score, if, in your opinion, the ball would not have gone more than one foot from the place where the attempt to stop it was made.

As a general guide, the words "not necessarily motionless" may be taken to mean that the attempt to stop the ball has been successful if it comes to rest within very short distance had it been allowed to run on till it stopped by itself.

If a player, in attempting to stop the ball, has not been sufficiently successful and the ball goes on to another player of his own side, this other player in his turn has got to make a successful attempt before a legitimate shot can be taken, but see that Rule 10 (c) has not been contravened.

When a short corner hit has been taken, some players think that the ball must be stopped (not necessarily motionless) within the circle. This is correct, provided that the ball is stopped in accordance with the rule before a shot at goal is taken.

It doesn't matter where the stopping of the ball takes place, though no player must stand within five yards of the ball when it is hit. Some rely on the stick for stopping, and the umpire must be sure that the stopping complies with the rule before a shot is taken. If the ball has been merely deflected or pushed past an opponent, it cannot be said to have been sufficiently stopped.

It is not an attempt within the meaning of the rule when a player completely misses or just touches the ball and deflects it to another of his own side.

Do not allow a striker at a corner to make a pretence of hitting the ball, and thereby cause the defence to run out. Some do this deliberately and then take the hit before the defence have got back behind their goal-line and who are, consequently, not fully prepared.

Finally, watch a player taking a hit for off-side immediately following a corner; his position near the goal-line makes him particularly prone to it.

It is not allowed to be extended to allow a penalty corner or a corner to be taken.

To Represent The K.C.C.

The following K.C.C. cricket teams have been chosen for Saturday's matches.

1st XI v H.K.C.C. at home: E. C. Fincher (capt), N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. B. Zimmerman, D. Hunt, W. L. Mackay, B. D. Lay, R. T. Broadbridge and T. A. Madar.

2nd XI v Police, away: S. A. Gray (capt), E. Currie, G. A. Goodban, R. J. Fenton, K. M. Baxter, F. Crabb, L. R. Burch, R. A. J. Simpson, H. Brokenshire and J. W. Bertman.

MONDAY MATCHES

Against the H.K.C.C. on the Club ground on Monday, starting at 11 a.m., the following will play for the 1st XI:

E. C. Fincher (capt), N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. B. Zimmerman, D. Hunt, W. L. Mackay, R. T. Broadbridge and T. A. Madar.

The 2nd XI versus the H.K.C.C. at home on Monday starting at 11 a.m., will be:

S. A. Gray (capt), R. Baldwin, E. Currie, H. Brokenshire, L. R. Burch, K. M. Baxter, Major W. Parsons, G. A. Goodban, R. A. J. Simpson, F. Crabb and J. W. Bertman.

RANDOM JOTTINGS

UMPIRES approached me recently with regard to illegal sticks.

The rule referring to sticks is quite clear, viz.—the blade shall not be edged with, nor have any insets or fittings of metal, nor shall there be any sharp edges or dangerous splinters. The total weight of the stick shall not exceed 28 ounces, and shall be of such a size (inclusive of any surgical binding) that it can be passed through a ring with an internal diameter of two inches.

In my opinion, umpires should purchase a two-inch metal ring for the purpose of testing certain doubtful hockey-sticks. It is presumed that every stick before it leaves the factory is properly tested.

An umpire should have no hesitation in refusing to allow any player to continue to use such a stick in a match if found contrary to the rules.

I WAS glad to see the grand reunion of the Police team last Sunday. Coxswain Hayward made a welcome return after a season's lapse. He played a good game and looked quite a lad with his whiskers and mustache, but his head gear and lead bangle were missing!

With A. S. P. Luscombe taking such an interest in the game, the Guardians of the Law are going to have a big say in the Tournament this year.

C.B.A. led by F. R. Kernani, brother of Sam, the well-known Shanghai cricketer, did very well against the full Kymoon Regimental team last Sunday, losing by 2-1.

The all-important goal, I hear, was caused through D. S. Blake, at right half. He, unfortunately, tackled the speed demon Partaub on the wrong side, the advantage rule was justly applied and then Partaub made no mistake with the winning goal.

Although he is still new to the game, Blake will be well advised to make more use of the reverse stick in the future.

TWO women's teams fielded depleted sides in friendly fixtures at King's Park last Saturday. It is about time the H.K.L.H.A. made a move to organise a League or a knock-out tournament as some of these games—the women-indulge-in-at-present are becoming too friendly.

With five or six teams still in the Colony, an eight or nine-a-side League, 25 minutes each way, could be arranged with home and away games.

IT was unfortunate that the 5th A.A. "B" v. Police "B" match was cancelled last Sunday without ample notification. The umpires, I believe, made their way to Lyemun and were disappointed.

Club Secretaries should bear in mind that 24 hours notice must be given to the Secretary of the Umpires Association before a match can be

Tournament Matches

A.N. Other XI Overwhelmed By Police

Police 5 A.N. Other XI 0

THE H.K.H.A. Tournament commenced last Sunday, and on their home ground at Boundary Street, Police won their match against A. N. Other XI in a canter.

Once the home team had realised the perils of the slippery pitch, they settled down to make first round progress as convincingly as the score of 5-0 suggests.

There was only one side in it from beginning to end, and though the Others were playing one short throughout they had to thank Benwell, in goal, for a brilliant display, which saved the visitors from complete rout.

The Club and "Y" goal-keeper had a day out, and saved some shots that looked certain scorers; two, in particular, from Teja Singh and Parker being examples of first-class goal-keeping.

It was the Police attack against the Others' defence all the time.

Jesbir Singh gave the Police the lead after 20 minutes play, and Howlett added another before the interval.

Further goals in the second half were scored by Teja Singh, Jesbir Singh and Howlett.

FINE COMBINATION

THE strength of the Police lay in their attack where the forwards, led by Jesbir Singh, combined very well indeed. No special mention can be made of the halves, Leslie, Gough and Hayward, who were hard-working, but Man Singh, at right back, was a tower of strength.

The Others, without the services of Thompson at full back, played under a tremendous handicap, but Jordan and Gunner gave their best.

The outstanding player, however, was Waldron at centre-half, who time and again was responsible for breaking up many a dangerous raid.

Gemmell, at inside-right, was the only forward who showed any enterprise in a very disjointed attack. Well beaten by a superior side, the visitors put up a game fight until the end.

Nomads Deservedly Beat Khalsa

Nomads 3 Khalsa 0

ON THE Police ground last Sunday, Nomads adapted themselves to the conditions by making full use of their wings and ran out worthy winners against the Khalsa 3-0.

Play was even for the first 15 minutes, but after forcing a second short corner, K. J. Reed opened the scoring for Nomads. The lead was kept until the interval.

The ground, due to the drizzle in the first half, became sticky, causing players to lose their balance at critical times. In spite of this, some good hockey was served up, and from a centre from the right wing, Peter Rull, the left inner, converted with a terrific drive.

Ten minutes from the end, B. Xavier cut through on the left post. Bagh Singh to score a smart goal.

FAST ATTACK

NOMADS' attack, though displaying little stick-work, moved with precision and speed. Peter Rull, in particular, took a great deal of holding. For this, however, they had to thank their hard-working halves, Gubbay and R. J. Reed, who once again profited by employing through passes on a slippery ground.

Credit must also be paid to the backs, R. Xavier and H. Soares, for their rapid tackling and fine clearances.

The youthful Nomads owed their success to their team-work, and playing with great spirit, Khalsa could not cope with them.

HALVES FAIL

IT was no day for hesitancy in regard to defensive tactics, but the Khalsa wing halves failed time and again, in the most objectionable manner to get the ball clear of their "25" yard-line, and they paid the full penalty. M. H. Hassan, centre half, was the best of the defenders, but his efforts were wasted in backing a slow set of forwards. Pyra Singh, displaying some fine stick-work as leader of the attack, was rather a "lone wolf." He received very poor support from his inside men. Kaminder Singh, right wing, was not his usual self either.

Khalsa will be without the services of G. Singh for quite a while and will have to make drastic changes should they hope to impress under their present name.

CLUB "A" DEFEAT R. SCOTS 10-6

(By "Fly-half")

TWO FAIRLY STRONG teams met on the Club ground yesterday evening in a keen game of rugby football. Club "A," fielding several of their 1st XV players and Wright-Nooth, of Police, triumphed through superior kicking over the Royal Scots by 10 points (two goals) to 6 (two tries).

Aitkenhead, with his splendid kicking, should prove a match winner for Club this season for it was he who converted both of Club's tries yesterday.

The big Royal Scots forwards, with Millar, Pinkerton and Hunter to the fore, made several fierce rushes to the Club line, and with more luck might have scored more than one try off their own efforts.

An ankle injury to Grace, the Scots' scrum-half, deprived the military team of a man for the major portion of the second half. Up to the time of his injury, Grace had been doing a lot of useful and hard work at the base of the scrum.

Ford, at stand-off, was quick off the mark, and well up in defence. He intercepted well to score his side's first try.

Douglas was the mainstay of the three-quarter line, which was well supported by Garrie.

CLUB PERFORMERS

FEORINI, at full back for Club, played a useful game. He requires called off. Failing this the decision with regard to the state of the ground, etc., must be left entirely to the umpire appointed. Should the umpire declare the ground unfit for play at the time fixed, only then shall the match be cancelled.

TWO Club players who will not be seen in action for quite a few weeks are E. V. Reed and D. Taylor. The former is suffering from a badly sprained ankle and the latter is in hospital with malaria.

A little more practice with his touch kicking, which he performs with either foot, and he must learn to tackle properly for his own sake if for no other. An unorthodox head-on tackle by him of Millar was effective, but resulted in his having to leave the field for a few minutes, having been stunned.

Wilson showed a fine turn of speed when he accepted a hard pass from Aitkenhead to score Club's second try.

Dry and Aitkenhead were hard workers who were too well marked to break through with effect. Wright-Nooth and Godry were prominent in the loose for the Club at forward, while Hensman and Dalziel were hard workers.

THE GAME

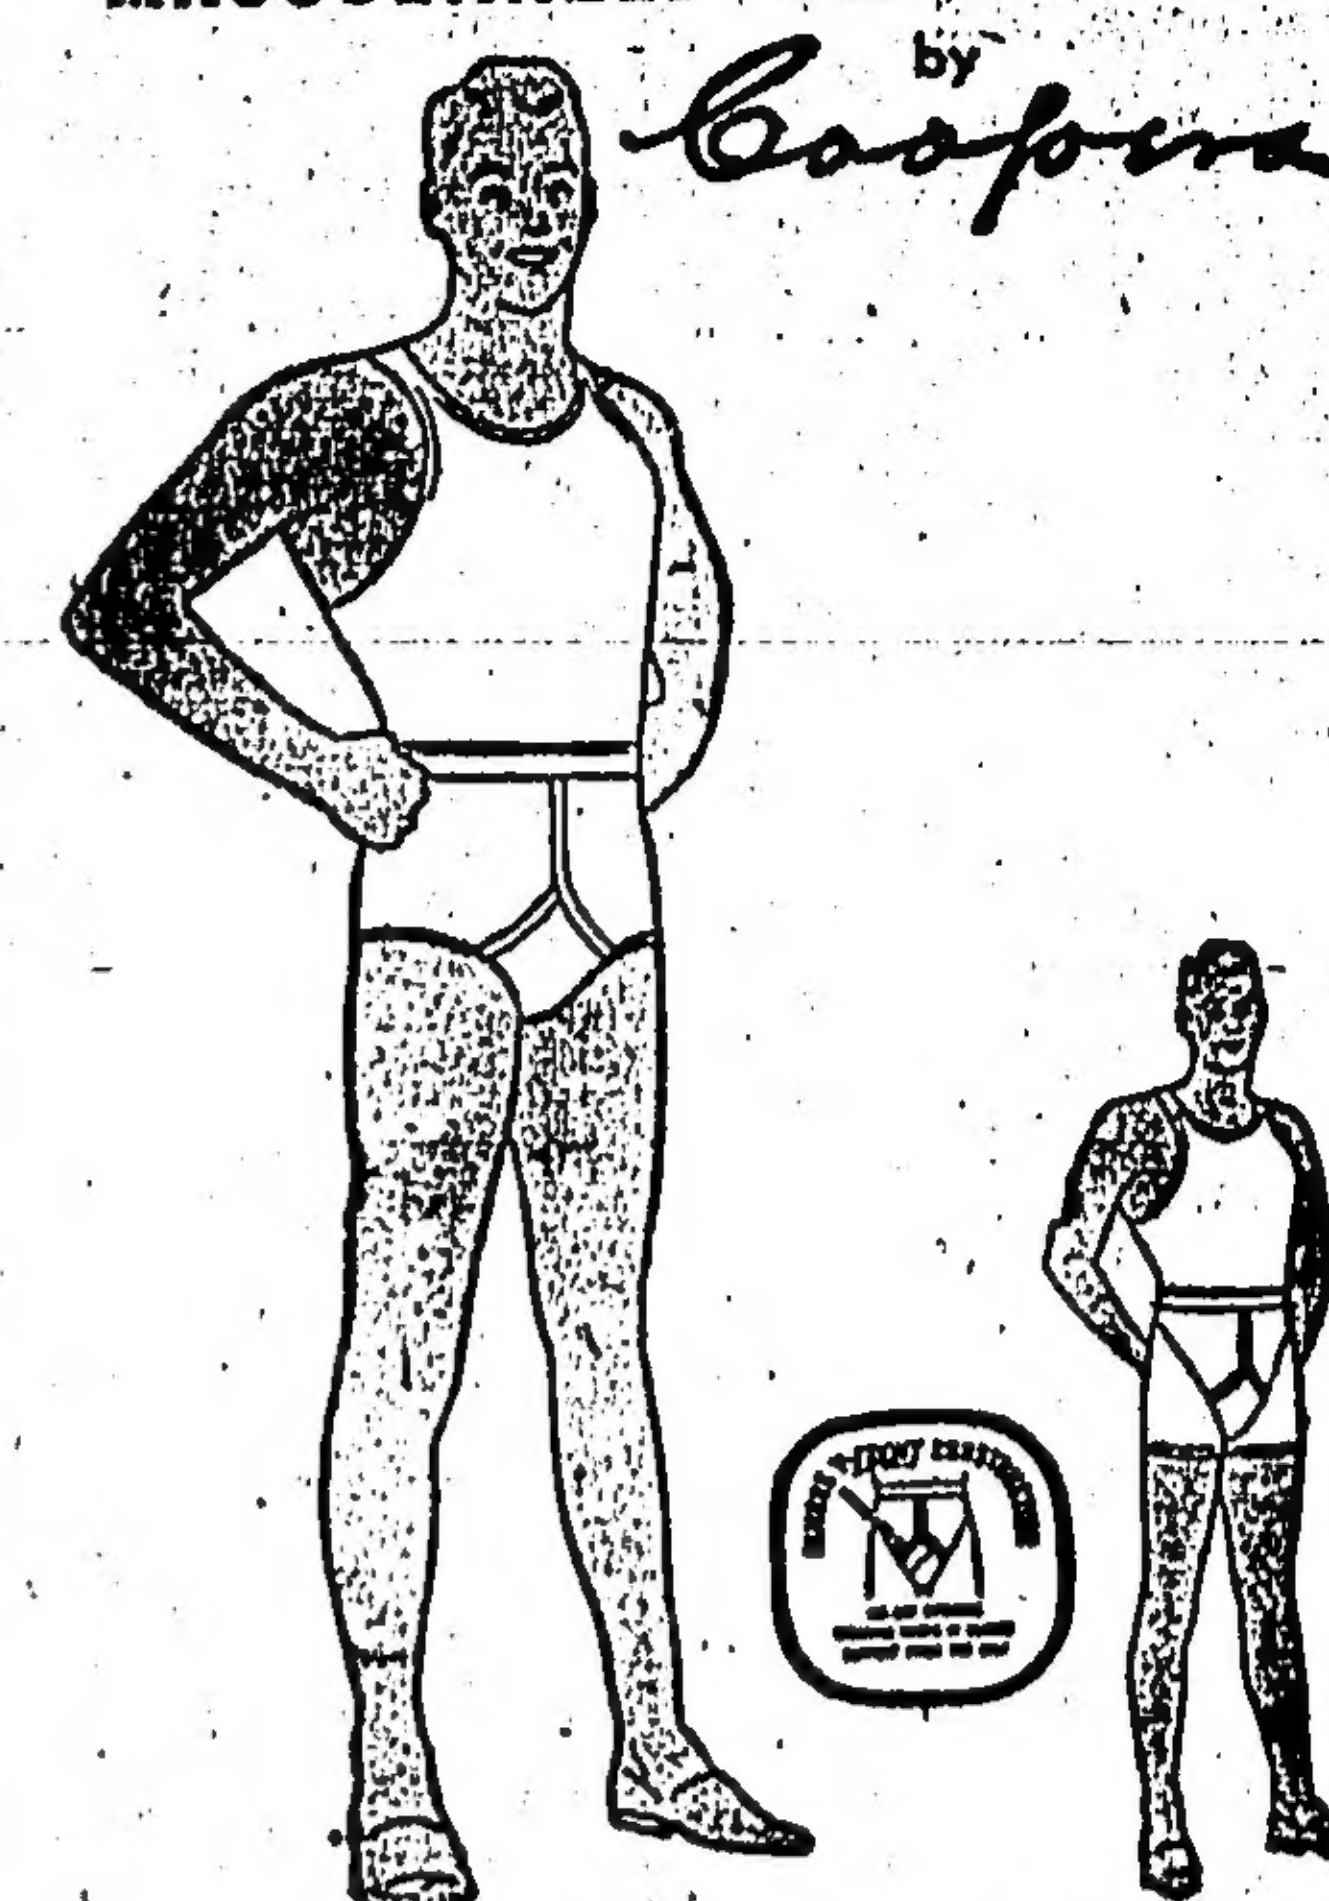

A SMART interception by Ford in full flight near the Club line led to the Scots' first try, which was scored by the same player. The attempt to convert failed.

In a loose rush in which Club backs and forwards participated, the ball was taken to the Army line where Day was obstructed and a penalty try was given. The kick taken in front of the posts was converted by Aitkenhead.

Aitkenhead then broke through to pass to Wilson, who cut in to receive the ball at full speed to pass the full back and score. Aitkenhead again converted.

Back at the other end from a scrum, the Scots wheeled and Millar carried on to score an unconverted try.

Luckily there is still a shot or two of gin in the cabin locker, and a tall bottle of Rose's Lime Juice in a

They know it helps to keep those slender graceful figure lines which appeal to yachmen-like some shapely beauty from the yard of a master-builder. The yachting world bestows no higher praise. LETTERS

Evacuation Appeals
To the Editor,
The "Hongkong Telegraph."

Sir, I send you herewith copies of correspondence regarding the appeal on behalf of my wife which was heard on Saturday, 2nd, November.

In view of the publicity given to the statement made by the Secretary to the Advisory Committee regarding my inability to support my wife, I shall be obliged if you will publish these letters in full.

The "apology" submitted on behalf of the members of the Committee and at once withdrawn by their Secretary, bears the hall-mark with which we are all becoming so familiar these days.

G. B. S. THOMSON.
COPIES
4th, November, 1940.

The Chairman,
The Evacuation Advisory Committee,
Colonial Secretariat,
Hongkong.

Sir, On Saturday last, during the hearing of the Appeal lodged on behalf of my wife, the Secretary to your Committee in his preliminary summary of the evidence stated:

"On 2nd, August last, a letter was received from Messrs. Johnson, Stokes & Master, Solicitors, applying for permission for Mrs. Thomson to return on the grounds that you were unable to support her in Australia and yourself here. This was the complete reference made to that letter."

As you are well aware at no time during the hearing did I mention the question of maintenance of my wife, but unfortunately the above statement was given wide publicity in the Press as my main submission to the Committee, and was in some cases attributed to me.

The letter in question is as follows:—
"The Honourable The Colonial Secretary."

"Sir, We are instructed by our client, Mr. G. B. S. Thomson, the accountant of The Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co. Ltd., to write to you and ascertain whether there is any objection to his wife returning to the Colony. When the instructions of the Government were originally given for the evacuation, our client arranged for his wife to proceed privately to Australia, and she left on the 8th, ult., and is at the present time in Sydney. As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff he would, if it were possible, be glad if she could return to the Colony and as we have mentioned, he would be glad to know if there is any objection to her doing so."

"We may add, as far as help to be given here is concerned, she is the holder of an A.K.F. Warden's Certificate which she obtained in London."

"We have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servants,
(Sd.) JOHNSON STOKES & MASTER."

I cannot see how it was possible to construe this letter as was done by your Committee. You will appreciate that a Press statement to the effect that I am unable to support my wife in Australia is greatly resented by me, and I must request some explanation for this gross misrepresentation of fact. I shall be obliged if you will favour me with an early reply.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd.) G. B. S. THOMSON.
Colonial Secretary's Office,
Hongkong.
5th, November, 1940.

Sir, The Chairman of the Evacuation Advisory Committee has asked me to reply to your letter of 4th, November.

In preparing the notes on your case, I assumed that the words "As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff..." which were used by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master in their letter of 2nd, August, were intended to imply that your appeal was based on financial grounds.

If my remarks, which expressed this assumption, were incorrect, you were quite at liberty to contradict them. I presume that since no contradiction was forthcoming the Press reporters assumed that you accepted my implication.

I must assure you that the Committee has made every effort to avoid embarrassing members of the public who have appeared before it and that this particular misunderstanding is regretted by all the members. At the same time I do not feel justified in accepting responsibility for an interpretation of a letter written on your behalf which you let pass without question or comment.

I am, Sir, Your obedient servant,
(Sd.) G. BRAMWELL BURGESS,
Secretary,
Evacuation Advisory Committee.

Willkie Sends Congratulation

with Mr. Cordell Hull by telephone this morning on international affairs. The President plans to return to Washington to-morrow.

Willkie's Statement
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—In a striking statement broadcast from New York to-day, Mr. Wendell Willkie, after finally admitting defeat, said: "I accept the result of the election with complete goodwill. Popular vote shows the vitality of our democratic principles."

Thanking his Republican supporters, he added: "I know they will continue as I shall to work for the unity of our people in the completion of our defenses, in sending aid to Britain and in insisting on the removal of antagonism in America—all to the end that the governments of free men shall continue and may again spread throughout Europe."

President Roosevelt, a unique third-term president, faces the most critical period in American history, not only with a resounding victory behind him and an overwhelmingly favourable Congress to aid him but with the assured support of the defeated Republican Party in all matters of vital national interest.

Good Loser
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—"I never felt better," declared Mr. Wendell Willkie to newspapermen late to-night. "I am proud I led this crusade, and I am glad to end this campaign as I entered it—without any ill-will or bitterness toward anybody."

He said he intends to remain in New York for several days, after which he will go on a holiday.

4,000,000 Majority
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's majority on the popular vote had climbed to over 4,000,000 by 4.30 p.m. New York time.

There was no change in the prospective electoral votes.

By 4.45 p.m., 245 Democrats had been elected to the House of Representatives and 140 Republicans had been elected. The Democrats have now picked up 22 seats.

The state of the Senate was 21 Democrats elected, ten Republicans and one progressive.

This is a net turnover of two for the Republicans.

Returns for Governors show that 18 Democrats are elected and ten Republicans, giving a net gain of two for the Democrats.

Mr. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, has telegraphed President Roosevelt pledging the co-operation of his section of American Labour in the execution of the nation's defence programme, in the promotion of national unity and the preservation of peace.

DANGER POINT NO. 2

IN FEVER

Almost as serious as the raging fever, is the serious weakness it leaves behind. It is danger point No. 2 in your illness.

The only way to overcome the weakness is by feeding up. But the stomach is just as weak as the rest of the body, and turns against most foods. There is a food, however, which the exhausted digestion can take easily. It is Horlicks.

Doctors find that Horlicks places no strain on a feeble patient's stomach. Its pleasant flavour stimulates the appetite and it pours in the weakened nerves, muscles, and tissues all the food elements necessary for quick rebuilding. Convalescence is shortened, vitality completely restored. Get Horlicks to-day from your store.

Industrial attracted buyers but gilt-edged stocks were less in the limelight, and Argentine, together with Far Eastern bonds, were stronger.

I shall at once recommend anybody suffering from stomach trouble to take your powder."

MAGAZINE PAGE

This is the third of a special series of articles on the phenomenon of Sleep. The author discusses every aspect of the matter, and tells you how you can derive maximum benefit from your rest hours.

MENTAL TENSION

By D. COMPTON-JAMES

The first step towards mental relaxation is physical relaxation. A person whose mind is occupied with other matters cannot pay proper attention to the task of securing physical relaxation, and if the attention can be switched towards physical relaxation, worries are automatically shelved to some extent.

It is possible that mind and muscle are more closely related than we suspect. It has been scientifically established that a person who thinks far into the night automatically tenses various groups of muscles. Whenever the word "muscle" is used, you must not confine your interpretation to big muscles such as the biceps. For instance, some people clench their teeth when they are thinking. This involves the contraction of a set of muscles, but it is such a minor contraction that many people never notice it.

One school of neurologists has advanced the tentative theory that man thinks with his muscles. There is no need to follow up this theory, but one of the arguments advanced in its favour is the proved point that when the muscles are extremely relaxed, thinking and emotion tend to dwindle and cease.

Thought cannot be turned on and off like the electric light or the radio set, but the human mind does, nevertheless, possess a "thought-switch." Unfortunately, few people know how to operate it. The technique can only be learned by a very gradual reduction in the intensity of thought and emotion.

This process is never very perfect or clear-cut. Mental relaxation has to be learned step by step over a period, and for every person the modus operandi is slightly different. Some fortunate people can turn off the flow of thought almost at will; it is a natural gift with them. Others have to learn the trick of it by patient endeavour.

One very important point should be borne in mind by everybody who experiences difficulty in manipulating their "thought-switch." It is folly to go to bed before you are "ready."

Some people seek to make provision for possible loss of sleep by going to bed early. This is a mistake unless and until the individual can be reasonably certain of going to sleep at once. If he cannot, then going to bed early will only teach him the bad habit of lying awake at night—a habit more easily acquired than cured.

However, this must not be regarded as an argument in favour of staying up late. An early bedtime is always desirable, but poor sleepers need to learn the trick of getting off to sleep at once before they can take advantage of it. You cannot make up for loss of sleep before the loss has been suffered, but you can do so afterwards by going to bed early on the following night.

This brings me to the general question of afternoon naps. I do not recommend them. The siesta is simply a protective device for hot countries; it is designed to restrict physical activity during the heat of the day. The siesta does not necessarily involve going to sleep; it is merely an abatement from labour.

An afternoon nap will certainly militate against the night-sleeping efficiency of people who normally sleep badly. In any case the time spent in afternoon sleep is largely wasted because the rest gained is light in character and possesses little recuperative value. The afternoon sleep should be reserved for emergency use only, and when indulged in, it should be taken in bed. Armchair dozes are never satisfactory.

There are indications that dreaming is a sign of the existence of mental tension. When the mind has been very active just prior to going to sleep, nightmares may result. This process of cause and effect is commonly observed in children, but adults often forget that they are subject to exactly the same natural laws even if their expression and operation are not quite so dramatic. What would produce nightmares in children might merely cause bad dreams for adults. Excessive dreaming should therefore be regarded as an indication that all is not well with the mental state.

There is plenty of evidence that imagination diminishes as relaxation progresses. Dreamless or relatively dreamless sleep is the more restful type, although considerable recuperation is secured by people who dream almost continuously.

The individual who sleeps dreamlessly can obtain full recuperation in about six hours. The dreamer needs eight or nine hours of sleep. There is no doubt that famous "short sleepers" like Napoleon slept heavily and dreamlessly, and were able to do so because of nearly perfect mental relaxation.

Mental activity should be barred in the hour preceding bedtime, and so should any work of a strongly repetitive character. This hour should be spent in some form of relaxation congenial to the individual. In this way the first important step towards mental relaxation is taken before the person goes to bed and the period of lying awake is thereby reduced.

Mental tension at night may proceed from unfamiliar or unidentified noises. There are two anti-sleep factors here. The sense of hearing gradually fades out as one falls asleep. It follows that anyone who is hearing noises cannot possibly expect to go to sleep. The other factor is that these noises produce a state of mental alertness until they can be identified.

Ear-plugs may or may not be useful. Much depends on the temperament of the wearer. To people of the phlegmatic type whose only concern is to minimise the physical effect of night noises, ear-plugs are very useful. But if they are worn by people of the nervous type, these devices merely intensify their mental tension because the wearers are constantly straining their ears to identify the new less-distinguishable sounds.

Ear-plugs have a special value after the subject has gone to sleep in that they diminish sounds that might otherwise wake the subject or at least make him sleep less soundly.

It is very easy to say that it is folly to bother about these noises of the night, but no phobia can be cured by the simple application of logic. In Britain, at the moment, night noises have a special significance and affect millions of people, but it must be remembered that even in ordinary times there are always a number of people who allow themselves to be bothered by noises at night.

The mental tension behind this attention to night noises is a phobia. In England now it is the dramatic and important fear of death; at other times it may merely be a fear of burglars. Whatever the cause of the phobia, it is a personal problem which can only be solved by individuals themselves.

War does not alter any of the great human problems, it merely throws them into sharper relief. English people are fast learning that sooner or later they will have to overcome the fear of death before they can throw off the mental tension that prevents them from going to sleep. Everyone must face this problem sooner or later. The Nazi air raids are merely advancing its incidence for civilians who have hitherto led a sheltered and secure life.

A Day With Britain's Foreign Legion

By A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

In a quiet part of the South-West Coast, where nearby towns and villages have yet to hear the air-raid siren, the "British Foreign Legion" is receiving recruits almost daily.

"British Foreign Legion" was the description given to me by a Birmingham private as he drove an Army lorry through winding lanes and across fields to downland high above the cliffs where the men, spick and span in new battle dress, eagerly awaited a double helping of hot roast beef we were bringing for the mid-day meal.

We were with a training company of the Auxiliary Military Pioneer Corps, consisting of men of every nationality—Russians, Hungarians, Scandinavians, Poles, Lithuanians, Greeks, even Italians, but mostly German and Austrian refugees.

Enjoy Hard Work

They are "aliens" and "enemy aliens," who have chosen to fight for Britain. Many have sacrificed good jobs, some have volunteered, others have been recruited by the Army and have been allowed to leave internment camps to join this vital link in the rapidly growing British Army.

To this camp pour in men with an astonishing variety of occupations—lawyers, doctors, actors, musicians, scientists, ranking high in their professions, now ready to work with their hands building bridges, railways, working on ammunition dumps, paying the way for the armed forces.

They are taught drill and discipline and then after three or four weeks go in self-contained companies under a British sergeant-major.

One Complaint

I asked a group of 40 aliens if they had any complaints, and almost apologetically they asked me to put one forward.

They were anxious that all restrictions should be lifted on their families now they have joined the Army. One man said: "Many of the men are perturbed because their wives will probably not be allowed to leave London even in these raids. It seems ungrateful to grumble after we have been given our freedom, but we understand when we joined the Army that the restrictions on our families would be lifted."

bylines

The human race is a collection of the most marvellous, ingenious and engaging idiots that ever got possession of a noble planet—Walter Lippmann.

But let us not forget that the world's greatest friend is yourself and likewise in yourself you may find the world's strongest foe, because self-confidence and self-reliance will give you all-conquering strength whereas self-abandonment will lead to destruction—Chiang Kai-shek.

No Austrian could be a Nazi twenty-four hours a day; it takes too much energy—Mrs. John Gunther.

Complete independence for the Philippines now probably would mean servitude. They are unable to stand alone amidst the violent forces now loosed in the Far East. If the United States flag descends the result will be a bloody struggle for control—Paul V. McNutt.

Nazi Airmen Attack Rescuers

London, Sept. 9.

When three naval drifters tried to save four German airmen who had baled out from a German bomber over the Channel they were machine-gunned by other German aircraft and forced to give up the attempt.

One of our motor torpedo-boats was also machine-gunned while going to the rescue of crews of other German aircraft, and four of its crew were slightly wounded. The airmen in the water were left to their fate.

Nazi Pilot Gets Two Pints of Jewish Blood

Captured German aviators in need of blood transfusions will get the necessary corpuscles from Jewish donors, if British medics follow the suggestion of an English magazine writer, says a United Press message from London.

Suggesting the method as he kept up a running one-way of treating "arrogant and verbal abuse against the German air personnel," the "Aeroplane" related the following incident:

"A Nazi pilot evidently one of Germany's tough eggs, was brought in after bailing out during a dog fight. He was considerably shot up but showed a super-abundance of arrogance and little of the give and take spirit.

"He spoke excellent English and prisoners of war who need blood all the while he was being stitched transfused."

THE press "special to the Telegraph" is used by the "Hongkong Telegraph" to indicate news which is strictly copyright under the provisions of the Telecommunications Ordinance, 1935. Such news as bears the indication "U.P." is received in Hongkong on the date of publication by the United Press Association, who reserve all rights and forbid republication, either wholly or in part without previous arrangement.

THE EVACUATION BOMBSHELL

NO bigger bombshell could have been dropped in Hongkong than yesterday's official announcement, that, acting upon instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Government has abandoned the compulsory evacuation scheme. It will mean rejoicing for some two or three hundred women who were reluctantly awaiting their turn to be ejected from the Colony; but what of those who so readily answered the original summons and are now in Australia? For they, it seems, must perforce remain parted from their husbands, the Imperial Government refusing to allow the restrictions upon their return to be lifted.

This is going to create an anomaly capable of producing an outcry which will make the protests regarding the original evacuation sound like "half-hearted whispers."

The text of the official announcement is characteristically ambiguous, and for the most part leaves unsaid nearly all those things which should have been said. For example, why precisely has the Imperial Government adopted this sudden volte face? The official communication tries to explain it by observing that the Secretary of State for the Colonies "has been kept fully informed of the situation". What exactly is this full information capable of bringing about the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation? Is it a changed political situation which has presumably rendered the Colony safe? If so, it is just as safe for those who are away to return, as for those who are still here to remain. Or is it because the energetic public protests have finally reached the ears of the Powers in England? If this be the reason it still does not offer a satisfactory answer to the paramount question, if families still in Hongkong can stay, why can't families return? In one part of the communication the Government intimates that the political situation regarding Hongkong is pretty rotten, for it warns that "should the situation further deteriorate", no facilities to leave the Colony can be guaranteed. And it is this precisely which will not worry our women, if their arguments at

"AND what," I said ing of darts, their chess; and waited. From a long distance came the sound of a civilian siren, howling the warning. Then the boom of anti-aircraft guns. "Guns," commented one pilot absently.

The telephone rang again. "Stand by," said the squadron commander. He kept the receiver to his ear, and squinted out of the windows at the weather.

"Yea"—to the instrument—me promise that I positively wouldn't fly to-day."

Again the telephone. "Patrol at 15,000 feet over Blank? Right!" The squadron commander stood up. "Good-bye!" he cried, and was gone.

By F. G. H. Salusbury

The men reminded me so vividly of others in whose company the last war was fought by my generation.

The squadron I was visiting is on the doorstep of London and, since the "blitz" began, it has had very little leisure between dawn and dusk.

Action!

While one will be at "thirty-minutes available," meaning that all pilots must be within thirty minutes of the aerodrome and accessible by telephone, another will be at "fifteen minutes available," and another at "readiness."

Readiness means that the squadron must be off the ground within three minutes, if necessary; and a call may go out at any time bringing all the squadrons to readiness simultaneously.

It was my privilege to see the system in action, but, before that, we had lunch, and, before lunch, some photographs were taken.

This necessitated the donning of Mae Wests—a bulky kind of life-jacket which functions in the event of a pilot, who has baled out, coming down in the sea.

"Oh, sir," one pilot besought the squadron-commander, striking an attitude, "but I would so like to show my badge! Can't I?"

"No, you can't." "Oh, sir!" sighed the other, and proceeded, in mock distress, to cover the squadron badge on his flying overall with Mae West's ample charms.

Then they posed, according to instructions, "all life-like and cheerful."

It was shortly before three o'clock that the telephone rang. The squadron commander answered it, and turned to the men with the words "Brought to readiness."

There was a brisk movement towards Mae Wests and other necessities. Outside, I saw crews running to the machines.

The pilots resumed their seats, their reading, their flick-

recent tribunals have been honest. Hongkong's British women, both here and those evacuated, have long been insisting that they are not afraid to face any dangers so long as they can be with their men. Is the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation scheme a concession to this plea? If it is, there is still no reason why the evacuated women should not be permitted to come back.

Hitherto we have had some sympathy for the Government which, it has claimed, has only been acting upon instructions in effecting compulsory evacuation; but if the new instructions countermanning this scheme are the result of information supplied by the Hongkong authorities, then we suggest that this information has been hopelessly inadequate; otherwise we should never have had the situation where those who evaded evacuation originally are to be officially protected at the expense of those who so faithfully carried out instructions.

And the Government might well bear in mind that in this case it is the majority which is going to suffer; an intolerable state of affairs. We shall expect to see a further revision of these Home-side instructions in the near future which will permit the return of our evacuees.

SPITFIRE PATROL

that I was silently calling down post, whence the ground de- all the luck at my disposal on fences are controlled. London waited. We waited.

Back for Tea

Eventually we returned to the mess, and, on our heels, the squadron came swooping down to home and tea.

It had been a quiet patrol, for once. Not a bandit—as they call the Germans—had been encountered.

Out of some technical talk round the tea table, and some domestic comments by the squadron commander, there floated a passionate protest by the pilot who had wanted to show his badge to the photographer.

He was slightly more sinister in appearance than he had been before, for his goggles had given him two lovely black eyes.

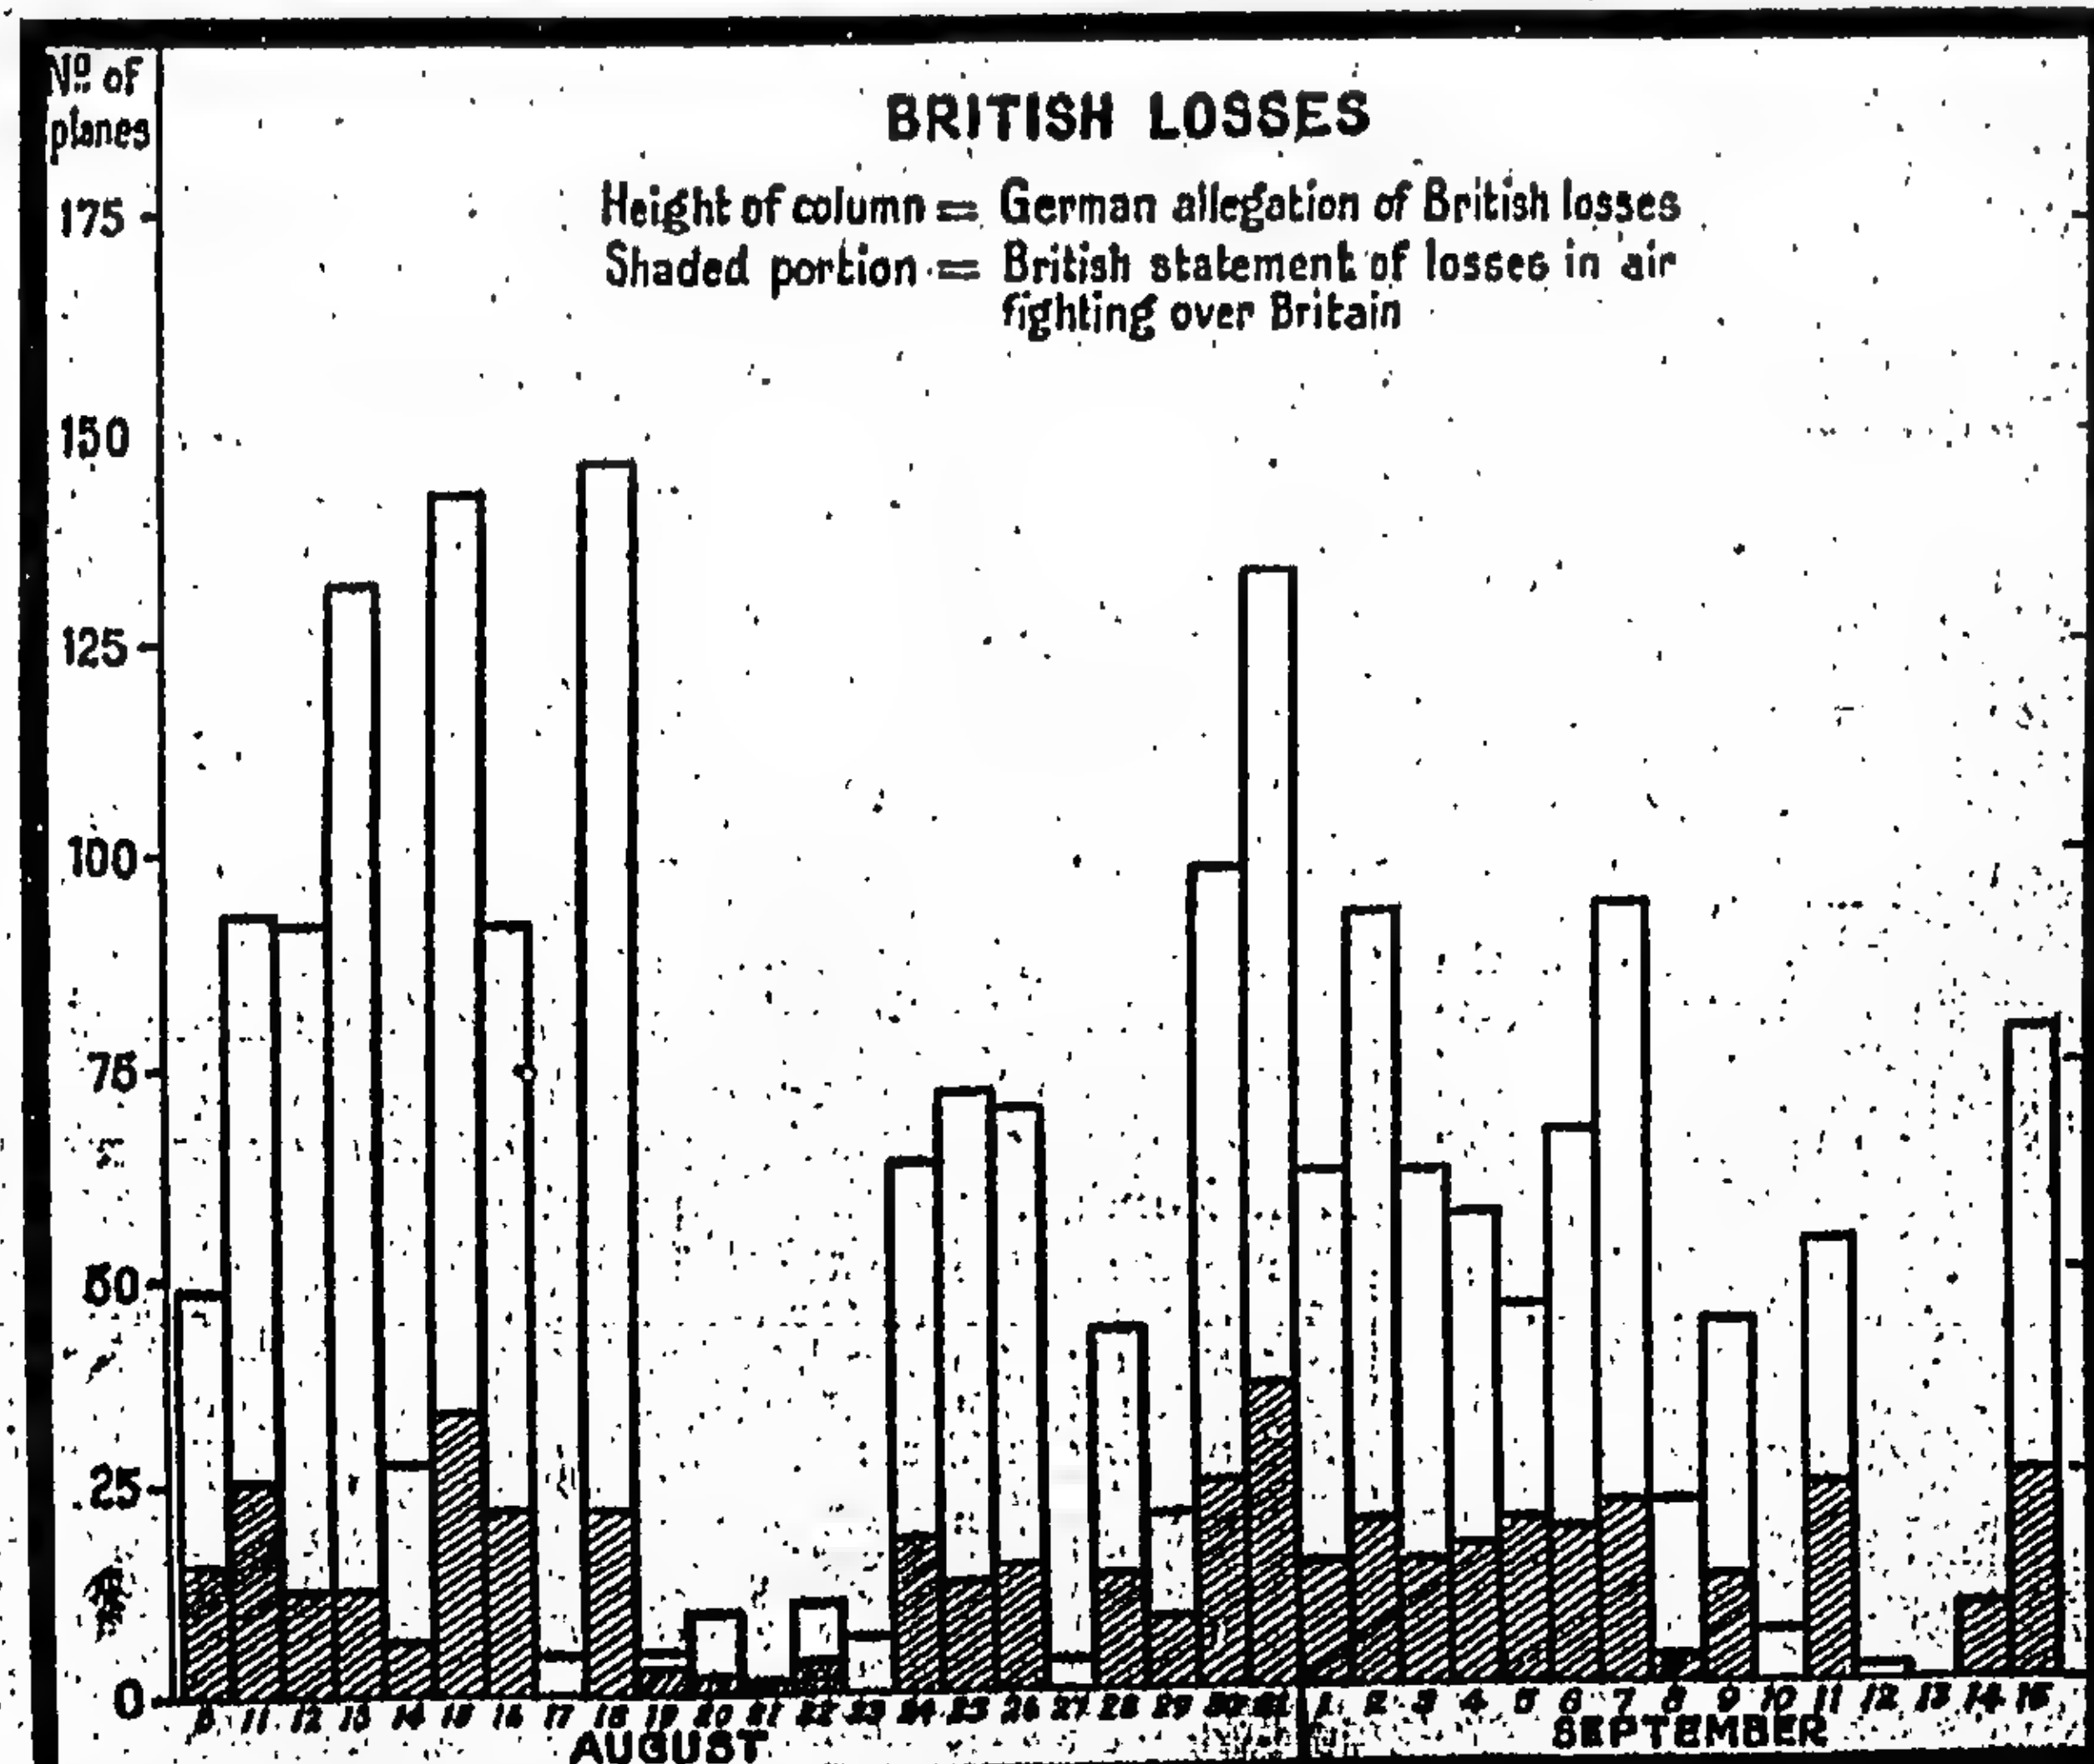

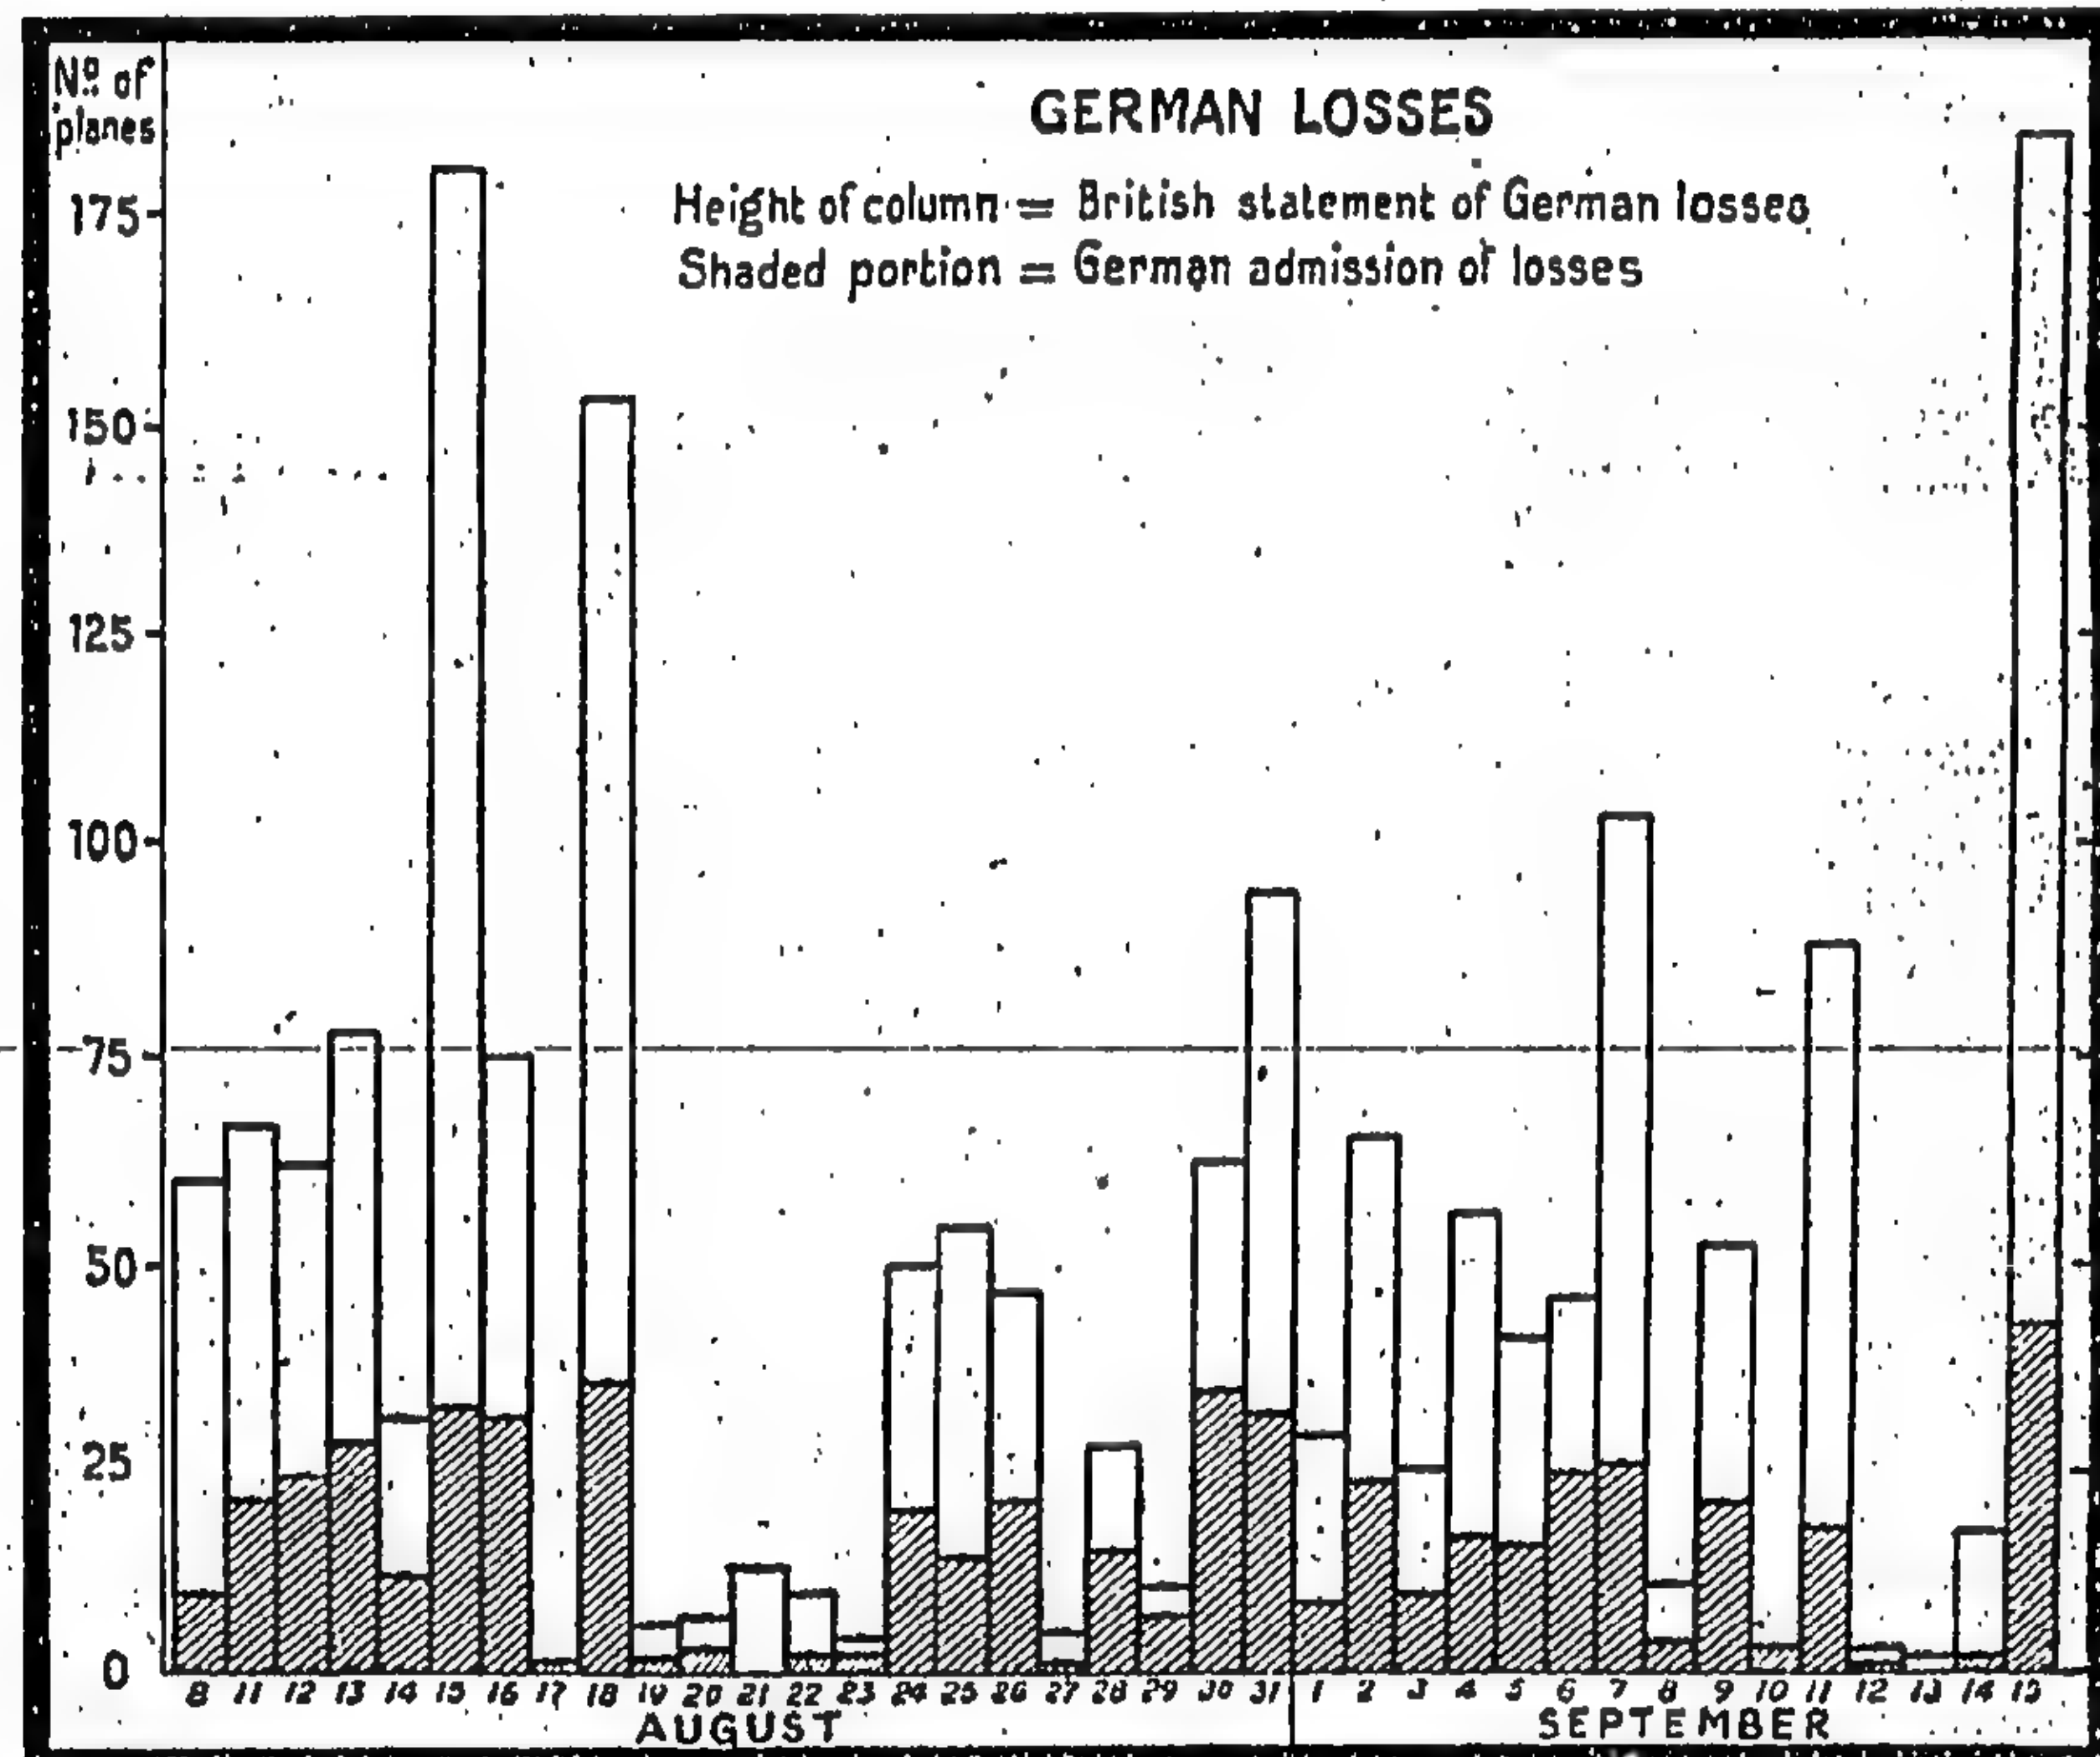

"These flies are appalling!" he said, spreading honey on his bread. "It's fantastic where they come from."

"Ah, yes," said the intelligence officer, "you're haunted by flies, aren't you?"

"Haunted my foot! It's no laughing matter," the pilot protested—and he really seemed a little nervous—"they're infectious things; flies are. They're damned dangerous things!"

And that, I take leave to suggest, is as good an example as you will find of ability to pre-serve one's sense of proportion in war time.

Club Win Mid-week Game From Police

Club 3 Police 1

CLUB experienced little difficulty in defeating the Police on their home ground at King's Park last Tuesday.

In mid-field the visitors enjoyed quite as much of the play as the winners, but there could be no denying that Club were far more skilful in attack.

Particularly was this so on the wings where Smith and Patterson were more dangerous when they got possession.

Two good goals were scored by E. Fowler and D. Smith before the change-over. The former cleverly beat Parker and then Man Singh to flick the ball past Rothwell.

The latter, soon after, followed suit with a cross-drive from the edge of the circle.

Then during the whole of the second half, Club peppered the opposing defence until Patterson scored the final goal.

DEFENSIVE GAME

POLICE, though being on the defensive for three-quarters of the game, made one final attempt during the final two minutes, and from a pass off Wall, Teja Singh reduced the deficit. Benwell ran out to hit clear, but before he reached back was bidden in his attempt to recover.

Club were best served in defence by Thompson, left back, and N. Whitely, left half.

For Police, the two backs Man Singh and Hayward, and Gough at centre-half, played well. Wall was the best of a moderate forward line.

Due to the weakness of Police, it is interesting to note that no corners were forced by the visitors during the game.

CHINESE REFUGEES

Position Of Inmates In Camps

Figures of refugees and destitutes accommodated in the Hongkong Government camps supplied to the Press by the Medical Authorities show that between October 28 and November 2 an increase of two persons was shown in the camps. The total for October 28 was 10,875, while those of November 2 stood at 10,877. Figures for November 2 were given below with those for October 28 in brackets:

King's Park 1,304 (1,295); Matung-chung 1,502 (1,503); North Point 1,384 (1,387); Morrison Hill 639 (641); Tai Hang Squatters Camp 2,537 (2,491); Ngau Tau Kok Squatters Camp 708 (708); Kam Tin 1,970 (2,070).

Soldiers—Argyle Street 708 (708); in hospital 15 (10).

There was little difference between the programmes but the principles set out by Hertzog were milder and less specific on most points. That separation from the B. Ash Commonwealth was not suited for South Africa must be established on a clear mandate from the people and not by mere parliamentary majority, was one point. Hertzog's programme also would allow Non-Republicans in the Party.

The Council's programme provided for the revision of the Simonstown naval agreement and recognition of only one National Anthem—the Afrikaan anthem.

The Simonstown naval agreement placed this South African base at the disposal of Great Britain during hostilities.

General Hertzog announced at the opening of the Congress that he sought a vote of confidence and if it was not forthcoming, he would resign forthwith.

When the programme of the Federal Council was carried by a large majority, General Hertzog asked why the clause in his programme providing for equal rights for English and Afrikaan-speaking people, which had always appeared in the old Nationalist Party Constitution, was not embodied in the programme adopted.

The programme guaranteed the English section only "language and cultural rights." This in practice meant that no English-speaking person could, for example, become leader of the Party.

Afrikaan Equality

General Hertzog recalled that when he resigned the premiership during the crisis on the outbreak of war, he stated specifically that he would not be a member of a Party which did not guarantee absolute equality between the English and Afrikaans sections. He said the proposed course would possibly lead the Afrikaans to their doom and asked how on this basis could it be expected that the tens of thousands of Afrikaans supporting General Jan Smuts would be won over apart from the English-speaking section.

THE FREE STATE CONGRESS of the Re-United Party met in committee to-day to consider two draft programmes of principles for the Party.

One programme was submitted by General Hertzog, leader of the Party, and the other by the joint acting Federal Council.

There was little difference between the programmes but the principles set out by Hertzog were milder and less specific on most points. That separation from the B. Ash Commonwealth was not suited for South Africa must be established on a clear mandate from the people and not by mere parliamentary majority, was one point. N. W. FRONTIER LOYAL TO GREAT BRITAIN

PESHAWAR, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Loyalty of the North-West frontier tribes to Britain is expressed in a message to the Frontier Government from representative elders and retired army officers of all Afridi sections.

The message, in announcing the decision to help the British Government during the present war, declares that Hitlerism and Fascism "have a foul design against Islamic countries."

Suggestions For Local Umpires

Concerning Corners And Free-hits: Tricks Of Certain Players

WITH THE Hongkong Hockey Association Tournament now in progress, it may not be amiss to put forward a few suggestions for the assistance of local Umpires. These must not be taken as in any way a criticism of present umpires, but rather it is hoped that they may prove of assistance some time.

The first to be dealt with are the corners, long and short. The long corner is when a player of the attacking side shall have a free hit from a spot on the defenders' goal-line, or on the sideline, within three yards of the corner flag near the point where ball crossed the goal-line.

The short corner is when a free-hit may be taken from any spot on the defenders' goal-line on either side of the goal, but not within ten yards of the goal-mouth.

An umpire must penalise any shot at goal if he considers that the corner hit was not sufficiently stopped, excepting, of course, in the case where a defender has touched the ball prior to the shot at goal being taken. A corner hit is a free hit, and, therefore, no other player may be within five yards of the ball when it is hit.

It is also unnecessary to state that a player taking a flying hit without making any attempt to stop the ball is to be penalised. A flying hit which misses the ball should also be penalised, as the intention of the player is obvious.

Be On Guard

THE striker at a corner hit must allow time for the defenders to get behind their goal-line. See that he does not take more than three yards from the corner flag when he places the ball.

Keep the defenders behind the goal-line until the ball has actually been hit, but if the hit has been really well directed to an attacker who is waiting to stop it, and the attacking side have time to get in a shot unhindered, it would be a mistake to deprive them of the advantage of a well-placed corner by sending the defence back, because it had come out slightly too early.

This is very hard to determine, and unless you are absolutely certain that the attackers will benefit by your remaining silent, you should cause the corner to be re-taken. But remember that this is sometimes an occasion when the "advantage" rule may be brought into play for the benefit of the attacking side.

Suggestions To Help

It would not be far wrong to allow a shot to score, if, in your opinion, the ball would not have gone more than one foot from the place where the attempt to stop it was made.

As a general guide, the words "not necessarily motionless" may be taken to mean that the attempt to stop the ball has been successful if it comes to rest within a very short distance and it been allowed to run on till it stopped by itself.

If a player, in attempting to stop the ball, has not been sufficiently successful and the ball goes on to another player of his own side, this other player in his turn has got to make a successful attempt before a legitimate shot can be taken, but see that Rule 10 (c) has not been contravened.

When a short corner hit has been taken, some players think that the ball must be stopped (not necessarily motionless) within the circle. This is correct, provided that the ball is stopped in accordance with the rule before a shot at goal is taken.

It doesn't matter where the stopping of the ball takes place, though no player may stand within five yards of the ball when it is hit.

Some rely on the stick for stopping, and the umpire must be sure that the stopping complies with the rule before a shot is taken. If the ball has been merely deflected or pushed past an opponent, it cannot be said to have been sufficiently stopped.

It is not an attempt within the meaning of the rule when a player completely misses or just touches the ball and deflects it to another of his own side.

Do not allow a striker at a corner to make a pretence of hitting the ball, and thereby cause the defence to run out. Some do this deliberately and then take the hit before the defence have got back behind their goal-line and who are, consequently, not fully prepared.

Finally, watch a player taking a hit for off-side immediately following a corner; his position near the goal-line makes him particularly prone to it.

Time is not allowed to be extended to allow a penalty corner or a corner to be taken.

To Represent The K.C.C.

The following K.C.C. cricket teams have been chosen for Saturday's matches.

1st XI v H.K.C.C. at home: E. C. Fincher (capt.), N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. R. Zimmerman, D. Hume, W. L. Ropley, B. D. Lay, B. C. Broadbridge and T. A. Madar.

2nd XI v Police away: S. A. Gray (capt.), E. C. Fincher, N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. R. Zimmerman, D. Hume, W. L. Ropley, B. D. Lay, B. C. Broadbridge and T. A. Madar.

The 2nd XI versus the H.K.C.C. at home on Monday starting at 11 a.m., will be: S. A. Gray (capt.), R. Baldwin, E. Curtis, H. Brokenshire, L. R. Burch, K. M. Baxter, Major W. Parsons, G. A. Goodban, J. A. J. Simpson, F. Crabb and J. W. Bertram.

RANDOM JOTTINGS

UMPIRES approached me recently with regard to illegal sticks.

The rule referring to sticks is quite clear, viz.—the blade shall not be edged with, nor have any insert or fittings of metal, nor shall there be any sharp edges or dangerous splinters. The total weight of the stick shall not exceed 28 ounces, and shall be of such a size (inclusive of any surgical binding) that it can be passed through a ring with an internal diameter of two inches.

In my opinion, umpires should purchase a two-inch metal ring for the purpose of testing certain doubtful hockey-sticks. It is presumed that every stick before it leaves the factory is properly tested.

An umpire should have no hesitation in refusing to allow any player to continue to use such a stick in a match if found contrary to the rules.

I WAS glad to see the grand reunion of the Police team last Sunday. Coxswain Hayward made a welcome return after a season's lapse. He played a good game and looked quite a lad with his whiskers and mustache, but his head gear and lead bangle were missing!

With A. S. P. Luscombe taking such an interest in the game, the Guardians of the Law are going to have a big say in the Tournament this year.

C.B.A. led by F. R. Kermani, brother of Sam, the well-known Shanghai cricketer, did very well against the full Kumaon Regimental team last Sunday, losing by 2-1.

The all-important goal, I hear, was caused through D. S. Blake, at right half. He, unfortunately, tackled the speed demon Partauba on the wrong side, the advantage rule was justly applied and then Partauba made no mistake with the winning goal.

Although he is still new to the game, Blake will be well advised to make more use of the reverse stick in the future.

TWO women's teams fielded completed sides in friendly fixtures at King's Park last Saturday. It is about time the H.K.L.H.A. made a move to organise a League or a knock-out tournament as some of these games the women indulge in at present are becoming too friendly.

With five or six teams still in the Colony, an eight or nine-a-side League, 25 minutes each way, could be arranged with home and away games.

It was unfortunate that the 5th A.A. "B" v. Police "B" match was cancelled last Sunday without ample notification. The umpires, I believe, made their way to Lyemun and were disappointed.

Club Secretaries should bear in mind that 24 hours notice must be given to the Secretary of the Umpires Association before a match can be

Tournament Matches

A.N. Other XI Overwhelmed By Police

Police 5 A.N. Other XI 0

THE H.K.H.A. Tournament commenced last Sunday, and on their home ground at Boundary Street, Police won their match against A. N. Other XI in a canter.

Once the home team had realised the perils of the slippery pitch, they settled down to make first round progress as convincingly as the score of 5-0 suggests.

There was only one side in it from beginning to end, and though the Others were playing one short throughout they had to thank Benwell, in goal, for a brilliant display, which saved the visitors from complete rout.

The Club and "V" goal-keeper had a dry out, as saved some shots that looked certain scores; two, in particular, from Teja Singh and Parker being examples of first-class goal-keeping.

It was he Police attack against the Others' defence all the time.

Jesbir Singh gave the Police the lead after 20 minutes play, and Howlett added another before the interval.

Further goals in the second half were scored by Teja Singh, Jesbir Singh and Howlett.

FINE COMBINATION

THE strength of the Police lay in their attack where the forwards, led by Jesbir Singh, combined very well indeed. No special mention can be made of the halves, Leslie, Gough and Hayward, who were hard-working, but Man Singh, at right back, was a tower of strength.

The Others, without the services of Thompson at full back, played under a tremendous handicap, but Jordan and Gunner gave their best.

The outstanding player, however, was Waldron at centre-half, who time and again was responsible for breaking up many a dangerous raid.

Gernell, at inside-right, was the only forward who showed any enterprise in a very disjointed attack.

Well beaten by a superior side, the visitors put up a game fight until the end.

Nomads Deservedly Beat Khalsa

Nomads 3 Khalsa 0

ON THE Police ground last Sunday, Nomads adapted themselves to the conditions by making full use of their wings and ran out worthy winners against the Khalsa 3-0.

Play was even for the first 15 minutes, but after forcing a second short corner, R. J. Reed opened the scoring for Nomads. The lead was kept until the interval.

The ground, due to the drizzle in the first half, became sticky, causing players to lose their balance at critical times. In spite of this, some good hockey was served up, and from a centre from the right wing, Peter Rull, the left inner, converted with a terrific drive.

Ten minutes from the end, B. Xavier cut through on the left past Bugh Singh to score a smart goal.

FAST ATTACK

NOMADS' attack, though displaying little stick-work, moved with precision and speed. Peter Rull, in particular, took a great deal of holding. For this, however, they had to thank their hard-working halves, Gubbay and R. J. Reed, who once again profited by employing through passes on a slippery ground.

Credit must also be paid to the backs, R. Xavier and H. Soares, for their rapid tackling and fine clearances.

The youthful Nomads owed their success to their team-work, and playing with great spirit, Khalsa could not cope with them.

HALVES FAIL

IT was no day for hesitancy in regard to defensive tactics, but the Khalsa wing halves failed time and again in the most abject manner to get the ball clear of their "25" yard-line, and they paid the full penalty.

M. H. Hassan, centre half, was the best of the defenders, but his efforts were wasted in backing a slow set of forwards. Pyara Singh, displaying some fine stick-work as leader of the attack, was rather a "lone wolf".

He received very poor support from his inside men. Karminder Singh, right wing, was not his usual self either.

Khalsa will be without the services of G. Singh for quite a while and will have to make drastic changes should they hope to impress under their present name.

CLUB "A" DEFEAT R. SCOTS 10-6

(By "Fly-half")

TWO FAIRLY STRONG teams met on the Club ground yesterday evening in a keen game of rugby football. Club "A," fielding several of their 1st XV players and Wright-Nooth, of Police, triumphed through superior kicking over the Royal Scots by 10 points (two goals) to 6 (two tries).

Aitkenhead, with his splendid kicking, should prove a match winner for Club this season for it was he who converted both of Club's tries yesterday.

The big Royal Scots' forwards, with Millar, Pinkerton and Hunter to the fore, made several fierce rushes to the Club line, and with more luck might have scored more than one try off their own efforts.

An ankle injury to Gracie, the Scots' scrum-half, deprived the military team of a man for the major portion of the second half. Up to the time of his injury, Gracie had been doing a lot of useful and hard work at the base of the scrum.

Ford, at stand-off, was quick off the mark, and well up in defence. He intercepted well to score his side's first try.

Douglas was the mainstay of the three-quarters, where he was well supported by Garrie.

CLUB PERFORMERS

PECORINI, at full back for Club, played a useful game. He requires

called off. Failing this the decision with regard to the state of the ground, etc., must be left entirely to the umpires appointed. Should the umpires declare the ground unfit for play at the time fixed, only then shall the match be cancelled.

TWO Club players who will not be seen in action for quite a few weeks are E. V. Reed and D. Taylor. The former is suffering from a badly sprained ankle and the latter is in hospital with malaria.

A little more practice with his touch kicking, which he performs with either foot, and he must learn to tackle properly for his own sake if for no other. An unorthodox head-on tackle by him of Millar was effective, but resulted in his having to leave the field for a few minutes, having been stunned.

Wilson showed a fine turn of speed when he accepted a hard pass from Aitkenhead to score Club's second try.

Day and Aitkenhead were hard workers who were too well marked to break through with effect. Wright-Nooth and Godfrey were prominent in the loose for the Club at forward, while Heaman and Dalziel were hard workers.

THE GAME

A SMART interception by Ford in full flight near the Club line led to the Scots' first try which was scored by the same player. The attempt to convert failed.

In a loose rush in which Club backs and forwards participated, the ball was taken to the Army line where Day was obstructed and a penalty try was given. The kick taken in front of the posts was converted by Aitkenhead.

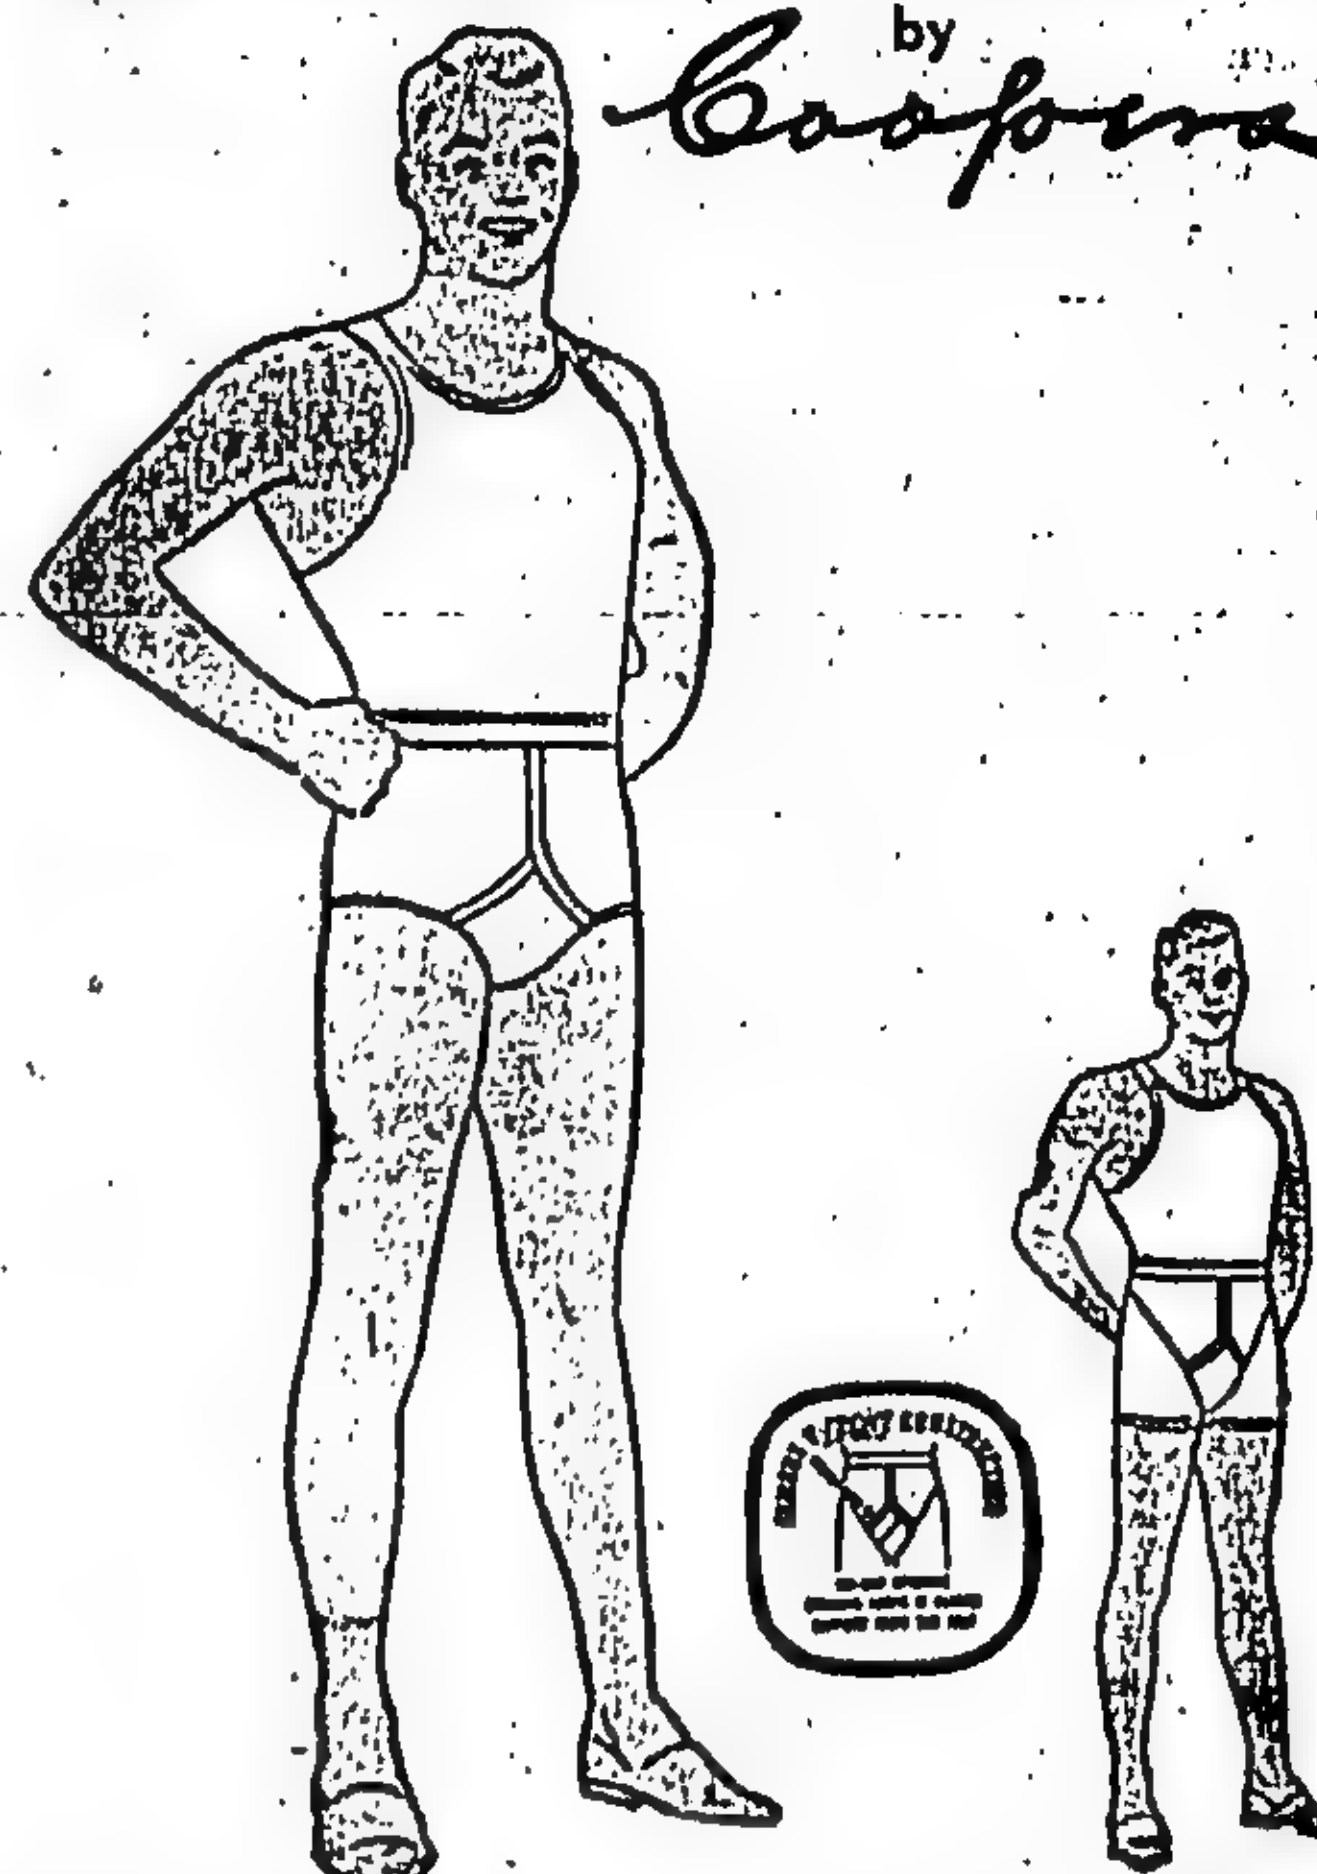

Aitkenhead then broke through to pass to Wilson, who cut in to receive the ball at full speed to pass the full back and score. Aitkenhead again converted.

Back at the other end from a scrum, the Scots wheeled and Millar carried on to score an unconverted try.

Time And Tide

Here come The Twins at last, unpunctual and charming as ever. Too late to offer them tea, of course, with the hands of the cabin chronometer standing at an uncomplimentary six-fifteen. And so the visit will develop once again into an informal cocktail party — as The Twins have quite possibly foreseen. Luckily there is still a shot or two of gin in the cabin locker, and a tall bottle of Rose's Lime Juice in a cunningly constructed rack. The Twins are quite firm about this gin and lime. They know it helps to keep those slender graceful figure lines which appeal to suchmen like some shapely beauty from the yard of a master-builder. The yachting world bestows no higher praise. And never by any chance can there be the faintest trace of a headache after Rose's, an important point for young ladies as popular as these unpunctual Twins.

LETTERS

Evacuation Appeals

To the Editor,
The "Hongkong Telegraph."

Sir,—I send you herewith copies of correspondence regarding the appeal on behalf of my wife which was heard on Saturday, 2nd November, in view of the publicity given to the statement made by the Secretary to the Advisory Committee regarding my inability to support my wife, I shall be obliged if you will publish these letters in full.

The "apology" submitted on behalf of the members of the Committee and at once withdrawn by their Secretary, bears the hall-mark with which we are all becoming so familiar these days.

C. B. S. THOMSON.
4th November, 1940.

The Chairman,
The Evacuation Advisory Committee,
Colonial Secretariat,
Hongkong.

Sir,—On Saturday last, during the hearing of the appeal lodged on behalf of my wife, the Secretary to your Committee in his preliminary summary of the evidence stated—
"On 2nd August last a letter was received from Messrs. John Stokes & Master, Solicitors, applying for permission for Mrs. Thomson to return on the grounds that you were unable to support her in Australia and yourself here."
This was the complete reference made to that letter.

As you are well aware at no time during the hearing did I mention the question of maintenance of my wife, but unfortunately the above statement was given wide publicity in the Press as my main submission to your Committee, and was in some cases attributed to me.

The letter in question is as follows:—
"The Honourable The Colonial Secretary.

"Sir,—We are instructed by our client, Mr. G. B. Thomson, the accountant of the Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co. Ltd., to write to you and ascertain whether there is any objection to his wife returning to the Colony."

"When the instructions of the Government were originally given for the evacuation, our client arranged for his wife to proceed privately to Australia and she left on the 5th ult. and is at the present time in Sydney. As he continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff he would, if it were possible, be glad if she could return to the Colony and, as we have mentioned, he would be glad to know if there is any objection to her doing so."

"We may add, as far as help to be given here is concerned, she is the holder of an A.R.P. Warden's Certificate which she obtained in London."

"We have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servants,
(Sd.) "JOHNSON STOKES & MASTER."

I cannot see how it was possible to construe this letter as was done by your Committee.

You will appreciate that a Press statement to the effect that I am unable to support my wife in Australia is greatly resented by me, and I must request some explanation for this gross misrepresentation of fact. I shall be obliged if you will favour me with an early reply.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd.) G. B. S. THOMSON,
Colonial Secretary's Office,
Hongkong.

Sir,—The Chairman of the Evacuation Advisory Committee has asked me to reply to your letter of 4th November.

In preparing the notes on your case, I assumed that the words "As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff" which were used by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master in their letter of 2nd August, were intended to imply that your appeal was based on financial grounds.

If my remarks, which expressed this assumption, were incorrect, you were quite at liberty to contradict them. I presume that since no contradiction was forthcoming the Press reporters assumed that you accepted my implication.

I must assure you that the Committee has made every effort to avoid embarrassing members of the public who have appeared before it and that this particular misunderstanding is regretted by all the members. At the same time I do not feel justified in accepting responsibility for an interpretation of a letter written on your behalf which you let pass without question or comment.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
(Sd.) C. BRAMWELL BURGESS,
Secretary,
Evacuation Advisory Committee.

Sir,—I am indeed astonished that you permit your newspaper to feature

Shooting Affair At North Point

A Chinese boatman attached to the Chinese Recreation Club at North Point was found in the club's offices yesterday dead from gunshot wounds. A revolver was found by his side.

Police later discovered that the revolver belonged to a Chinese revenue officer who had left it in his locker before going for a swim.

Police said that deceased must have taken the revolver and used a key to open the locker and take out the weapon.

such arrant nonsense as the article which appeared under the above caption in your issue of yesterday evening.

When will non-Catholics realize that His Holiness is Head of the Roman Catholic Church, only insofar as the spiritual welfare of its members is involved, and that he has no more control or direction over their political opinions as, say, the Begum of Bhopal.

The innuendo contained in the article is subtle, but Catholics the world over—irrespective of their race or political belief, know that the priest comes before the man and that whether the percentage of Italians in the College of Cardinals be large or small, the function of that body is in no way altered.

Its function is Spiritual only.

Refutes Argument
Sir,—In the final edition of yesterday's paper there appeared an article under the heading "The Pope Can Take It." I wish to refute the arguments set down by the Rev. W. Rowland Jones.

The Rev. Jones asks why the Pope has not forbidden every Catholic to stop fighting and cease assisting in any way the immoral objects of the Pagan Leaders of the Dictator countries. It is because the Church is a spiritual power. Since a man is governed by two powers essentially distinct, the temporal power which has reference to the civil order, and the spiritual power which regulates whatever concerns religion, Christ Himself said, "My kingdom is not of this world." This sets the Church above all notions.

Mr. Jones has also said that the Catholic Church is not universal at all but Italian, and that it is the expression of one nationality. This is not true. The Church is truly universal, when she refuses to take sides for, if the Pope were to do as Mr. Jones suggests he might be accused of being pro-English. The Church is above warring factions and the Pope, Christ's representative on earth, is the Prince of Peace.

Pittman, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, at Nevada by a majority of about 6,000.

New Deal Strength
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP)—President Roosevelt's electoral college vote has increased steadily while the latest returns forecast increased strength for the New Deal in both houses of Congress.

The returns give the President conclusively 25 States, with 348 electoral votes and he is leading in 18 other States with 124 electoral votes. Mr. Willkie is assured of five States with 28 electoral votes and is ahead in three States possessing 31 electoral votes.

At 3 p.m. to-day the Democrats also clinched control of the House of Representatives and it seems certain they will increase their present majority of 41. The Democrats have conclusively won 218 and the Republicans 100 seats, the Democrats having increased their House majority by at least 10 seats, according to a "United Press" survey.

Altogether 4 incumbent Republicans have been ousted, while four seats have been lost by the Democrats.

Gubernatorial Elections
NEW YORK, 6 (UP)—The gubernatorial elections in 33 States have apparently changed the ratio of State control very little.

Incomplete returns show that 30 Democratic and 13 Republican governors have been elected.

Enemy Planes Down

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Further reports show that four enemy aircraft were destroyed in attacks on this country to-day. Four of our fighters have been lost and the pilot of one is safe.

An enemy bomber was destroyed on Tuesday night. A Dornier flying boat was destroyed off Brest this morning when escorting ships.

In addition an enemy bomber was destroyed after midnight, making a total of six.

Britain & Soviet Matter

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The British Government has requisitioned 24 ships of Latvian, Estonian and Lithuanian nationality and hopes to reach some agreement with the Soviet Government on this complicated and technical matter.

Willkie Sends Congratulations

Roosevelt's majority became apparent by the time New Yorkers reached their offices at 9 a.m. when the President's third term was ratified by 37 States with 437 electoral votes.

Mr. Wendell Willkie was credited with 11 States and 94 votes. The popular vote at that hour was President Roosevelt, 21,255,000; Mr. Willkie, 17,740,000.

In Conference
HYDE PARK, N.Y., Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt conferred with Mr. Cordell Hull by telephone this morning on international affairs. The President plans to return to Washington to-morrow.

Willkie's Statement

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—In a striking statement broadcast from New York to-day, Mr. Wendell Willkie, after finally admitting defeat, said: "I accept the result of the election with complete goodwill. Popular vote shows the vitality of our democratic principles."

Thanking his Republican supporters, he added: "I know they will continue as I shall to work for the unity of our people in the completion of our defense, in sending aid to Britain and in insisting on the removal of antagonism in America—all to the end that the governments of free men shall continue and may again spread throughout Europe."

President Roosevelt, a unique third-term president, faces the most critical period in American history, not only with a resounding victory behind him and an overwhelmingly favorable Congress to aid him but with the assured support of the defeated Republican Party in all matters of vital national interest.

Good Loser
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP)—"I never felt better," declared Mr. Wendell Willkie to newspapermen late to-night. "I am proud I led this crusade, and I am glad to end this campaign as I entered it—without any ill-will or bitterness toward anybody."

He said he intends to remain in New York for several days, after which he will go on a holiday.

4,000,000 Majority
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's majority on the popular vote had climbed to over 4,000,000 by 4.30 p.m. New York time.

There was no change in the prospective electoral votes. By 4.45 p.m. 245 Democrats had been elected to the House of Representatives and 140 Republicans had been elected. The Democrats have now picked up 22 seats.

The state of the Senate was 21 Democrats elected, ten Republicans and one progressive.

This is a net turnover of two for the Republicans. Returns for Governors show that 10 Democrats are elected and ten Republicans, giving a net gain of two for the Democrats.

Mr. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, has telegraphed President Roosevelt pledging the co-operation of his section of American Labour in the execution of the nation's defence programme, in the promotion of national unity and the preservation of peace.

Wins Home State
ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 6 (UP).—President Roosevelt won his home state's 47 electoral votes according to the returns from all but one of the 9,322 precincts.

Polls More Than Landon
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—President Roosevelt has won or is leading in 39 States with 408 electoral votes while Mr. Willkie has won, or is leading, in nine States with 63 electoral votes.

At 3.30 p.m. (EST) the popular vote according to a United Press tabulation was: Roosevelt 23,167,085; Willkie 19,337,000 (This is more than Landon's vote)

PATROLS ANNOY ARMY OF GRAZIANI IN NORTH AFRICA

CAIRO, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Enemy patrols south-east of Sidi Barrani were successfully engaged by our artillery on Tuesday and forced to withdraw, says a B.H.Q. communique.

British mechanized patrols have again been active in the Kassala sector in the Sudan, where casualties were inflicted on a party of the enemy who hastily withdrew without returning our fire.

The communique adds: "In Kenya and Palestine there is nothing to report."

GREEKS CLAIM MORE AND MORE SUCCESSES ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

SALONIKA, NOV. 6. (UP).—GREEK GOVERNMENT QUARTERS TO-DAY TOLD THE "UNITED PRESS" THAT NOT ONE ITALIAN SOLDIER, EXCEPTING PRISONERS, IS NOW ON GREEK SOIL, FOLLOWING THE GREEK COUNTER-ATTACK ALONG THE WHOLE BATTLE LINE.

THEY ADDED THAT MANY OF THE ITALIAN PRISONERS TAKEN ARE ASKARIS. IT IS OFFICIALLY CLAIMED THAT THE GREEK FORCES HAVE GONE 21 MILES INTO ALBANIA WHERE THEY HAVE REACHED KORITZA.

Pressure Increases

BITOLJ, Nov. 6. (UP).—Frontier reports state that fighting on the Korca front is becoming more intense with the Greek pressure on land increasing and Italian aerial action almost continuous.

Greek forces operating in the Morova mountains have now occupied positions to the south of Plajasa village on the main road to Korca about ten kilometres northeast of Korca.

The Italians, meanwhile, are defending this road apparently determined at all costs to try and recapture lost ground.

One division of Italian Bersaglieri is reported to have suffered such heavy casualties that replacements are required.

Italian bombing planes are reported to be harassing Greek communication lines south of Lake Prespa and the Bistrita-Florina road. Heavy detonations are audible all along the frontier, signifying the use of high explosive bombs.

Three bombs fell near a Yugoslavian Customs house on the frontier and the shore of Lake Prespa. Frontiers continue to be subjected to heavy bombings, Italian planes usually in waves of three, raining heavy explosives on the city including heavy damage, according to reports reaching Bitolj.

Greeks Consolidate
SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
OHRI, Nov. 6 (UP).—After they had consolidated their positions beyond Bistrita, the Greeks are reported to have attacked throughout the night and resumed their advance on the Bistrita-Korca Road, capturing the bridge across the Dovolj River.

400 Japanese Leave Britain

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
GALWAY, Nov. 6 (UP).—The Japanese liner Fushima Maru left for Japan to-day with a total of 400 Japanese residents of Britain, including members of the crew. The vessel is proceeding via Bermuda instead of New York as originally intended.

The majority of passengers said they had left Britain because business was so bad. Many of them still carried their tin hats.

Consul General Evacuates
LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Japanese Consul General, Fushima Maru, sent to Galway to evacuate Japanese, sailed to-day with 400 persons aboard, including passengers and crew.

The reason given by many passengers for leaving was the bad state of business.

The passengers included the Japanese Consul-General in London.

Nazis Lose 6 Planes In Raids on Britain

Special to the "Telegraph"

LONDON, Nov. 6 (UP).—Six German planes were brought down to-day, including four daylight raiders, according to the Air Ministry communiqué.

One German bomber was destroyed in the darkness just after midnight, and one Dornier flying boat was shot down by a coastal command. Four British fighters were lost to-day, the pilot of one flying safe.

Italian Regiments Trapped By Greeks

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

BITOLJ, Nov. 6 (UP).—Frontier reports say the Greeks have surrounded from three to five Italian regiments which broke through the Greek lines on the Janina front during the first few days of the war and are now attempting to force them to surrender.

Roosevelt's New Plans

Unification Of Labour

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
HYDE PARK, Nov. 6 (UP).—Heading the United States into four more years of New Deal, President Roosevelt to-day indicated that unification of organised labour may be the first objective of his third term.

The President acknowledged Mr. Wendell Willkie's telegram of congratulation.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for your message of congratulation. I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness which I heartily reciprocate," the President said.

The Chief Executive is now preparing to proceed to Washington to resume his duties.

Peace Offensive?

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Domel).—Informed political quarters point out that after his re-election for the third term, President Roosevelt will further accelerate the armament programme for aiding Britain, and defending the Western Hemisphere.

These quarters believe it likely that upon further progress in the armament programme, the President will make proposals for calling a peace conference or a disarmament parley in accordance with prevailing international conditions.

Yugo-Slavia Raid Alarms

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

BITOLJ, Nov. 6 (UP).—There were two air raid alarms this morning, one at 10.20 and the other at 11.10, lasting 25 minutes each; however, no foreign planes crossed the frontier.

The alarms constituted a form of practice under the new watchful measures which were instituted as a result of yesterday's bombings.

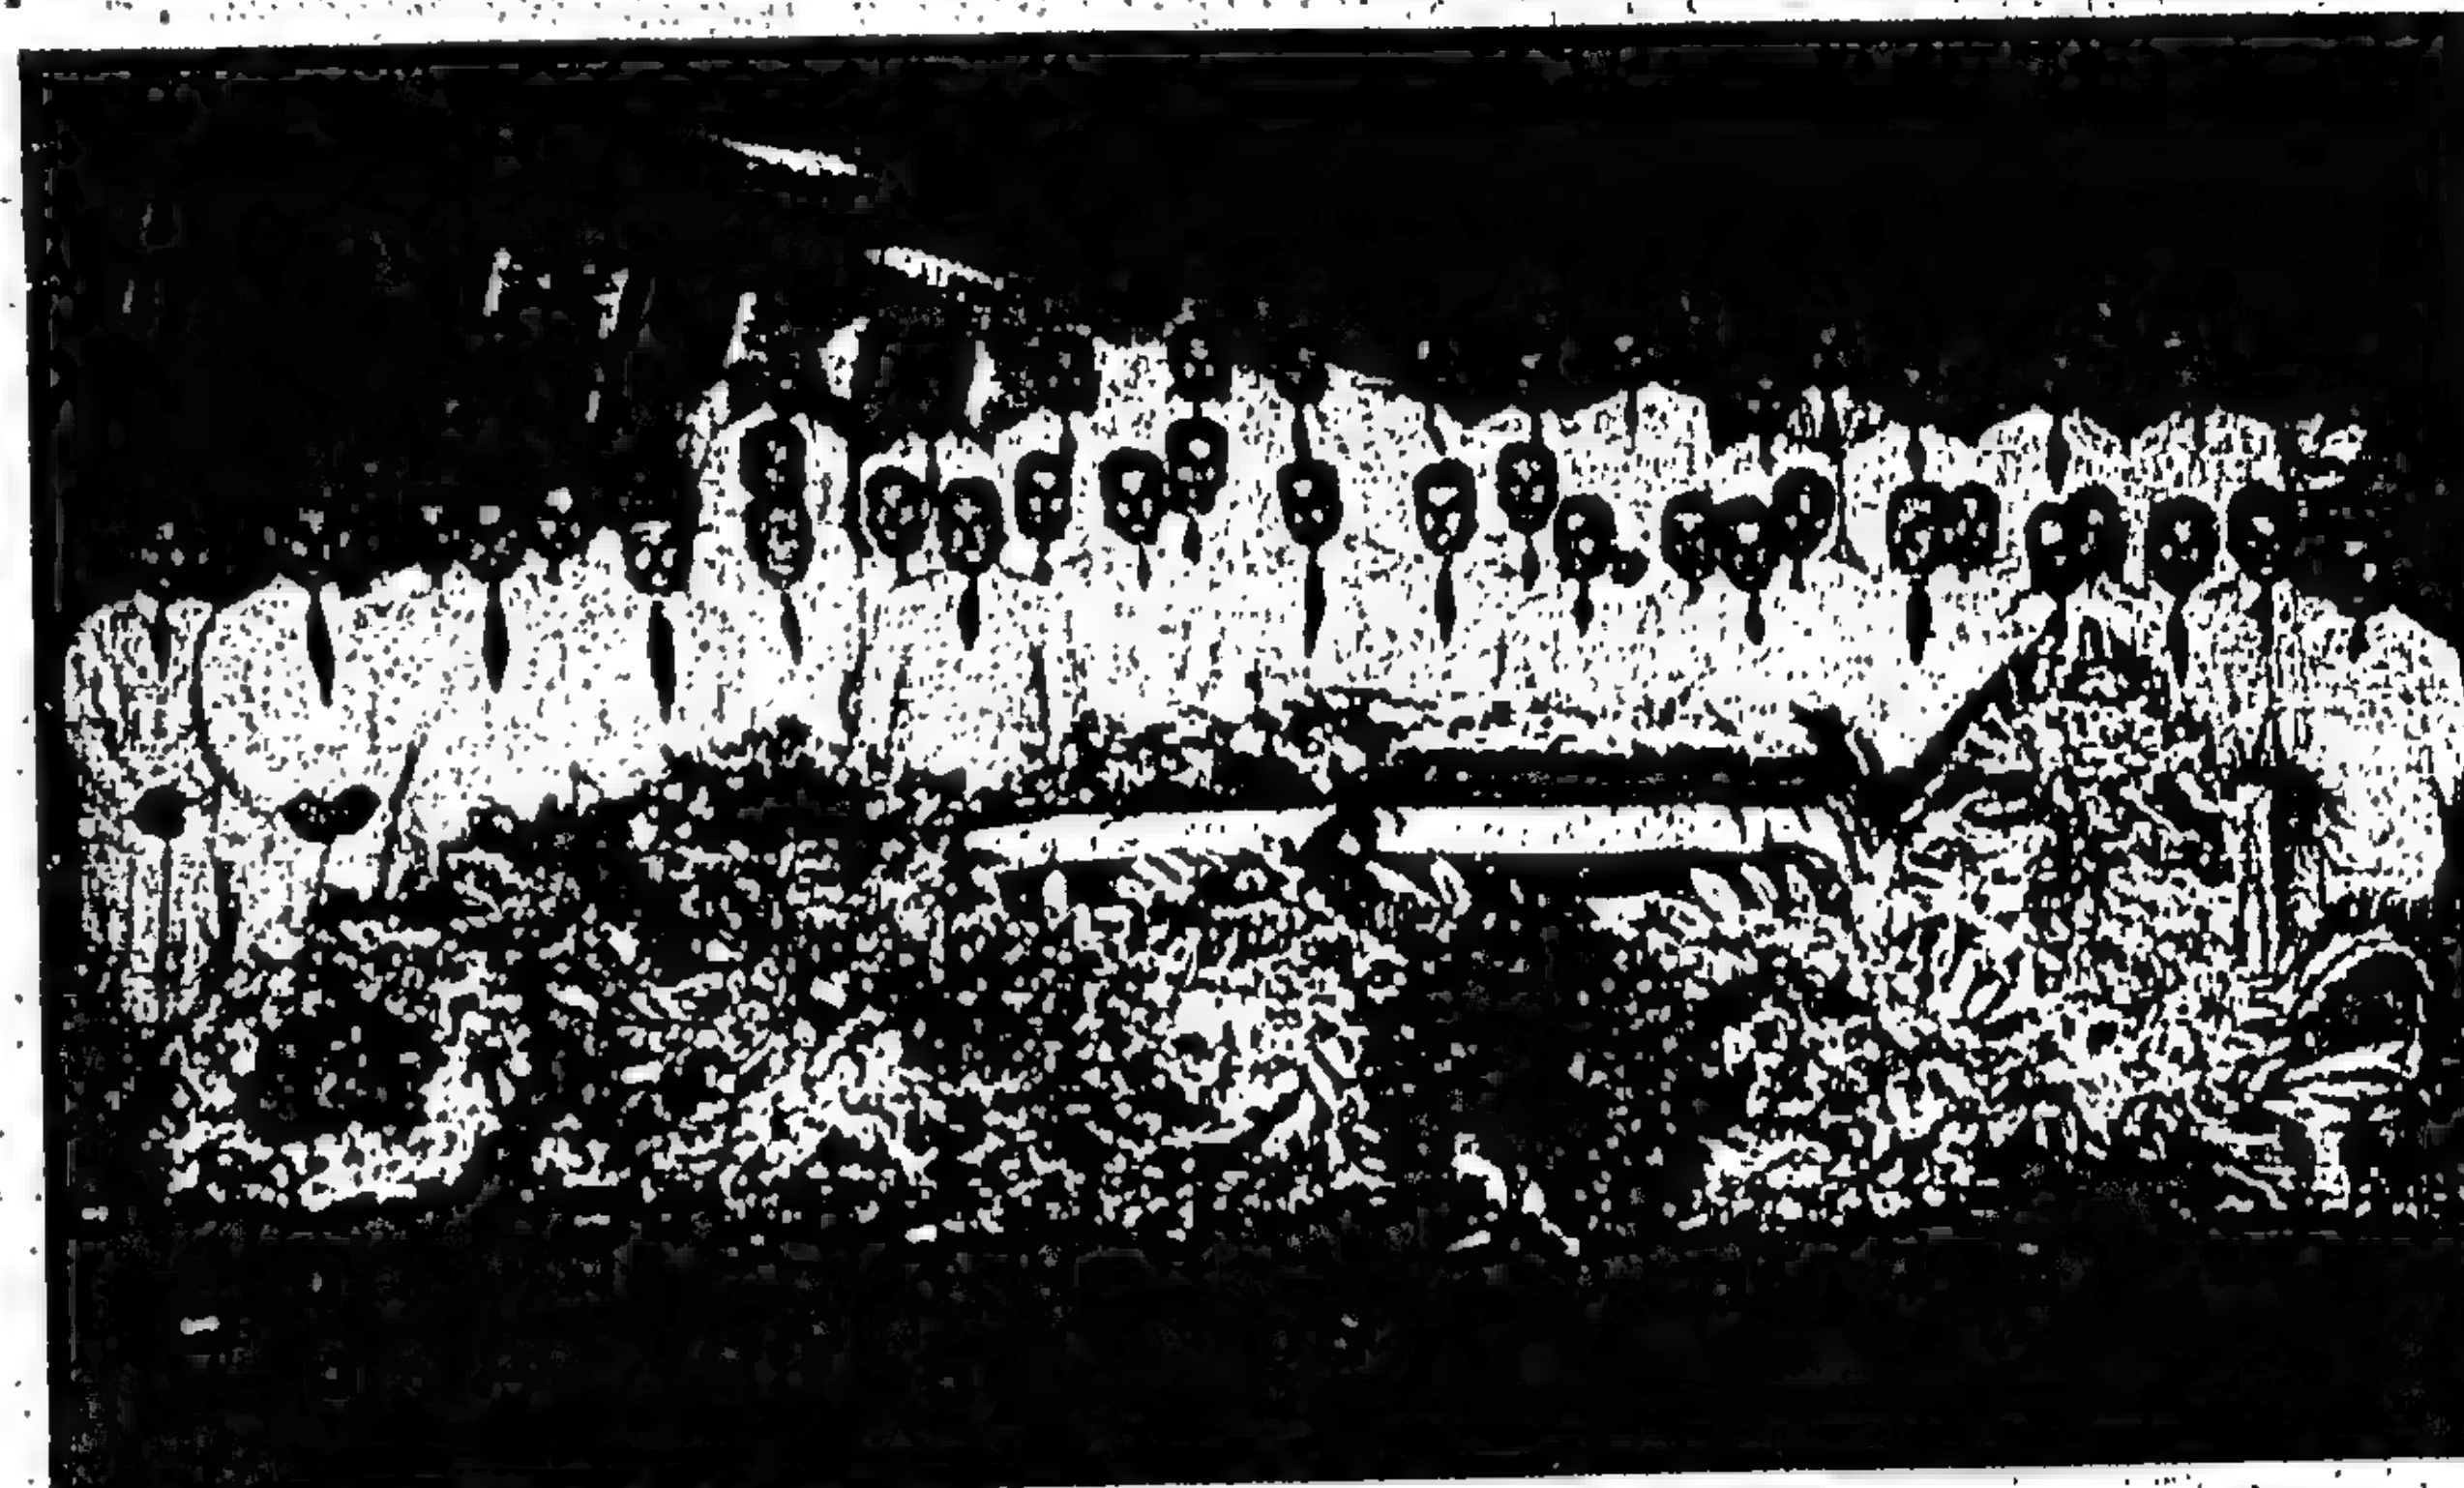

The Commission has finished its investigation of the bombings and left for Belgrade this evening. It is understood that the investigations were fruitful, but their nature has not been revealed.

Joe Louis To Defend Title

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced to-day that Joe Louis would defend his heavyweight title of the world against the Bostonian fighter, Al McCoy, at Boston Garden on December 10.

AMERICANS PAY TRIBUTE TO PILOT W. C. KENT

In a unique ceremony at the Kai Tak airport on Monday members of the American community in Hongkong gathered to pay tribute to the memory of Pilot W. C. Kent who was shot down in his C.N.A.C. plane and killed by Japanese war machines last week. The remains, in a coffin draped in the Stars and Stripes, were brought to Hongkong by plane on Monday. In this picture we see the mourners around the wreath-covered coffin over which orations to the memory of Pilot Kent were made.—Mee Cheung.

Possible Effect Of U.S. Election On The Far East

Special to the "Telegraph"

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—President Roosevelt's re-election will not remove the possibility that the United States might be involved in the war, and it is emphasised that President Roosevelt never promised voters that it would.

The President promised that he would do everything possible to keep out of war and no doubt he will do it—but involvement might be inevitable.

In this connection, well informed quarters in New York with business connections in the Orient are of the opinion that the President's re-election will have a disturbing effect in the Far East. They based this opinion on the belief that Mr. Willkie's election would have provided at least a few moments in which Japan and the United States might review Far Eastern questions with the new President and his Secretary of State.

Embargo Extension?
But President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull are expected to continue or even extend measures to which Japan has objected, such as the embargo of scrap iron and aviation gasoline.

These same quarters believe that Japan has withheld action pending the result of the election and that now important Japanese moves may be expected. They did not mention Hongkong but it is considered to be the logical scene for any move by the Far Eastern signatory to the tripartite pact.

Well informed quarters further stated that if the United States is involved in war it would probably be by the back door—that is, by a Japanese move into the Dutch East Indies, should the United States embargo cut off the ordinary Japanese supplies of essential materials.

Japanese Reaction
TOKYO, Nov. 7 (UP).—The chorus of vernacular editorials to-day is that President Roosevelt's re-election will mean a more aggressive policy towards Japan, but that the Japanese Government will continue to adhere to the policy of the re-construction of a greater East Asia.

"President Roosevelt's re-election for a third term has completely shut the way to improving relations between America and Japan. This calls for new resolutions by the Japanese nation," declares the "Yomiuri Shimbun."

The "Nichi Nichi" said that the Roosevelt Administration will continue to intensify its policy of "turn to Back Page, Column 5"

LANDSLIDE WIN FOR ROOSEVELT Wins 30 States

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—The latest returns continue to solidify President Roosevelt's re-election with a landslide of electoral votes.

At six p.m. the popular vote was:

Roosevelt 23,809,293
Willkie 19,844,161

The President has now definitely won 30 States.

The Democrats are also lining up a big majority in the House of Representatives, reversing the Republican trend established two years ago.

With 87 contests out of 435 states still doubtful, the Democrats already hold 235 or a 17 more majority, while the Republicans have 112; Progressives three and American Labour one only.

Incomplete returns so far, however, indicate that President Roosevelt will have an effective working majority.

DANGER POINT NO. 2 IN FEVER

Almost as serious as the raging fever, is the "serious weakness" it leaves behind. It is danger point No. 2 in your illness.

The only way to overcome the weakness is by feeding up. But the stomach is just as weak as the rest of the body and turns against most foods. There is a food, however, which the exhausted digestion can take easily. It is Horlicks.

Doctors and dietitians place no strain on a feeble patient's stomach. Its pleasant flavour stimulates the appetite and it pours in the weakened nerves, muscles and tissues all the food elements necessary for quick rebuilding. Convalescence is shortened, vitality completely restored. Get Horlicks to-day from your store.

Shortage of Stock Shown

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuters).—On the Stock Exchange to-day, business was more widespread with a growing demand revealing a shortage of stock. Hence prices advanced. Profits were prominent on Cape support while other minings, including coppers, were well brought. Home rails were helped by the resumption of provincial demand. Industrials, attracted by buyers but gilded stocks were "lean" in the limelight, and Argentina, together with Far Eastern, bonds, were stronger. Wall Street was weak.

MENTAL TENSION

By D. COMPTON-JAMES

The first step towards mental relaxation is physical relaxation. A person whose mind is occupied with other matters cannot pay proper attention to the task of securing physical relaxation, and if the attention can be switched towards physical relaxation, worries are automatically shelved to some extent.

It is possible that mind and muscle are more closely related than we suspect. It has been scientifically established that a person who thinks far into the night automatically tenses various groups of muscles. Whenever the word "muscle" is used, you must not confine your interpretation to big muscles such as the biceps. For instance, some people clench their teeth when they are thinking. This involves the contraction of a set of muscles, but it is such a minor contraction that many people never notice it.

One school of neurologists has advanced the tentative theory that man thinks with his muscles. There is no need to follow up this theory, but one of the arguments advanced in its favour is the proved point that when the muscles are extremely relaxed, thinking and emotion tend to dwindle and cease.

Thought cannot be turned on and off like the electric light or the radio set, but the human mind does, nevertheless, possess a "thought-switch." Unfortunately, few people know how to operate it. The technique can only be learned by a very gradual reduction in the intensity of thought and emotion.

This process is never very perfect or clear-cut. Mental relaxation has to be learned step by step over a period, and for every person the modus operandi is slightly different. Some fortunate people can turn off the flow of thought almost at will; it is a natural gift with them. Others have to learn the trick of it by patient endeavour.

One very important point should be borne in mind by everybody who experiences difficulty in manipulating their "thought-switch." It is folly to go to bed before you are "ready."

Some people seek to make provision for possible loss of sleep by going to bed early. This is a mistake unless and until the individual can be reasonably certain of going to sleep at once. If he cannot, then going to bed early will only teach him the bad habit of lying awake at night—a habit more easily acquired than cured.

However, this must not be regarded as an argument in favour of staying up late. An early bedtime is always desirable, but poor sleepers need to learn the trick of getting off to sleep at once before they can take advantage of it. You cannot make up for loss of sleep before the loss has been suffered, but you can do so afterwards by going to bed early on the following night.

This brings me to the general question of afternoon naps. I do not recommend them. The siesta is simply a protective device for hot countries; it is designed to restrict physical activity during the heat of the day. The siesta does not necessarily involve going to sleep; it is merely an abstention from labour.

An afternoon nap will certainly militate against the night-sleeping efficiency of people who normally sleep badly. In any case the time spent in afternoon sleep is largely wasted because the rest gained is light in character and possesses little recuperative value. The afternoon nap should be reserved for emergency use only, and when indulged in, it should be taken in bed. Armchair dozes are never satisfactory.

There are indications that dreaming is a sign of the existence of mental tension. When the mind has been very active just prior to going to sleep, nightmare may result. This process of cause and effect is commonly observed in children, but adults often forget that they are subject to exactly the same natural laws even if their expression and operation are not quite so dramatic. What would produce nightmares in children might merely cause bad dreams for adults. Excessive dreaming should therefore be regarded as an indication that all is not well with the mental state.

There is plenty of evidence that imagination diminishes as relaxation progresses. Dreamless or relatively dreamless sleep is the more restful type, although considerable recuperation is secured by people who dream almost continuously.

The individual who sleeps dreamlessly can obtain full recuperation in about six hours. The dreamer needs eight or nine hours of sleep. There is no doubt that famous "short sleepers" like Napoleon slept heavily and dreamlessly, and were able to do so because of nearly perfect mental relaxation.

Mental activity should be barred in the hour preceding bedtime, and so should any work of a strongly repetitive character. This hour should be spent in some form of relaxation congenial to the individual. In this way the first relaxation is taken before the person goes to bed and the period of lying awake is thereby reduced.

Mental tension at night may proceed from unfamiliar or unidentified noises. There are two anti-sleep factors here. The sense of hearing gradually fades out as one falls asleep. It follows that anyone who is hearing noises cannot possibly expect to go to sleep. The other factor is that these noises produce a state of mental alertness until they can be identified.

Ear-plugs may or may not be useful. Much depends on the temperament of the wearer. To people of the phlegmatic type whose only concern is to minimise the physical effect of night noises, ear-plugs are very useful. But if they are worn by people of the nervous type, these devices merely intensify their mental tension because the wearers are constantly straining their ears to identify the new less-distinguishable sounds.

Ear-plugs have a special value after the subject has gone to sleep in that they diminish sounds that might otherwise wake the subject or at least make him sleep less soundly.

It is very easy to say that it is folly to bother about these noises of the night, but no phobia can be cured by the simple application of logic. In Britain, at the moment, night noises have a special significance and affect millions of people, but it must be remembered that even in ordinary times there are always a number of people who allow themselves to be bothered by noises at night.

The mental tension behind this attention to night noises is a phobia. In England now it is the dramatic and important fear of death; at other times it may merely be a fear of burglars. Whatever the cause of the phobia, it is a personal problem which can only be solved by individuals themselves.

War does not alter any of the great human problems. It merely throws them into sharper relief. English people are fast learning that sooner or later they will have to overcome the fear of death before they can throw off the mental tension that prevents them from going to sleep. Everyone must face this problem sooner or later. The Nazi air raids are merely advancing its incidence for civilians who have hitherto led a sheltered and secure life.

Nazi Pilot Gets Two Pints of Jewish Blood

Captured German aviators in need of blood transfusions will get the necessary corpuscles from Jewish donors, if British medics follow the suggestion of an English magazine writer, says a United Press message from London.

Suggesting the method as and dressed he kept up a running fire of verbal abuse against the German air personnel," the publication "Aeroplane," related the following incident:

"A Nazi pilot, evidently one of Germany's tough eggs, was brought in after being out during a dog fight. He was considerably shot up but showed a super-abundance of arrogance and little of the give and take spirit.

"He spoke excellent English and his while he was being stitched

"Now, my lad, you have two pints of good Jewish blood in your veins. We hope it will improve your manners."

The writer suggested that it should become a standard practice to give Jewish blood to all German prisoners of war who need blood transfusions.

A Day With Britain's Foreign Legion

By A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

In a quiet part of the South-West Coast, where nearby towns and villages have yet to hear the air-raid siren, the "British Foreign Legion" is receiving recruits almost daily.

"British Foreign Legion" was the description given to me by a Birmingham private as he drove an Army lorry through winding lanes and across fields to downland high above the cliffs where the men, spick and span in new battle dress, eagerly awaited a double helping of hot roast beef we were bringing for the mid-day meal.

We were with a training company of the Auxiliary Military Pioneer Corps, consisting of men of every nationality—Russians, Hungarians, Scandinavians, Poles, Lithuanians, Greeks, even Italians, but mostly German and Austrian refugees.

Enjoy Hard Work

They are aliens and "enemy aliens," who have chosen to fight for Britain. Many have sacrificed good jobs, some have volunteered, satisfied the Intelligence Branch of the Army and, have been allowed to have interment camps to join this vital link in the rapidly growing British Army.

To this camp pour in men with an astonishing variety of occupations—lawyers, doctors, actors, musicians, scientists, ranking high in their professions, now ready to work with their hands building bridges, railways, working on ammunition dumps, paying the way for the armed forces.

They are taught drill and discipline and then after three or four weeks go in self-contained companies under a British sergeant-major.

One Complaint

I asked a group of 40 aliens if they had any complaints, and almost apologetically they asked me to put one forward.

They were anxious that all restrictions should be lifted on their families now they have joined the Army. One man said: "Many of the men are perturbed because their wives will probably not be allowed to leave London even in these raids. It seems uneven given our freedom, but we understand when we joined the Army that the restrictions on our families would be lifted."

The human race is a collection of the most marvellous, ingenious and engaging idiots that ever got possession of a noble planet—Walter Lippmann.

But let us not forget that the world's greatest friend is yourself and likewise in yourself you may find the world's strongest foe, because self-confidence and self-reliance will give you all-conquering strength whereas self-abandonment will lead to destruction—Chiang Kai-shek.

No Austrian could be a Nazi twenty-four hours a day; it takes too much energy—Mrs. John Gunther.

Complete independence for the Philippines now probably would mean servitude. They are unable to stand alone amidst the violent forces now loosed in the Far East. If the United States flag descends the result will be a bloody struggle for control—Paul V. McNutt.

Nazi Airmen Attack Rescuers

London, Sept. 9. When three naval drifters tried to save four German airmen who had baled out from a German bomber over the Channel they were machine-gunned by other German aircraft and forced to give up the attempt.

One of our motor torpedo-boats was also machine-gunned while going to the rescue of crews of other German aircraft, and four of its crew slightly wounded. The airmen in the water were left to their fate.

THE EVACUATION BOMBHELL

NO bigger bombshell could have been dropped in Hongkong than yesterday's official announcement, that, acting upon instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Government has abandoned the compulsory evacuation scheme. It will mean rejoicing for some two or three hundred women who were reluctantly awaiting their turn to be ejected from the Colony; but what of those who so readily answered the original summons and are now in Australia? For they, it seems, must perforce remain parted from their husbands, the Imperial Government refusing to allow the restrictions upon their return to be lifted.

This is going to create an anomaly capable of producing an outcry which will make the protests regarding the original evacuation sound like half-hearted whispers.

The text of the official announcement is characteristically ambiguous, and for the most part leaves unsaid nearly all those things which should have been said. For example, why precisely has the Imperial Government adopted this sudden volte face? The official communiqué tries to explain it by observing that the Secretary of State for the Colonies "has been kept fully informed of the situation." What exactly is this full information capable of bringing about the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation? Is it a changed political situation which has presumably rendered the Colony safe? If so, it is just as safe for those who are away to return, as for those who are still here to remain. Or is it because the energetic public protests have finally reached the ears of the Powers in England? If this be the reason it will do nothing to answer the question, if families still in Hongkong can stay, why can't families return?

In one part of the communiqué the Government hints that the political situation regarding Hongkong is pretty rotten, for it warns that "should the situation further deteriorate, no facilities to leave the Colony can be guaranteed. And it is this, precisely, which will not worry our women, if their arguments at

GERMANY MAY AID ITALIANS

Through Yugo-Slavia
ISTANBUL, Nov. 7 (Reuter).—The opinion is gaining ground here that Germany will be obliged to send help in the Greek War via Yugo-Slavia.

The slow Italian progress is already shaking Axis prestige and it is generally considered impossible that Germany will allow Italy to get involved in a long winter campaign, the outcome of which would probably not promise victory without assistance. Despatch of assistance through Yugo-Slavia would be designed to circumvent firm Turkish opposition to the entry of troops in Bulgaria.

Club Win Mid-week Game From Police

Club 3 Police 1
CLUB experienced little difficulty in defeating the Police in their home ground at King's Park last Tuesday. In mid-field the visitors enjoyed quite as much of the play as the winners, but there could be no denying that Club were far more skilful in attack. Particularly was this so on the wings where Smith and Patterson were more dangerous when they got possession. Two good goals were scored by E. Fowler and D. Smith before the change-over. The former cleverly beat Parker and then Man Singh to flick the ball past Rothwell. The latter, soon after, followed suit with a cross-drive, from the edge of the circle.

Then during the whole of the second half, Club peppered the opposing defence until Patterson scored the final goal.
DEFENSIVE GAME
POLICE, though being on the defensive for three-quarters of the game, made one final attempt during the final two minutes, and from a pass off Wall, Teja Singh reduced the deficit. Bennett ran out to his clear, but before he reached back was beaten in his attempt to recover. Club were best served in defence by Thompson, left back, and N. Whitely, left half. For Police, the two backs Man Singh and Hayward, and Gough at centre-half, played well. Wall was the only moderate forward-line. Due to the weakness of Police, it is interesting to note that no corners were forced by the visitors during the game.

recent tribunals have been honest. Hongkong's British women, both here and those evacuated, have long been insisting that they are not afraid to face any dangers so long as they can be with their men. Is the abandonment of the compulsory evacuation scheme a concession to this plea? If it is, there is still no reason why the evacuated women should not be permitted to come back.

Hitherto we have had some sympathy for the Government which, it has claimed, has only been acting upon instructions in effecting compulsory evacuation; but if the new instructions countermanning this scheme are the result of information supplied by the Hongkong authorities, then we suggest that this information has been hopelessly inadequate; therefore we should never have had the situation where those who evaded evacuation originally are to be officially protected at the expense of those who so faithfully carried out instructions. And the Government might well bear in mind that in this case it is the majority which is going to suffer an intolerable state of affairs. We shall expect to see a further revision of these Homeside instructions in the near future, which will permit the return of our evacuees.

Mr. Percy Chen, instructed by Mr. H. J. Armstrong, of Deacons, appeared for plaintiff, Tong Lao, who was described as a Councillor of the Executive Yuan of the Republic of China. U.K. Satisfies Spain's Oil Requirements

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—An agreement has been reached with the Spanish Government on the programme of imports of oil to Spain for the last four months of the year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—Mr. Willkie has conceded President Roosevelt's victory and has sent the following telegram to him:

Congratulations on your re-election as President of the United States. I know we are both gratified that so many American citizens participated in the election. I wish you all personal health and happiness. Cordially.—Wendell Willkie.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—Mr. Wendell Willkie to-day sent a telegram to his erstwhile running-mate, Senator Charles L. McNary at Salem, Oregon, saying: "It has been great joy to be associated with you in this contest. I am sorry about the result."

Mr. Hull's Appeal
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (UP).—In a statement issued to-day, Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said the electorate had given the nation wide approval of the continuance of the Administration's foreign policy. He said: "Our nation can now go forward with the fullest measure of practical work by the Government and the people in the firm continuance of those foreign policies." Mr. Hull appealed for a "spirit of non-partisanship" which would rest upon all of us in the present crisis should overshadow any sense of personal elation or disappointment.

German Reaction
BERLIN, Nov. 6 (UP).—The "Frankfurter Fremdenblatt," in the first editorial comment in the German press declares that the elections in America proved that a vast majority of the people in the United States oppose intervention in the European war.

It was a Walk-Over
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The sizable character of President Roosevelt's majority became apparent by the time New Yorkers reached their offices at 9 a.m. when the President's third term was ratified by 37 states with 437 electoral votes. Mr. Wendell Willkie was credited with 11 states and 84 votes.

The popular vote at that hour was President Roosevelt, 21,255,000; Mr. Willkie, 17,740,000.

In Conference
HYDE PARK, N.Y., Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt conferred with Mr. Cordell Hull by telephone this morning on international affairs. The President plans to return to Washington to-morrow.

Willkie's Statement
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—In a striking statement broadcast from New York to-day, Mr. Wendell Willkie, after finally admitting defeat, said: "I accept the result of the election with complete goodwill. Popular vote shows the vitality of our democratic principles."

Thanking his Republican supporters, he added: "I know they will continue as I shall to work for the unity of our people in the completion of our defences, in sending aid to Britain and in insisting on the removal of antagonism in America—all to the end that the governments of free men shall continue and may again spread throughout Europe."

President Roosevelt, a unique third-term president, faces the most critical period in American history, not only with a resounding victory behind him and an overwhelmingly favourable Congress to aid him but with the assured support of the defeated Republican Party in all matters of vital national interest.

Good Loser
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (UP).—"I never felt better," declared Mr. Wendell Willkie to newspapermen late to-night. "I am proud I had this crusade, and I am glad to end this campaign as I entered it—without any ill-will or bitterness toward anybody."

He said he intends to remain in New York for several days, after which he will go on a holiday.
4,000,000 Majority
NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's majority on the popular vote had climbed to over 4,000,000 by 4.30 p.m. New York time.
There was no change in the prospective electoral votes.
By 4.45 p.m., 248 Democrats had been elected to the House of Representatives and 149 Republicans had been elected. The Democrats have now picked up 22 seats.
The state of the Senate was 21 Democrats elected, ten Republicans and one progressive.
This is a net turnover of two for the Republicans.
Returns for Governors show that 16 Democrats are elected and ten Re-

Democrats Win In Congress

Gain 9 In House

New York, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Democrats had won 239 seats in the House of Representatives and the Republicans 121 at 12.30 p.m. local time. The net Democratic gains totalled nine.

The Democrats had won 20 seats in the Senate and the Republicans nine. The net Republican gains are two.

Of four states which have hitherto completed their returns, three have been carried by Roosevelt. These are New Jersey, with 16 electoral votes; Connecticut with eight votes; and Rhode Island with four votes. The fourth, which went to Willkie, was Vermont, with three electoral votes.

Roosevelt's "Thanks"
President Roosevelt has accepted Mr. Willkie's congratulations with sincere thanks. The President wired Mr. Willkie: "I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness, which I greatly reciprocate."
His Republican opponents conceded the re-election of Senator Key Pittman, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, at Nevada by a majority of about 5,000.

New Deal Strength
NEW YORK, Nov. (UP).—President Roosevelt's electoral college vote has increased steadily while the latest returns forecast increased strength for the New Deal in both houses of Congress.

The returns give the President conclusively 25 States, with 448 electoral votes and he is leading in 15 other States with 124 electoral votes. Mr. Willkie is assured of five States with 28 electoral votes and is ahead in three States possessing 31 electoral votes.

At 3 p.m. to-day the Democrats also clinched control of the House of Representatives and it seems certain they will increase their present majority of 41. The Democrats have conclusively won 218, and the Republicans 100 seats, the Democrats having increased their House majority by at least 10 seats, according to a "United Press" survey.

Altogether 14 incumbent Republicans have been ousted, while four seats have been lost by the Democrats.

Gubernatorial Elections
NEW YORK, 6 (UP).—The gubernatorial elections in 33 States have apparently changed the ratio of State control very little. Incomplete returns show that 30 Democratic and 18 Republican governors have been elected.

publicans, giving a net gain of two for the Democrats.
Mr. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, has telegraphed President Roosevelt pledging the co-operation of his section of American Labour in the execution of the nation's defence programme, in the promotion of national unity and the preservation of peace.

Britain's Home Guard Re-cast On Army Basis

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Britain's effective army has suddenly increased by the gigantic total of 1,700,000 men by fundamental reorganisation of the Home Guard.

Salient points in the reorganisation were announced in Parliament today.

The Home Guard will have a Director-General with a fully-equipped directorate of its own on the administrative side.

Its new Inspector-General will be General Lord Gort, who will combine that office with his other duties.

Permanent Character.

The Home Guard will be given a more permanent character without, however, losing its local or friendly flavour.

Commanders are to be given commissions and there will be a suitable complement of Warrant Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers.

Commissions will primarily be given only for the exercise of command over Home Guard troops but in specific emergencies the commissioned officers can be placed in command of all troops in their given locality.

The Home Guard will soon have rifles, automatic rifles, machine-guns and grenades on a scale equal to full armament for 1,000,000 men.

Italians Not To Read All Swiss Papers

MONTREUX, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The Italian ban on the sale of all Swiss newspapers except the "Basler Nachrichten" and the "Neue Zürcher Zeitung" has caused a regrettable impression in Switzerland.

The Monday and Tuesday editions of Swiss newspapers which are widely read in Italy were confiscated at the frontier.

The Rome correspondent of the "Basler Nachrichten" says that the reason given for the ban is publication by the Swiss press of agency reports of lack of success of the Italian forces against Greece.

Swiss authorities denied that any false war news has been published in the Swiss press.

Only 17-year-old but said to have already spent a fifth of his life in prison, Chan Hung, unemployed, was sentenced to a year's hard labour by Mr. K. M. A. ELIZABETHVILLE, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The inhabitants of Lamberene in French Equatorial Africa have offered to surrender to General de Gaulle.

Loss To Portuguese Community

The Portuguese community in Hongkong lost one of its most respected members this morning when Mrs. Maria Hyndman Gonçalves, aged 59, passed away after an illness lasting six months.

An old resident of the Colony, she leaves five children, one of whom is J.D. Gonçalves, the interport hockey player. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement.

The funeral will pass the Monument at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

N. W. FRONTIER LOYAL TO GREAT BRITAIN

PESHAWAR, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Loyalty of the North-West frontier tribes to Britain is expressed in a message to the Frontier Government from representative elders, and retired army officers of all Afridi sections.

The message, in announcing the decision to help the British Government during the present war, declares that Hitlerism and Fascism "have a foul design against Islamic countries."

ROOSEVELT ENDORSEMENT

—Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—An even more forward foreign policy for the United States is being forecast here following the rapid closing of all ranks behind President Roosevelt.

The general feeling is that the real contest has been over the third term issue and President Roosevelt's spending policies, and the country having given such a clear vote to President Roosevelt, he can now go full speed ahead.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, plainly interprets the vote as a mandate for his policy, which remains firm against Japanese aggression, increasing material aid for Britain and by implication and on the basis of past action, diplomatic support for Britain against any totalitarian action in any part of the world.

Afrikaan Equality

General Hertzog recalled that when he resigned the premiership during the crisis on the outbreak of war, he stated specifically that he would not be a member of a Party which did not guarantee absolute equality between the English and Afrikaans sections. He said the proposed course would possibly lead the Afrikaans to their doom and asked how on this basis could it be expected that the tens of thousands of Afrikaans supporting General Jan Smuts would be won over apart from the English-speaking section.

Suggestions For Local Umpires

Concerning Corners And Free-hits: Tricks Of Certain Players

WITH THE Hongkong Hockey Association Tournament now in progress, it may not be amiss to put forward a few suggestions for the assistance of local Umpires. These must not be taken as in any way a criticism of present umpires, but rather it is hoped that they may prove of assistance some time.

The first to be dealt with are the corners, long and short. The long corner is when a player of the attacking side shall have a free hit from a spot on the defenders' goal-line, or on the sideline, within three yards of the corner flag nearer the point where ball crossed the goal-line.

The short corner is when a free-hit may be taken from any spot on the defenders' goal-line on either side of the goal, but not within ten yards of the goal-mouth.

An umpire must penalise any shot at goal if he considers that the corner hit was not sufficiently stopped, excepting, of course, in the case where a defender has touched the ball prior to the shot at goal being taken. A corner hit is a free hit, and therefore, no other player may be within five yards of the ball when it is hit.

It is also unnecessary to state that a player taking a flying hit without making any attempt to stop the ball is to be penalised. A flying hit which misses the ball should also be penalised, as the intention of the player is obvious.

Be On Guard

THE striker at a corner hit must allow time for the defenders to get behind their goal-line.

See that he does not take more than three yards from the corner flag when he places the ball.

Keep the defenders behind the goal-line until the ball has actually been hit, but if the hit has been really well directed to an attacker who is waiting to stop it, and the attacking side have time to get in a shot unhindered, it would be a mistake to deprive them of the advantage of a well-placed corner by sending the defence back, because it had come out slightly too early.

This is very hard to determine, and unless you are absolutely certain that the attackers will benefit by your remaining silent, you should cause the corner to be re-taken.

But remember that this is sometimes an occasion when the "advantage" rule may be brought into play for the benefit of the attacking side.

Suggestions To Help

IT would not be far wrong to allow a shot to score, if, in your opinion, the ball would not have gone more than one foot from the place where the attempt to stop it was made.

As a general guide, the words "not necessarily motionless" may be taken to mean that the attempt to stop the ball has been successful if it comes to rest within a very short distance had it been allowed to run on till it stopped by itself.

If a player, in attempting to stop the ball, has not been sufficiently successful and the ball goes on to another player in his own side, the other player in his turn has got to make a successful attempt before a legitimate shot can be taken, but see that Rule 10 (c) has not been contravened.

When a short corner hit has been taken, some players think that the ball must be stopped (not necessarily motionless) within the circle. This is correct, provided that the ball is stopped in accordance with the rule before a shot at goal is taken.

It doesn't matter where the stopping of the ball takes place, though no player may stand within five yards of the ball when it is hit.

Some rely on the stick for stopping, and the umpire must be sure that the stopping complies with the rule before a shot is taken. If the ball has been merely deflected or pushed past an opponent, it cannot be said to have been sufficiently arrested.

It is not an attempt within the meaning of the rule when a player completely misses or just touches the ball and deflects it to another of his own side.

Do not allow a striker at a corner to make a pretence of hitting the ball, and thereby cause the defence to run out. Some do this deliberately and then take the hit before the defence have got back behind their goal-line and who are, consequently, not fully prepared.

Finally, watch a player taking a hit for off-side immediately following a corner; his position near the goal-line makes him particularly prone to it.

Time is not allowed to be extended to allow a penalty corner or a corner to be taken.

To Represent The K.C.C.

The following K.C.C. cricket teams have been chosen for Saturday's matches:

1st XI v H.K.C.C. at home: E. C. Fincher (capt), N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. R. Zimmerman, D. Hume, W. L. Hapley, B. D. Lay, R. F. Broadbridge and T. A. Mader.

2nd XI v Police, away: S. A. Gray (capt), E. Curdall, G. A. Goodban, R. A. J. Simpson, K. M. Baxter, F. Crabb, L. R. Fureh, R. A. J. Simpson, H. Brokenshire and J. W. Bertram.

MONDAY MATCHES

Against the H.K.C.C., on the Club ground on Monday, starting at 11 a.m., the following will play for the 1st XI: E. C. Fincher (capt), N. D. Lloyd, D. J. N. Anderson, E. F. Fincher, A. Zimmerman, F. R. Zimmerman, D. Hume, W. L. Hapley, B. D. Lay, R. F. Broadbridge and T. A. Mader.

The 2nd XI versus the H.K.C.C. at home on Monday starting at 11 a.m., will be: S. A. Gray (capt), R. Baldwin, E. Curdall, H. Brokenshire, L. R. Fureh, K. M. Baxter, Major W. Parsons, G. A. Goodban, R. A. J. Simpson, F. Crabb and J. W. Bertram.

RANDOM JOTTINGS

UMPIRES approached me recently with regard to illegal sticks.

The rule referring to sticks is quite clear, viz.—the blade shall not be edged with, nor have any insets or fittings of metal, nor shall there be any sharp edges or dangerous splinters. The total weight of the stick shall not exceed 28 ounces, and shall be of such a size (inclusive of any surgical binding) that it can be passed through a ring with an internal diameter of two inches.

In my opinion, umpires should purchase a two-inch metal ring for the purpose of testing certain doubtful hockey-sticks. It is presumed that every stick before it leaves the factory is properly tested.

An umpire should have no hesitation in refusing to allow any player to continue to use such a stick in a match if found contrary to the rules.

I WAS glad to see the grand reunion of the Police team last Sunday. Coxswain Hayward made a welcome return after a season's lapse. He played a good game and looked quite a lad with his whiskers and mustache, but his head gear and lead bangle were missing!

With A. S. P. Luscombe taking such an interest in the game, the Guardians of the Law are going to have a big say in the Tournament this year.

C.B.A. led by F. R. Kermani, brother of Sam, the well-known Shanghai cricketer, did very well against the full Kumamon Regimental team last Sunday, losing by 2-1.

The all-important goal, I hear, was caused through D. S. Blake, at right half. He, unfortunately, tickled the speed demon Partaub on the wrong side, the advantage rule was justly applied and then Partaub made no mistake with the winning goal.

Although he is still new to the game, Blake will be well advised to make more use of the reverse stick in the future.

TWO women's teams fielded depleted sides in friendly fixtures at King's Park last Saturday. It is about time the H.K.L.H.A. made a move to organise a League or a knock-out tournament as some of these games the women indulge in at present are becoming too friendly.

With five or six teams still in the Colony, an eight or nine-a-side League, 25 minutes each way, could be arranged with home and away games.

IT was unfortunate that the 5th A.A. "B" v. Police "B" match was cancelled last Sunday without ample notification. The umpires, I believe, made their way to Lyemun and were disappointed.

Club Secretaries should bear in mind that 24 hours notice must be given to the Secretary of the Umpires Association before a match can be

Tournament Matches

A.N. Other XI Overwhelmed By Police

Police 5 A.N. Other XI 0

THE H.K.H.A. Tournament commenced last Sunday, and on their home ground at Boundary Street, Police won their match against A. N. Other XI in a canter.

Once the home team had realised the perils of the slippery pitch, they settled down to make first round progress as convincingly as the score of 5-0 suggests.

There was only one side in it from beginning to end, and though the Others were playing one short throughout they had to thank Benwell, in goal, for a brilliant display, which saved the visitors from complete rout.

The Club and "Y" goal-keeper had a day out, and saved some shots that he made of the halves, Leslie, Gough and Hayward, who were hard-working, but Man Singh, at right back, was a tower of strength.

The Others, without the services of Thompson at full back, played under a tremendous handicap, but Jordan and Gunner gave their best.

The outstanding player, however, was Watson at centre-half, who time and again was responsible for breaking up many a dangerous raid.

Gemmell, at inside-right, was the only forward who showed any enterprise in a very disjointed attack. Well beaten by a superior side, the visitors put up a game fight until the end.

FINE COMBINATION

THE strength of the Police lay in their attack where the forwards, led by Jesbir Singh, combined very well indeed. No special mention can be made of the halves, Leslie, Gough and Hayward, who were hard-working, but Man Singh, at right back, was a tower of strength.

The Others, without the services of Thompson at full back, played under a tremendous handicap, but Jordan and Gunner gave their best.

The outstanding player, however, was Watson at centre-half, who time and again was responsible for breaking up many a dangerous raid.

CLUB "A" DEFEAT R. SCOTS 10-6

(By "Fly-half")

TWO FAIRLY STRONG teams met on the Club ground yesterday evening in a keen game of rugby football. Club "A," fielding several of their 1st XV players and Wright-Nooth, of Police, triumphed through superior kicking over the Royal Scots by 10 points (two goals) to 6 (two tries).

Aitkenhead, with his splendid kicking, should prove a match winner for Club this season for it was he who converted both of Club's tries yesterday.

The big Royal Scots' forwards, with Millar, Pinkerton and Hunter to the fore, made several fierce rushes to the Club line, and with more luck might have scored more than one try off their own efforts.

An ankle injury to Gracie, the Scots' scrum-half, deprived the military team of a man for the major portion of the second half. Up to the time of his injury, Gracie had been doing a lot of useful and hard work at the base of the scrum.

Ford, at stand-off, was quick off the mark, and well up in defence. He intercepted well to score his side's first try.

Douglas was the mainstay of the three-quarters where he was well supported by Garric.

CLUB PERFORMERS

PECORINI, at full back for Club, played a useful game. He requires

called off. Failing this the decision with regard to the state of the ground, etc., must be left entirely to the umpires appointed. Should the umpires declare the ground unfit for play at the time fixed, only then shall the match be cancelled.

TWO Club players who will not be seen in action for quite a few weeks are E. V. Reed and D. Taylor. The former is suffering from a badly sprained ankle and the latter is in hospital with malaria.

a little more practice with his touch kicking, which he performs with either foot, and he must learn to tackle properly for his own sake if for no other. An unorthodox head-on tackle by him of Millar was effective, but resulted in his having to leave the field for a few minutes, having been stunned.

Wilson showed a fine turn of speed when he accepted a hard pass from Aitkenhead to score Club's second try.

Day and Aitkenhead were hard workers who were too well marked to break through with effect. Wright-Nooth and Godfrey were prominent in the loose for the Club at forward, while Henman and Dalziel were hard workers.

THE GAME

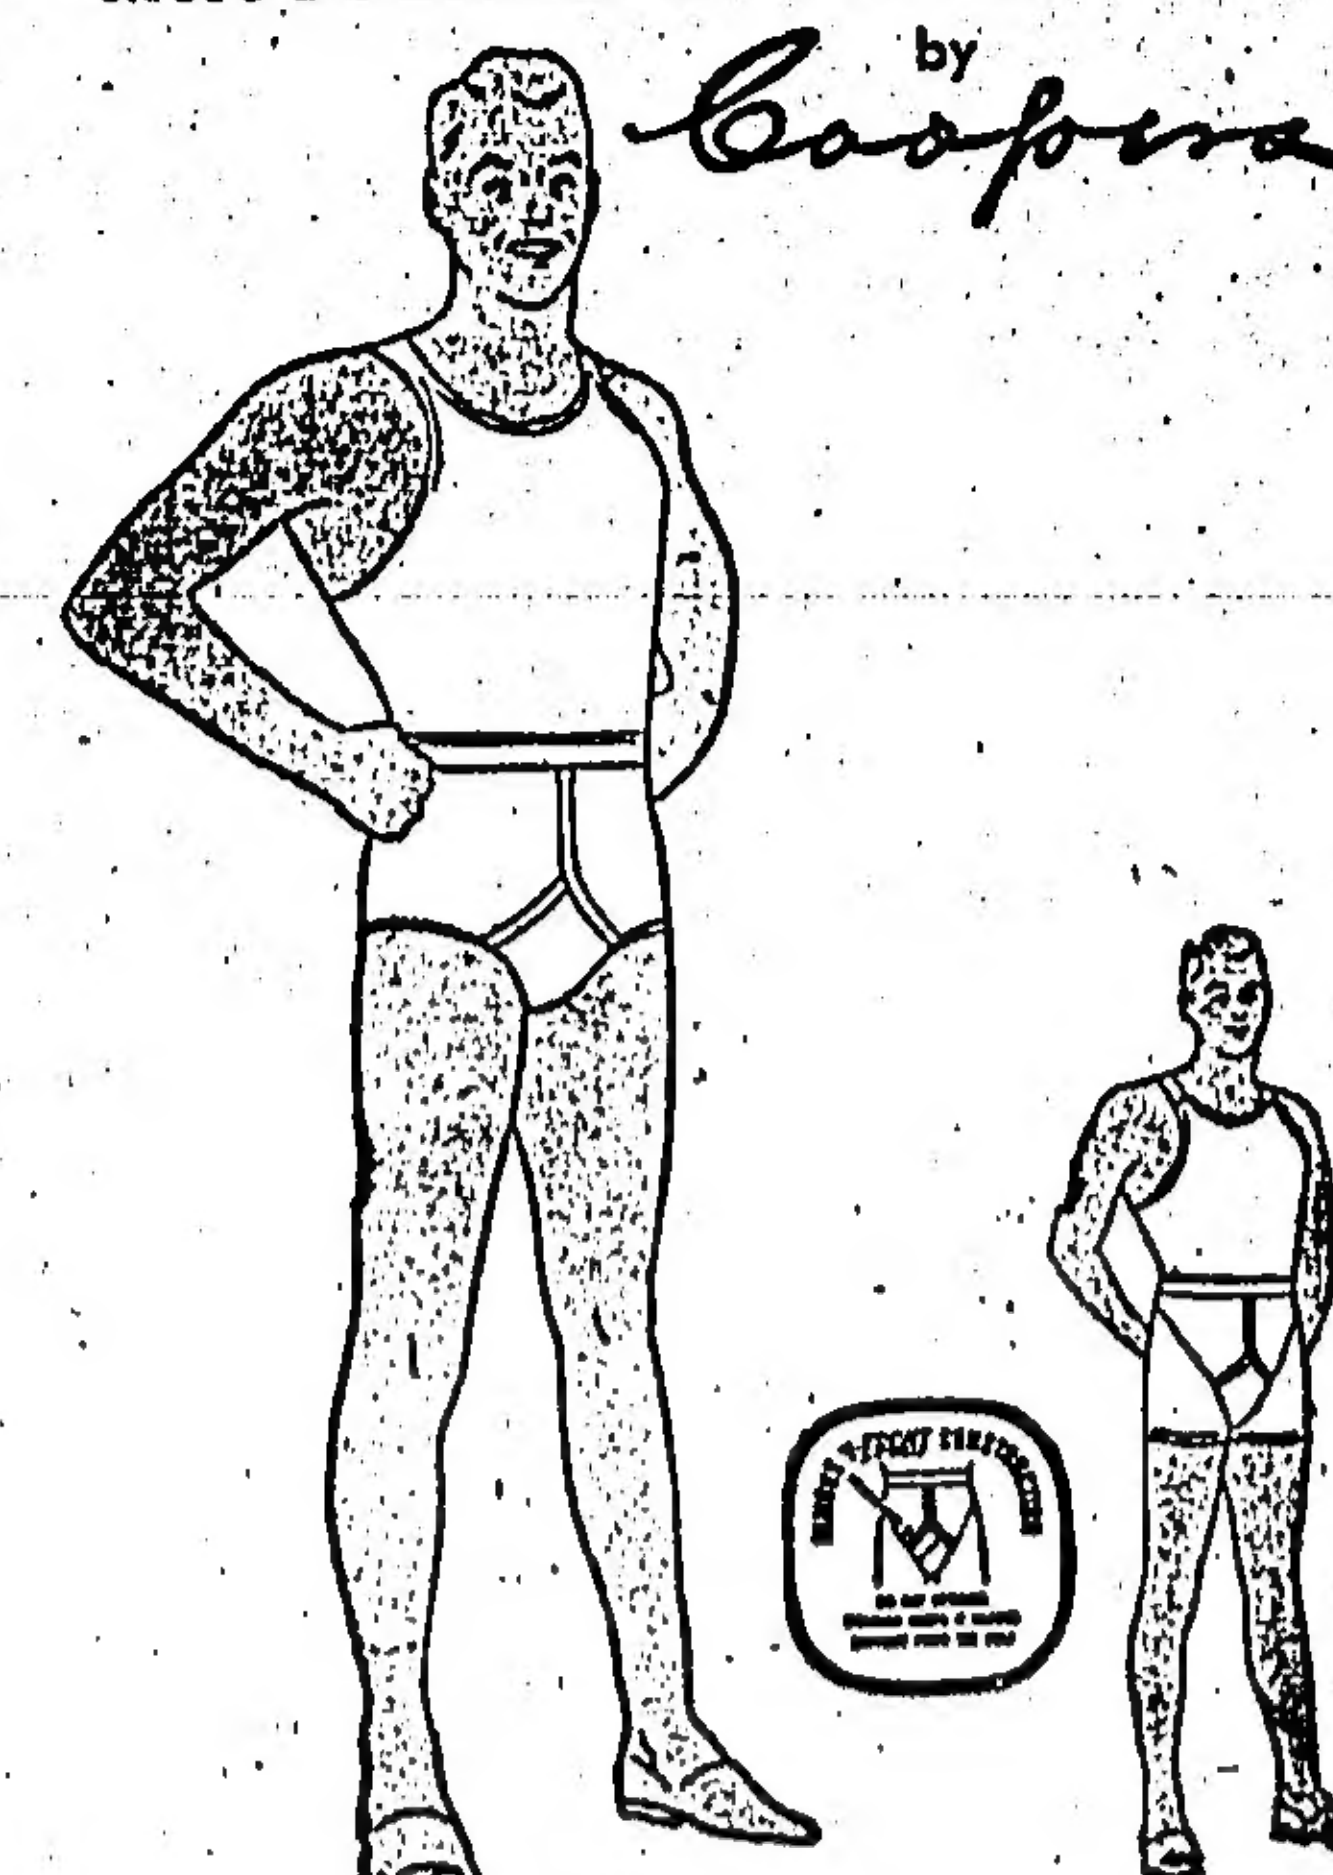

A SMART interception by Ford in full flight near the Club line led to the Scots' first try which was scored by the same player. The attempt to convert failed.

In a loose rush in which Club backs and forwards participated, the ball was taken to the Army line where Day was obstructed and a penalty try was given. The kick taken in front of the posts was converted by Aitkenhead.

Aitkenhead then broke through to pass to Wilson, who cut in to receive the ball at full speed to pass the full back and score. Aitkenhead again converted.

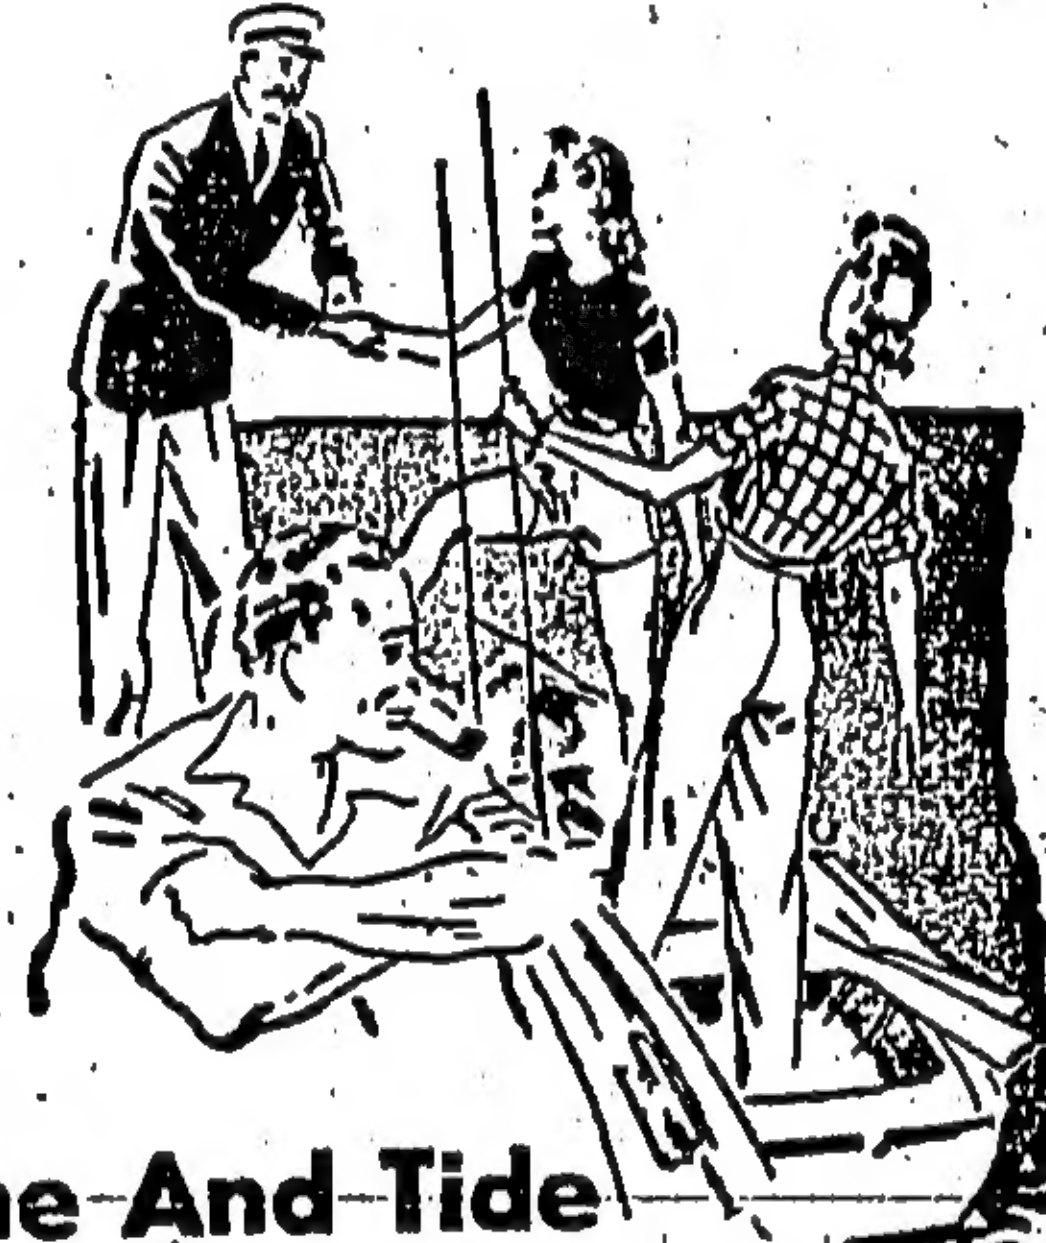

Back at the other end from a scrum, the Scots wheeled and Millar carried on to score an unconverted try.

LETTERS

Evacuation Appeals

To the Editor,
The "Hongkong Telegraph."

Sir,—I send you herewith copies of correspondence regarding the appeal on behalf of my wife which was heard on Saturday, 2nd, November. In view of the publicity given to the statement made by the Secretary to the Advisory Committee regarding my inability to support my wife, I shall be obliged if you will publish these letters in full.

The "apology" submitted on behalf of the members of the Committee and at once withdrawn by their Secretary, bears the hall-mark with which we are all becoming so familiar these days.

G. B. S. THOMSON.
COPIES
4th, November, 1940.

The Chairman,
The Evacuation Advisory Committee,
Colonial Secretariat,
Hongkong.

Sir,—On Saturday last, during the hearing of the Appeal lodged on behalf of my wife, the Secretary to your Committee, in his preliminary summary of the evidence stated:—
"On 2nd August last a letter was received from Messrs. Johnson, Stokes & Master, Solicitors, applying for permission for Mrs. Thomson to return on the grounds that you were unable to support her in Australia and yourself here."

This was the complete reference made to that letter. As you are well aware at no time during the hearing did I mention the question of maintenance of my wife, but unfortunately the above statement was given wide publicity in the Press as my main submission to your Committee, and was in some cases attributed to me.

The letter in question is as follows:—
"The Honourable The Colonial Secretary."

"Sir,—We are instructed by our client, Mr. G. B. S. Thomson, the accountant of The Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co. Ltd., to write to you and ascertain whether there is any objection to his wife returning to the Colony. "When the instructions of the Government were originally given for the evacuation, our client arranged for his wife to proceed privately to Australia and was left on the 15th, and is at the present time in Sydney. As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff he would, if possible, be glad if she could return to the Colony and, as we have mentioned, he would be glad to know if there is any objection to her doing so. "We may add, as far as help to be given here is concerned, she is the holder of an A.R.P. Warden's Certificate which she obtained in London. "We have the honour to be, Sir, "Your obedient servants, (Sd.) JOHNSON STOKES & MASTER."

I cannot see how it was possible to construe this letter as was done by your Committee. You will appreciate that a Press statement to the effect that I am unable to support my wife in Australia is greatly resented by me, and I must request some explanation for this gross misrepresentation of fact.

I shall be obliged if you will favour me with an early reply, Yours faithfully, (Sd.) G. B. S. THOMSON, Colonial Secretary's Office, Hongkong.

Sir,—The Chairman of the Evacuation Advisory Committee has asked me to reply to your letter of 4th, November.

In preparing the notes on your case, I assumed that the words "As her continued absence from the Colony will involve our client giving up his present home and dismissing his staff..." which were used by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master in their letter of 2nd August, were intended to imply that your appeal was based on financial grounds.

Of my remarks, which expressed this assumption, were incorrect, you were quite at liberty to contradict them. I presume that since no contradiction was forthcoming the Press reporters assumed that you accepted my implication.

I must assure you that the Committee has made every effort to avoid embarrassing members of the public who have appeared before it and that this particular misunderstanding is regretted by all the members. At the same time I do not feel justified in accepting responsibility for an interpretation of a letter written on your behalf which you let pass without question or comment.

I am, Sir, Your obedient servant, (Sd.) C. DRAKE, Secretary, Evacuation Advisory Committee. "The Pope Can Do It!" Sir,—I am indeed delighted that you permit your newspaper to feature

Shooting Affair At North Point

A Chinese boatman attached to the Chinese Bathing Club at North Point was found in the club's office yesterday dead from gunshot wounds. A revolver was found by his side. Police later discovered that the revolver belonged to a Chinese revenue officer who had left it in his locker before going for a swim. Police state that deceased must have seen the revolver and used a key to open the locker and take out the weapon.

such arrant nonsense as the article which appeared under the above caption in your issue of yesterday evening. When will non-Catholics realize that His Holiness is Head of the Roman Catholic Church, only insofar as the spiritual welfare of its members is involved, and that he has no more control or direction over their political opinions as, say, the Begum of Bhopal.

The incident contained in the article is subtle, but Catholics the world over—irrespective of their race or political belief, know that the priest comes before the man and that whether the percentage of Italians in the College of Cardinals be large or small, the function of that body is in no whit altered.

Its function is Spiritual only. R.S.P.

Refutes Argument

Sir,—In the final edition of yesterday's paper there appeared an article under the heading "The Pope Can Take It." I wish to refute the arguments set down by the Rev. W. Rowland Jones.

The Rev. Jones asks why the Pope has not forbidden every Catholic to stop fighting and cease assisting in any way the immoral objects of the Pagan Leaders of the Dictator countries. It is because the Church is a spiritual power. Since a man is governed by two powers essentially distinct, the temporal power which has reference to the civil order, and the spiritual power which regulates whatever concerns religion, Christ himself said, "My kingdom is not of this world." This sets the Church above all nations.

Mr. Jones has also said that the Catholic Church is not universal at all but Italian, and that it is the expression of one nationality. This is not true. The Church is truly universal, when she refuses to take sides for, if the Pope were to do as Mr. Jones suggests he might be accused of being pro-English. The Church is above warring factions and the Pope, Christ's representative on earth, is the Prince of Peace. E. M.

East Scotland Hotel Struck By Nazi Bomb

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A number of persons sheltering in a public house in a town in East Scotland were killed when the public house was demolished during an air raid on Tuesday night, says an Air Ministry communique, giving a later account of raids on Britain.

Damage in London was more widespread than was at first thought but still it was not heavy and the casualties not large.

Relatively Quiet Day

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—A relatively quiet day of air fighting followed London's longest night alert.

A number of enemy aircraft approached the Southampton area this afternoon but were intercepted by R.A.F. fighters, and as a result the majority did not penetrate very far inland.

The Air Ministry communique states that bombs were dropped in Southampton, damaging some houses and public buildings and a number of persons were injured and a few were killed.

Three enemy aircraft have been destroyed to-day, adds the communique.

Two R.A.F. fighters are missing but the pilot of one is safe.

It is now known that one aircraft, reported missing yesterday, is safe.

Losses on Tuesday, therefore, are five aircraft and two pilots.

Effective A. A. Guns

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Merseyside anti-aircraft batteries and R.A.F. defences have brought down 17 German raiders since the intensive attacks of last August, it was revealed to-day.

Merseyside A.A. batteries actually managed to bring down two raiders while firing blind.

Only crack Nazi pilots are sent on dusk raids, and it is remarkable that the amount of damage they have been able to do to Merseyside has been practically negligible.

Enemy Planes Down

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—Further reports show that four enemy aircraft were destroyed in attacks on this country to-day. Four of our fighters have been lost and the pilot of one is safe.

An enemy bomber was destroyed on Tuesday night.

A Dornier flying boat was destroyed off Brest this morning when escorting ships.

In addition an enemy bomber was destroyed after midnight, making a total of six.

Greeks Claim More And More Successes

ful offensive, the Greek High Command announced in a communique. The Italian troops are falling back in the face of the Greek onslaught and are "attacked by their own tanks."

During this operation, Greek troops seized a number of fortified positions, two guns mortars and took prisoners. Along other sections of the front, artillery duels took place, while the Greek Air Force successfully bombed the Korymba and Argirovassio airfields, destroying grounded machines, hangars and camps.

Italian aircraft twice bombed early in the afternoon Monastir in Yugoslavia, the communique stated while in Greece attack took place against Piraeus, Jannina, and other towns.

British Anti-Tank Guns

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuter).—The nine Italian tanks destroyed by Greek troops on Monday were armoured by British anti-tank guns given since the Fascist invasion of Greece, the Greek Minister of War revealed to-day.

Italian Raids

BUDAPEST, Nov. 6 (UP).—Italian planes to-day bombed eight Greek towns including Volos, Corinth and Corfu and a nearby island, also Patras, Larissa and Messolongi opposite Patras, according to a communique by the Greek Ministry of Public Security announced by the Greek radio to-day. In no case was military damage inflicted.

Greek pursuit planes drove off the raiders at Corinth, while one church at Volos was destroyed, the other damage being unimportant.

unreserved assistance to Britain and will "eventually drag America into the war, very much like Woodrow Wilson, who was re-elected on a 'No War' slogan."

"Japan is absolutely determined to remove any American assistance to Chungking—whatever move the United States may take under the continued Roosevelt Administration," the paper adds.
